Fort Klamath Has a Great Building Boom

(Herald Special Service) FORT KLAMATH, May 25. Fort Klamath's three new buildings are nearing completion. T. T. Jackson is moving his creamery now in his new building. Mrs. Neidle Vase, the postmistress, moved the office on the 23rd to its new quarters, while Dr. A. A. Bond's new office building is ready for occupancy. Besides these buildings, which are nearly finished, there are other improvements under construction. Jan. Gordon is building a summer porch and J. E. Gray of the Rainbow garage is installing a new storage building with an office and vulcanizing department. The Rainbow garage is also putting in a street tank for gasoline just opposite the postoffice. In the Wood River Valley there have recently been built two new slaughter houses—one by the new company of Sismore & Castel, and the other by G. E. Hoyt. Mrs. L. Hessig is having a summer kitchen built on her farm two miles north of the Fort. On the reservation near the Fort, Indian Lady George is putting up a number of tent houses. Her place was destroyed by fire a short time ago, only a few furnishings and furniture being saved by Mr. Momyer, who was the first man to reach the site of the disaster. On the whole, building and construction work is increasing rapidly as compared to the number of people. At Klamath Agency the new saw mill is running steadily. Thus the Indians are improving their homes. For two years the Agency has been without a mill. Mr. Cunningham, foreman under H. W. Hincks, is working a crew of twenty or thirty men at Klamath Agency. He has work ahead there for three months, in constructing a new dam across Agency Springs and in moving the power house to the new site. At present the electric power house is 500 or 600 yards down the creek from where the new dam is being built. A few men are gathering in to begin work on the Crater Lake National Park. The next four months will be busy ones for the winter-dend town of Fort Klamath. A number of campers are arriving daily, and 1915 will be a heavy tourist year also.

A LITTLE SPORTING GOSSIP

By Hal Sheridan United Press Service NEW YORK, May 25.—One bout will clear up the middle weight boxing middle, in the minds of New York fans. The battle needed to establish a recognized champion of that class will bring together Mike Gibbons, the St. Paul flash, and Young Ahearn, he who was formerly dubbed the dancing master. There used to be considerable talk about Jimmy Clabby, Eddie McGeorty and some other mingling in the select circle at the top of the heap, but that is all past. Clabby recently came to New York to show his wares. Since he did, he isn't even conceded an outside chance of grabbing off any championship honors. As he had decisively beaten McGeorty on several occasions the latter battler is also eliminated from the chances. Clabby's showings left a distinctly bad odor in the nostrils of New York fight fans. The Hammond, Indiana, boxer first tangled up with Al McCoy, the "joke" champion. He may have had a shade, but there was so little fighting done in the whole bout that very few writers cared to give a verdict. "No fight" was the unanimous opinion. The Westerner and his manager boxed long and loud. McCoy, they said, wouldn't fight, and necessarily Clabby could not. It took two to make a fight, they said. So Clabby was given another chance. He was sent against hard-hitting George Chip, from Newcastle, Pennsylvania. The exhibition they put up was sickening. After seven and a half rounds of it Referee Billy Roche stepped in and declared it no contest. Both men were disqualified for "stalling." That ended Clabby's career in New York and no one will ever seriously consider him for championship purposes. Harry Pollok is figuring strongly on bringing Gibbons and Ahearn together this summer at his Brighton Beach A. C. This would be over the ten round, no decision route and considerable doubt exists that such an affair would bring out a clear-cut winner. Gibbons is willing to take Ahearn on over ten or twenty. He once stopped Ahearn in four rounds a few years back and is confident of being able to do it again. Ahearn has admittedly improved, however. Since the first meeting and Gibbons would meet an entirely new man.

PUT STOMACH IN FINE CONDITION

SAYS INDIGESTION RESULTS FROM AN EXCESS OF HYDROCHLORIC ACID

Undigested food delayed in the stomach decays, or rather, ferments the same as food left in the open air, says a noted authority. He also tells that indigestion is caused by hyper-acidity, meaning, there is an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach which prevents complete digestion and starts food fermentation. Thus everything eaten sours in the stomach much like garbage sours in a can, forming acid fluids and gases which inflame the stomach like a toy balloon. That we feel a heavy, lumpy misery in the chest, we belch up gas, we eructate sour food or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and drink while it is effervescing and furthermore, to continue this for a week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices. Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salts is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results. (Paid Advertisement)
