

WATER USERS TO HAVE PAPER; BIG MEETING COMING

ONLY ONE AMENDMENT IS CARRIED

Vote on Directors Is Tame, as There Was No Opposition—Board Will Set a Day Later for Talking Co-operative Activities, and Association Wishes to Be Named Fiscal Agent for the Project.

With the exception of the amendment providing a penalty of 1 per cent per month on delinquent association dues, all the amendments submitted to the Klamath Water Users' association directors yesterday were defeated. The board of directors is composed of Abel Ady, John Irvin, Fred Pope, Charles Bunting and James Dixon, who were elected without opposition. The board will organize late today.

At yesterday's meeting the stock holders gave the directors power to publish a weekly newspaper for the water users, the cost not to exceed $100 a month. The board was also given power to call a meeting for the discussion of co-operative activities. This meeting will be very important, and among the co-operative enterprises are a Farmers' National bank, warehouses, power plant, telephone system and mercantile store.

The water users also instructed the directors in the matter of asking the Secretary of the Interior to appoint the association the fiscal agent for the project, eliminating the present fiscal agent employed by the service. The association also seeks to take over later from the government the operation and maintenance of the Klamath project.

U.S. Rejoinder Is Ready

German Reply, Expected June 20, Is Important

ROBERT LANSING
Counselor of State Department Who Prepared Latest United States Note to Germany to Make Quibbling Impossible

United Press Service

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 4.—Counselor Robert Lansing of the state department, has completed America's rejoinder to Germany. It has been approved by the president, and is now being coded. This will be forwarded probably tonight.

In this, America remains firm for her original demands as to submarine rights and the rights of American people and ships on the high seas.

The most diplomatic paper issued since the outbreak of the war should reach the United States about June 20th. This will be Germany's reply to America's latest note.

The importance of this is that it will be the first definite step not only toward perpetuating peace between the United States and Germany, but toward the ending of the European war. This is the opinion expressed in diplomatic circles.

The amount of time to elapse between the American rejoinder to the German reply and the German answer to the rejoinder is due to the fact that Meyer Gerhard, who goes to Berlin as special emissary from Ambassador Bernstorff in connection with the note, will not reach Berlin until June 16.

When this reply arrives, it will mark the point where diplomacy begins to take hold and force begins to let go.

One diplomat is quoted as saying that the tone of Germany's answer is a momentous factor in the situation. He states that Germany feels that she has virtually won the war, meaning that by stopping her antagonists, she feels she has demonstrated that it is impossible to crush her.

SUGAR MILL IS MADE SHAMBLES IN HARD FIGHT

MEN BATTLE HAND TO HAND THERE

Bayonets, Fists and Knives Are Used in One of the Hottest Fights of the War—Mill Changes Hands Several Times During Night, but the French Hold It—Zeppelins Again Raid England—Other War News.

United Press Service

PARIS, June 5.—An official "eye-witness" account of the fighting for the possession of the sugar mill at Souchez in Flanders says that the cellars at the plant were choked with German dead when the French finally gained possession by storming the position after a week of fierce fighting.

French troops buried 3,000 Germans. The French loss was close to 1,000 men.

The French in their last attack used their bayonets. After a three hour fight they captured the outbuildings. A little later they took the mill Germans withdrawing.

This withdrawal was only temporary, however, and the Germans later made a strong counter attack, driving out the French. The French, after a short respite, regained the mill.

At dark the Germans made a still more ferocious assault, which developed into a hand-to-hand encounter. In the moonlight thousands of men fought with bayonets, knives, clubbed guns and even bare fists. Sheer weight of numbers forced the withdrawal of the French, but at day-break the French, reinforced, took the mill, which they still hold.

SUMMER SCHOOL STARTS MONDAY

KLAMATH COUNTY'S FIRST TEACHERS' TRAINING COURSE WILL BE HELD AT THE HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING

The first Klamath county summer school will open Monday morning at the high school building. The holding of this summer school marks the passing of the annual institute and the substitution therefore of a definite teachers' course, consisting of work in methods and the art of teaching. Experts in primary and advanced work have been secured as instructors in the school.

During the time Chautauqua is in session the work of the summer school will be so arranged that teachers may attend the Chautauqua attractions.

Classes will be organized in subjects required in the next teachers' examination to be held June 30 and July 1, 2 and 3. A large number of teachers have signified their intention of attending this summer school.

Suffragette Introduces New Fashions

Miss Hilma Johnson

Miss Hilma Johnson, a pretty suffragette, found a new way of advertising "the cause" on Fifth avenue, New York, the other day. How well she succeeded may be realized from the fact that she had to be rescued from a crowd by policemen. She appeared in the fashionable crowd with a new veil bearing on the lower margin the words "Votes for Women." A crowd collected—for it is very easy to gather a crowd in New York—and followed her until she was fearful of the results. Then the police interfered and got her out of the crush.

NEW BAND LEADER IS HERE FOR JOB

A. C. SCHLOSS COMES IN FROM LOS ANGELES HIGHLY RECOMMENDED—INITIAL PRACTICE TOMORROW

Klamath Falls' Military band now has a salaried leader. This is A. C. Schloss, who arrived last night from Los Angeles, to take up the direction of the local organization. The first rehearsal will be held by Mr. Schloss at 2:30 tomorrow at the Pavilion, and all musicians are asked to attend. A series of concerts is to be given weekly in the court house square, and the new director wishes to know what instruments are needed, that he may send for outside musicians to come here for the summer.

MOON AND STARS SAY KAISER OUT

AT LEAST, SOUTHSAYER WITH THE HINDUS IN FLANDERS SAYS THEY WILL TELL HIM BILL AND FRANCIS-J LICKED

United Press Service

LONDON, May 25 (by mail to New York).—Nothing but dark, sinister gloom are in store for Kaiser Wilhelm and Emperor Franz Joseph.

The horoscope of the Hohenzollern and Hapsburg monarchs comes to London today from Picardy, a little village behind the British lines in Northern France. Kaya Andra, a Brahman occult, an aged, white-bearded person, drew it from the stars and moon and told it to all the Indian troops. He traveled to Europe with the Indians when they came to fight the Germans.

The first half of the year 1916 will see the final blow fall on the head of the Teutons, Kaya Andra gathered from the heavens. He says:

"The German emperor was born under Aquarius. This signifies solitude, desertion, exile and sickness. The year 1916 will bring him terrible reverses, notably in June, July and December. But his definite downfall will only occur during the first half of 1916, and it will entail the exile of the kaiser and his family."

Kaya Andra says the stars tell him this about Franz Joseph: "The Lion, the Bull and the Scorpion, uniting their baleful influences, have condemned him to a joyless end, and his throne and empire will be annihilated after a sanguinary revolution in this year of Grace, 1915."

Kaya is still at Picardy, telling the fates of the Indian "Tommses." He has studied the heavens since his youth and ought to know.

ROUMANIA WILL NOT ENTER WAR SAYS GERMANY

IS CONSIDERED GREAT GERMAN VICTORY

Failure of Czar Nicholas to Recognize Territorial Demands of Little Principality is Held to Be One of the Chief Causes for Non-Participation—German Papers Say Victory is Greater Than Przemysl.

United Press Service

BERLIN, June 5.—The allies have utterly failed in their efforts to induce Roumania to join in the war against Germany and Austria, according to reliable private advice.

This is said to be owing to an inability to arrange terms between Roumania and Russia. The czar and his cabinet refused to cede to Roumania the territory the Roumanians ask for their participation.

This brought about a deadlock which England, France and even Italy tried in vain to break. The Russian government remained obdurate, and no amount of persuasion has been effective in moving from its original stand.

This is considered a great coup for Germany.

Today's "Lokal Anzeiger" declares that the defeat of the attempt to induce Roumania to enter the war is a greater Austro-German victory than the capture of Przemysl this week.

Chautauqua Assembly Only Four Days Away

With the opening of the Chautauqua assembly scheduled for Wednesday, Klamath Falls is becoming interested in the six days of speaking, music and other high class entertainment to be given. Advertising matter is appearing in all the windows, and "Chautauqua Booster" pennants are floating proudly from the mast-head of every available automobile in town.

The tent for the assembly arrived a few days ago. Today the tent man is on the job, and he is carrying on work at the Central school ground preparatory to raising the "big top." This will be hoisted Monday, and a call is made for volunteers to be at the Central school at 9 o'clock that morning to help in the work.

Those purchasing season tickets before the opening of Chautauqua will save a dollar on each ticket. Tickets can be secured at nearly any store in town, and all of the guarantors who make the season possible, also have the tickets to sell.

Community Banquet Here Tuesday Night

A get-together session of more than ordinary importance will be held at the White Pelican hotel Tuesday evening, when Colonel William Hamilton Miller, community development booster for the Western Retail Lumbermen's Association, will address Klamath Falls people on community building and town development matters.

Colonel Miller will speak at the two opening days of Chautauqua, and is one of the star attractions offered this year by the Ellison-White System. He has irresistible humor, but an abundance of good common sense, and every laugh is followed by a good plain truth. The occasion of Miller's special talk at the Pelican will be a banquet being arranged for by the Klamath Chamber of Commerce and Klamath Business Men's Association, to which all are invited. The charge will be only 50 cents a plate. It is due to the Big Basin Lumber Company that the people arranging for the banquet are able to secure Colonel Miller as a speaker. The local concern is a member of the Western Association, and will pay all of the expenses incident to Colonel Miller's appearance here a day earlier than scheduled.
