

WILSON SPEAKS TO THOUSANDS ON FLAG DAY

PEACE MOVEMENT UNDER WAY IN FEW WEEKS

Believed That Americans Have Found Solution of War, and That Warring Nations Will Listen—Five Thousand Addressed by President Wilson in Front of Treasury Building—He Honors the Flag and Our Dead.

United Press Service
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 14.—“Americans will yet interpret the world's heart,” said President Wilson in addressing 5,000 people massed before the front of the treasury building today. “While we honor the men of our country who stood for the ideals that made the flag possible, let us not forget that the nation's greatest experiences have been through the work of unknown men—men, who in daily endeavor represent the flag's essence and who see in the flag what they desire it to be.”

Another dispatch states that Wilson is completing the data for a proposed note to the allies, and it is believed that within a few weeks a general peace movement will be under way. Despite successes, enormous casualties are staggering Germany, and the allies are having trouble with munitions.

Optimistic Viewpoint on Note
United Press Service
BERLIN, June 14.—A high official of the German government has told a United Press representative that America need not feel apprehensive over the German-American situation, and that the friendliness of the note had impressed Germany. A reply in the same spirit is expected. He intimated that the solution presented would be acceptable to both, and was very optimistic. The reply from Meyer Corhard has not arrived.

“OLEO” FRAUDS COST MILLIONS

THE SUPREME COURT UNEARTHED FRAUDS AMOUNTING TO OVER $2,000,000 ANNUALLY LOST BY THE GOVERNMENT

United Press Service
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 14.—Oleomargarine frauds costing the United States Government over $2,000,000 annually were unearthed by the supreme court today.

The government has recovered hundreds of thousands of dollars from fraudulent dealers, besides large sums through the courts.

The Rhode Island railway case, which comes up next week before the justices is expected to bring forth further revelations.

New Evidence for Frank

ATLANTA, June 14.—The governor heard Frank's commutation plea Saturday. His attorneys allege that new evidence has been uncovered, indicating his innocence.

OREGON PIONEER PASSES BEYOND

MRS. LAVENBERG DIED YESTERDAY AFTERNOON AT HOME OF C. C. LOW—WAS A NATIVE OF GERMANY

Mrs. Elizabeth Lavenberg, aged 81 years 5 months and 13 days, died yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. C. Low of this city. Mrs. Lavenberg was a native of Germany, and came to this country when she was 4 years old. She crossed the plains and settled in Oregon with her husband in 1860.

The remains are at the Whitlock undertaking parlors, and will be taken to Phoenix, Oregon, for interment, the body leaving in the morning on the train. Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Low and daughter Josie and Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Low leave in the morning by automobile for Phoenix, and will attend the funeral services.

Mrs. Lavenberg had been failing for the past year and a half, and for the past several weeks the end had been known to be but a matter of time. Mrs. Lavenberg was born on January 1, 1834, in Germany. When she was 4 years old she crossed the Atlantic with her parents who settled in Pennsylvania. There she remained until shortly previous to 1860, when the trip was made across the plains to Oregon. They resided at Fort Jones a few years before moving to Phoenix, where they conducted a hotel up until fourteen years ago. At that time the hotel was sold, and Mrs. Lavenberg, who had been bereft of her husband, came to Klamath county, and since then has been living with her two daughters, Mrs. C. C. Low and Mrs. S. B. Low, the only two remaining children.

Mrs. Lavenberg had been a member of the Presbyterian church all her life.

WATCH IS FOUND AFTER FOUR YEARS

LOST IN HAY FIELD BY STUDENT, GOES THROUGH STACK, FOUND IN BARNYARD—NAME ON FOB CAUSE OF RETURN

Lost in the hay field while he was working for the Eszell stock ranch during the summer of 1911, a 17-jewel, gold hunting case Illinois watch was recently returned to Clarence Molschenbacher, manager of the Klamath Falls steam laundry, by Francis Eszell, after it had been found in the barnyard by one of his men.

Molschenbacher had just finished high school at the time, and had gone to the ranch to work in the hay field. His watch came up missing one day, and he supposed it had been lost in the hay, and never expected to see it again. When the watch was handed to him on the street one day recently he had almost forgotten it and the incident.

The watch had evidently been lost in the hay and placed in one of the stacks, from where it was fed to the horses and cattle. The hay that was cut at that time had been fed two years ago, according to Eszell, and the only explanation for the watch being found in the barnyard where the cattle are fed is that it has been lying in the yard for practically two years.

A peculiar fact is that the watch is not badly damaged. From marks on it, but one animal seemed to have stepped on it. This had been in the middle of the watch, causing the breaking of the crystal and a dent in the back of the case, where the main pivot had pressed against the inside and pushed the case out at the center point. Three jewels were broken, and the case slightly dented seems to be the only damage done.

Molschenbacher's name was on the for, which is a high school class for which with the year of his graduating class on the back.

Husband Says Her Value Is $250,000

Mrs. Max Kleist, Who Was Miss Juliet Breitung

Max Frederick Kleist, the German gardener for Edward N. Breitung, the millionaire mining man, is suing his former employer for $250,000 for taking his wife away. Juliet Breitung fell in love with the gardener and married him. Mr. Breitung at once began an effort, Kleist charges, to have the girl leave him. She did, ultimately.

In the United States court in New York, where the case was tried, testimony of a maid was introduced to show the daughter loved her husband, and that when the father was trying to send him off to a western mine she prepared a list of promises the father was to make. This list, the maid said, was written. Among them was a demand that she be permitted to communicate with her husband. Kleist went to the mine, but instead of having an opportunity to become a mining engineer, he testified, he became a day laborer.

ACTION TAKEN ON WATER QUESTION

MASS MEETING HELD AT BONANZA AND EFFORT BEING MADE TO SWING MONEY TO HORSEFLY DISTRICT

A report from Bonanza states that a mass meeting of the farmers under the Horsefly district was held Saturday, and that every effort is being made by the farmers there to swing the $120,000 ready for use in extension irrigation work in Klamath county to that district.

Signers are being secured for the project, and it is said that about fifteen were secured Saturday, with the prospects for more. Some effort is also reported as being made to divide up some of the tracts and put them up for sale.

It is said that a large number of owners of property who reside in Klamath Falls are also signing up the petitions tentatively, at least, on the estimate made that the water is to be furnished at not more than $45 an acre.

LOCAL SOLOIST TO BE FEATURE AT TENT TONIGHT

CHAUTAQUA PROGRAM

◆ Tonight
◆ Grand Jubilee Concert, Buckner's Southern Singers.
◆ Soloist, Mrs. Don J. Zumwalt.

The Chautauqua management has arranged a pleasant surprise for the closing program of the Chautauqua this evening, in being able to present Mrs. Don J. Zumwalt as soloist.

Mrs. Zumwalt has a host of friends and admirers in Klamath Falls who will be very glad to hear her on the Chautauqua platform. She has a soprano voice far above the average, of wide range and well trained. Her reputation as a singer extends far beyond Klamath county, and the Chautauqua people feel that they are very fortunate in being able to present Mrs. Zumwalt in the closing program.

Last spring Mrs. Zumwalt was for some time soloist with the Andrews Grand Opera company in a very successful tour of the Coast. The opportunity of hearing her tonight should not be overlooked by her home friends.

This afternoon Senator Burkett delivered his lecture “Government Ownership of Railroads” before a large audience. So many people were delighted with his address Sunday evening that they packed to hear him again today. Ownership of railroads is a much-talked subject, to which the senator has given a great deal of time and study, both in this country and abroad. He is convinced that at the present time this government would make a serious mistake in taking over the railroads, backing up his position with convincing arguments.

The Buckner Jubilees will give their full program this evening, so that with the appearance of Mrs. Zumwalt, the program should be a very pleasing one.

Attendance at Chautauqua has been increasing daily, testifying in no uncertain way as to how Klamath people enjoy these high class programs. Yesterday's attendance was the largest of the week, with the exception of Saturday night, and it is hoped that tonight's attendance will be even larger.

Making the Klamath Falls engagement has worked a big hardship on the visiting talent, as it has necessitated a 107-mile automobile ride to Grants Pass in order to be there in time for the opening of the program there the following day. It was the original plan to drive only to Ashland but the taking off of a train a few weeks ago necessitates the drive clear through.

The Adelphian Quartet struck rain, snow and hail on their trip, and reached Grants Pass with hardly time to change their clothes for the program. The orchestra encountered better weather, and had time for a little rest before their appearance.

As soon as the program closes tonight, Superintendent Foster will put his men to work tearing down the big tent. The tent will go to the repair shop, and probably to the junk heap, as the wind last week damaged it badly. The reason this tent was sent here in the first place was that the burning out of a tunnel in California necessitated an entire rearrangement of the tent schedule, and this old tent had to be pressed into service. Mr. Foster leaves tomorrow for La Crosse, Wash., his next town. He will be accompanied by Irwing Willis, assistant superintendent, while Miss Alexander will go to Cottage Grove.

GOVERNMENT TO REST CASE TODAY

THREATS MADE BY DEFENDANT AGAINST DECEASED RELATED IN COURT—BULLETS FOUND IN BODY IMPORTANT EVIDENCE

At noon today C. L. Reames, United States district attorney, announced that the government would rest its case about 3 o'clock this afternoon, when the defense is expected to take up their side of the case of the U. S. government against Jim George for the murder of Pete Brown.

The morning session of the court was occupied with the evidence relating principally to the actions of the defendant previous to the finding of Brown's body. Four witnesses testified that George, the defendant, had said that he was going to kill Peter Brown. The government also introduced a certified copy of an indictment of George for taking liquor onto the reservation in 1911, and proved that Peter Brown had been a witness against him at that time.

Evidence was then brought in that the two bullets found in the body of the dead man by Theo. Deschner, a manufacturer of pistols, who has been in charge of a revolver repair shop for fifty years, and by Robert H. Craddock, president of the Portland Revolver Club, that these two bullets could only have come from a Smith & Wesson gun, due to the rifling. The testimony of Deschner was read as taken at the previous trial in Medford, while Craddock was on the stand.

Gragg, the store keeper at Yainax then testified that he sold a box of 25 special Peters shells to George a few days before the crime was committed. The government also proved that the two bullets found in the body of Brown had come from Peters shells. It was contended in the trial at Medford by the defendants that these shells he had purchased had been lost.

The defense is expected to take up their side immediately, and the trial is expected to be completed the latter part of this week.

CAR STRIKE IN CHICAGO TIES UP BUSINESS

WORST TIE UP IN THE HISTORY OF CITY

Last Cars Got to Barns Early This Morning and Nearly a Thousand Policemen Guard the Car Barns. Hundreds of Thousands Walk or Use Any Means to Get to Work. “Scabs” Imported from the East.

United Press Service
CHICAGO, June 14.—Chicago is experiencing the worst tie up of transportation known in the history of the city, since practically every street car employe of the city systems struck this morning, including the men on the cars, shopmen and ticket sellers.

The last elevated trains and surface street cars went to the barns this morning at 5 o'clock, making it necessary for the hundreds of thousands of persons employed in the loop district to walk to their places of employment, use automobiles, ride horse or stay at home.

Every policeman available in the city has been called to duty in the downtown section, while nearly a thousand are guarding the car barns.

At 10 o'clock the elevated company announced a 15-minute schedule, which was started without any violence reported so far. It is estimated that 14,500 motormen, chauffeurs, shopmen and ticket sellers have struck.

The strikers say that the scab-breakers have been imported from the East to break the deadlock, and that a carload arrived from Cincinnati this morning. Trouble is anticipated at any time.

CHAMBER TO HOLD IMPORTANT MEET

TONIGHT'S MEETING OF CHAMBER OF COMMERCE WILL BE BUSY ONE, AND FULL ATTENDANCE IS DESIRED

An important meeting of the Klamath Chamber of Commerce will be held in the rooms of the association at 8 o'clock tonight, according to Fred Fleet, secretary.

“A number of matters are to be brought to the attention of the members at this time, and it is earnestly desired that every member shall be present,” said Fleet this morning.

Machos Head of Services (Special Special Service)
