

And the Lad Came Back.
 Del Dutton returned to his old love when he arrived in Klamath Falls last night. He brought with him this time his father and mother, and is endeavoring to transplant them to the Klamath country. They made the trip from Antioch, Calif., in a Ford, stopping at different points along the way.

SCHOOLS—CIVIC CENTERS

THAT public school buildings should be used more extensively as centers for both social and civic activities of the communities in which they are located, is the contention of Dr. E. A. Sommer of Portland.

"One of the best methods for bringing the schools and the people closer together is for the schools to be thrown open for community centers," said Dr. Sommer. "The last legislature paved the way for making the schools the centers of community activities when it passed a law granting school boards the right to throw open school buildings for such purposes. I hope the next legislature will provide means for financing to a certain extent this social center work."

"This matter is now of double importance since the voters of this state have decided that there shall be prohibition after January 2, 1916. On this date all saloons in the state will be closed. Many men will have no place to go except out on the street. The schools should take the place of the saloons for these men. They should be made centers for carrying on social and educational work. Reading rooms should be provided and meetings held at which there is music and lectures and other entertainment. The schools can in this manner be made a great medium for the general uplift of mankind, in addition to being places where children receive instruction. Plans could be worked out so that these social center activities will not interfere in any manner with school work. Schools could be in session during the daytime and the social centers opened after school hours."

Scattered Shots
TWO MORE days until that big Fourth of July celebration starts.

THE ELECTION for mayor looks like a certainty. Bring out the candidates, let's look 'em over.

THE UNITED STATES has adopted the only solution in the Mexican situation. Arrest the leaders and there won't be any more revolution.

SOME PEOPLE claim to have seen Mt. Lassen spouting yesterday over the hills. Whether it was, or was a cloud, it is difficult to determine.

SEVERAL COLUMNS of space have been given to Klamath due to Lamont's visit. That is the advertising that counts at the present time.

NO WONDER Redding will come here the fourth. We would, too, if we were that close to Lassen.

SHE MIGHT take a notion to celebrate, too.

THE BIG band-baseball benefit comes off tomorrow night. All night long, skip and a jump.

GET READY for the Fourth. All your gala dress and new duds out.

Mrs. William Thaw and Her Son She Spends Fortune On

Mrs. William Thaw Harry Thaw

This photograph shows Harry Thaw and his mother, who has spent a fortune trying to get him out of jail for killing Stanford White, on their way to his latest trial in New York city. The highest court of the state affirmed the decision of a lower court granting him a jury trial on the direct question of sanity. Heretofore in all Thaw's other efforts to get out he has left his case to a single judge, with the result that in each instance the court has ruled against him.

How Oregonians Can See Expo at Low Cost

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—With a little care, Oregonians coming to the exposition will find it possible to make a stay here at no excessive cost. Down in the city good rooms at average hotels can be had at $1 to $2.50 per night, and rooms in boarding houses and homes at $5 to $10 per week. Restaurant prices are not beyond the usual, and at cafeterias good food can be had at very reasonable prices. At the latter places, for everything except meat, 5 and 10 cents is the price for the average dish. There is an excess of rooms and eating places, the crowds not yet having overflowed the city.

For those who feel the need of apartments, one or two rooms with kitchenette and private bath range from $22.50 to $50, at thoroughly respectable and up-to-date apartment houses within a short street car ride of the exposition or city. On the exposition grounds prices are a little more strenuous in spots, but visitors meet this situation pretty largely by bringing their lunches with them, and the very best of people do not scorn to do this. The Y. Y. C. A. cafeteria occupies a building all its own, and is the popular eating place within the gates. Here one can pick out a reasonably good meal for 50 cents or less, and for light lunches is ideal. Waffles and coffee cost 25 cents. The Zone is filled with eating places, cabarets and restaurants offering food at all prices. "Hot dog" sandwiches and coffee joints are everywhere, and the combination can be had for 20 cents. In the Food Products building it is possible to get light lunches and tea for about 25 cents, and tea houses serving tea and rice cakes at 15 cents are everywhere.

There is but one hotel on the grounds, "Inside Inn." Rooms and bath are $5 and up; without bath the prices range from $3 per night upward, according to location. Breakfast is served at 75 cents straight, other meals a la carte.

Patrons here must pay the 50 cents daily admission to the ground, but unlike all others who attend the fair, these have a permit to leave and enter as they choose. As a matter of general information, many Oregonians will be glad to know that hotel room or apartment accommodations can be secured at the Ferry building, and that street cars leading to all parts of the city and direct to the exposition circle in front of the Ferry building. From there to the exposition the "D" car is the most popular. It is direct, and lands one at the main or Scott street entrance. At the Oregon building every possible information about the grounds is available at the central booth, and special effort is made to render Oregonians every needed service, as well as to make the visit of everyone to the building as pleasant as possible. Register at the Oregon building's central booth on your first visit, and ask such questions as you may desire, also secure booklet detailing the facts about Oregon exhibits in this building and in the main palaces.

TODAY'S ODDEST STORY

United Press Service
CLEVELAND, O., June 29.—Brookside Park Zoo here has the very latest animal freak—a horned rooster. Zoo keepers believe Dick is the only "deer-rooster" in the world. Dick's antlers are about two inches long. Curving gracefully outward and upward, they end in notched points where they are just beginning to fork like the horns of an elk.

Students of American fauna are stumped. They can't explain the phenomena. And the oddest part of the freak is that the bird is kept in a deer park.

"Maybe Dick's environments brought the horns," says Muldoon. "But he has 'em all right."

Our dry weather continues, and unless we have a good rain soon a light hay crop is predicted.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Campbell left for the San Francisco fair last Monday. They went to the Falls with Will Duncan in his new Overland.

George Deal attended the Ford picnic at Spring Creek. He reports a most enjoyable time. He is expecting Mrs. Deal and the new son home next week.

The annual school meeting of this district was held at Lorella June 21st. There was a large attendance and unusual interest manifested. Alex Stewart was elected director, to take the place of Fred Fleet, whose term of office expired. Mrs. Will Campbell was elected clerk.

Mrs. George Noble entertained the members of the W. I. Club at her home last Thursday afternoon. This was the third meeting of the club, which was organized four weeks ago at the home of Mrs. Jack Donnelly. After a short business meeting Mrs. David Campbell entertained the ladies with an account of her visit to the Klamath Falls Chautauqua. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, after which the club adjourned to hold its next regular meeting July 22d at the home of Mrs. H. E. Winard.

Mrs. Christina Kellar of Portland arrived in Langell Valley last week to spend the summer with her sons on the ranch. Will Kellar, a brother of Gus and Alfred, together with his wife, have recently come to Langell Valley, and expect to make this their home.

With good prospects of water, Langell Valley land will soon be at a premium.

George Deal went to the Falls Sunday to bring back Mrs. Deal, who has spent the winter in Klamath Falls, where the children were attending school.

Mrs. Gus Keller went to the Falls Sunday to spend a few days.
