THE GOLDEN RULE'S Semi-Annual Clearance Sale

YOU WILL KINDLY TAKE NOTICE THAT SOME OF THE OTHER STORES IN TOWN ARE CONSIDERABLY WORRIED OVER THE EXTREME LOW PRICES WE ARE MAKING IN ORDER TO EFFECT A QUICK CLEARANCE. PRETTY GOOD EVIDENCE THAT THEY BEGIN TO REALIZE IT'S A HARD GAME TO DEPEND ON TRAVELING SALESMEN FOR THEIR DRY GOODS, CLOTHING, ETC., ESPECIALLY WHEN LOCATED IN CITIES THE SIZE OF KLAMATH FALLS. YOU WILL NEVER HEAR THE MANAGEMENT OF THIS STORE MAKE A KICK BECAUSE TRAVELING SALESMEN REFUSE TO CALL, NEITHER WILL YOU EVER HEAR US GROWL BECAUSE SOME ONE MAKES A LOWER PRICE ON MERCHANDISE THAN WE MAKE. WE REALIZE IT'S UP TO US TO MEET ALL COMPETITION AT ALL TIMES OR GET OUT OF THE GAME. OF COURSE, IT IS HARD TO DO THIS WHEN SELLING GOODS ON CONSIGNMENT, FOR THE OTHER FELLOW MUST DICTATE THEN. THIS STORE BUYS ITS MERCHANDISE OUTRIGHT, PAYS CASH FOR SAME, AND PROPOSES TO SELL AT ANY PRICE THE MANAGEMENT SEES FIT REGARDLESS OF WHAT THE GOODS MAY COST AT WHOLESALE

WELL KNOWN EDITOR IS DEAD

RESIDENT OF SEATTLE, PROMINENT FIGURE IN NORTHWEST AND ON COAST, DIES AFTER A LONG STRUGGLE

United Press Service

SEATTLE, Wash., July 13.—Colonel Alden J. Blethen died at 4:30 p. m., Monday, following a long struggle for life. He was a native of Maine, having been born at Knox, Waldo county, December 27, 1846, his parents being Alden and Abbie L. Blethen. After acquiring a common school education, he entered Wesleyan seminary and college, where he was graduated in 1868.

In 1873 he won the degree of Master of Arts at Bowdoin college. He then took up the profession of teaching, and was teacher and principal of the Abbott family school at Farmington, Maine, from 1869 to 1873. He was admitted to the bar and practiced law in Portland, Maine, until 1880, when he removed to Kansas City, Mo., and entered upon newspaper work. For four years he was manager of the Kansas City Journal. Thence he removed to Minneapolis, where he purchased an interest in the Tribune, and the Journal. He served as editor of the Tribune and manager of the Journal until 1888, when he sold his interest in those papers.

Colonel Blethen repurchased the Tribune the following year, but fire destroyed the building in November of the same year, and he thus suffered heavy losses. In 1890 he erected the new Tribune building at a big cost, but the great financial panic of 1893 brought disaster to him, and he lost all he had saved.

While in Minnesota he served as colonel on the staffs of both Governor Nelson and Governor Clough.

In 1895 Colonel Blethen came to Seattle, where he purchased the Times, a small evening paper. The Sunday Times was added in 1902.

Colonel Blethen was married in 1869 to Miss Rose Ann Hunter of Strong, Maine. They have four children: Alden Joseph Blethen Jr., Clarence B. Blethen, Mrs. Florence Blethen Duffy and Mrs. Marion Blethen Mesday, all living in Seattle.

SEC'Y. LANSING CHANGES PLANS

United Press Service

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 13.—The plans made by Secretary of State Lansing were cancelled unexpectedly today for his visit to the summer home of President Wilson, where he was to confer over the answer to the German note. The change was apparently sudden and Lansing admitted that he had no plans for an immediate conference.

It is not known whether he will go or not and it is believed that the President wants Lansing to reach his own conclusions regarding the answer to be made to the note without his influence. It is also believed that he desires to think out the situation himself alone and independently.

New Harbor for Eureka United Press Service

ENREKA, July 13.—Eureka is celebrating the completion of one-half of the big project undertaken by the federal government to make safe the entrance to the city's harbor. The south jetty has been completed and work was started yesterday on transferring equipment to the north side of the bay entrance where similar jetties will be constructed.

Since the work was started three years ago under the supervision of Colonel Thomas H. Rees, $1,300,000 has been expended.

7,000 Acres More Are Irrigated

Keno, which can be enlarged as the demand for current increases.

The largest single project is a combined drainage and pumping system between Klamath Falls and Keno, involving close to 5,000 acres. Of this, 4,000 is rich marsh land bordering on the Klamath River, which Kerns brothers are draining, 100 acres being drained by R. A. Emmitt and 500 acres of high land being irrigated by Emmitt.

The Kerns brothers figure on subdividing the tract they drain, as they are working for the development of the country. To irrigate Emmitt's high land, the water is raised fifty feet.

Closer to Klamath Falls, Howard H. Van Valkenburg is about in shape to irrigate 500 acres of land through an electrical driven pump system. The water is lifted thirty-four feet by a 50-horsepower motor.

Between Keno and Worden there will be about 1,000 acres of land brought under the ditch this year, according to the Kerns brothers, who are preparing to extend their lines in that direction. Frank Vincent will irrigate about 500 acres of his fine farm by a pumping plant, and others there who are considering such installations are R. O. Vincent and H. L. Veit.

A genuine top-notch, tonight's Star theater program. Look 'em over.

FERGUSON, BEAR DOG, IN TANGLE

A LOCAL ATTORNEY NEARLY GETS PINCHED WHEN OLIVER'S DOG TACKLES A BEAR IN SAN FRANCISCO STREET

Just before leaving for the south on his summer vacation, Chas. Ferguson borrowed Pal, a brindie-bull pup, from C. T. Oliver. Pal was to act as watchdog and companion for the trip. From Reno Fergy writes:

"Pal is a perfect gentleman, is perfectly contented. Glad we met."

From San Francisco he writes: "Pal and I were walking down Mason street when we met a man leading a bear. Pal made a spring at the bear—and there was confusion and general excitement. I got badly scratched trying to get my dog off, and the owner of the bear was considerably bruised trying to save his bear. Two policemen interfered, and it looked for a time as if a riot call would be necessary, but I recovered Pal and carried him a block before putting him down. I don't know what became of the man and his bear, but Pal is hunting bear meat on every corner."

He further said that he has been living in San Francisco for a week, but expected to leave for Los Angeles the following day, where he and Pal will probably free an elk or two.

REVENUE ON DEED COSTS $290.50

DEED FILED BY DESCHUTES LUMBER COMPANY TRANSFERS 14,524 ACRES OF TIMBER LAND TO FREMONT LAND COMPANY

The revenue stamps on a deed filed in the county clerk's office yesterday by the Deschutes Land company of Minnesota cost that company just $290.50 in revenue stamps, the assessment being made at the rate of $1 per thousand feet on timber land.

The land conveyed from the Deschutes Lumber company to the Fremont Land company is located in the northern part of the county. Both companies are located in Minnesota, but have large holdings in Oregon and this county, and 14,524 acres were transferred in the deal for which the deed was filed yesterday.

The large revenue was placed on the paper in four stamps, two $100, one $50, and one 50 cent stamp.

Woodchopper Taken to Salem
Sheriff Eech of Salem left this morning on his return with Fraco von Hotten in custody, where he is wanted on a non-support charge. Von Hotten is a woodchopper, and was arrested in a wood camp three miles from the city by Deputy Sheriff Lloyd Low last Saturday.

Many at Crater Lake Sunday
Sunday is reported to have been the biggest day so far this year for visitors at Crater Lake from Klamath Falls. There were from fifteen to twenty machines made the trip.
