

PARIS MARKS FALL OF BASTILE WITH CARNIVAL

TROUBANIMS OVERCOME WITH EMOTION
Arresto Soldiers Terrible Bombardment by Germans Keeps Up—British Repulse From Their Positions.

United Press Service
PARIS, July 14.—Today is the anniversary of the fall of the bastille, and it is being celebrated with street balls and carnivals, fireworks, the playing and singing of the Marseillais.

United Press Service
PARIS, July 14.—It has been announced from the war office here that the Germans are concentrating a terrific bombardment along the front from Arras to Soissons, and are attempting to level Soissons to the ground in what is believed to be a main attack directed toward Paris.

United Press Service
BERLIN, July 14.—The war office here announced that the French have been driven back half a mile north-west of Viennele Chateau, and that impetuous charges made by the Germans have advanced the German lines between Verdun and Rheims.

MANY PLAN TO GO TO MEDFORD

BASEBALL TEAM WILL GO IN FOUR MACHINES, AND MANY OTHERS ARRANGING TO MAKE TRIP TO ROGUE RIVER CITY

Many people of the city are planning to journey to Medford next Sunday to witness the baseball game between Medford and the team from this city.

This game will undoubtedly be one of the best exhibitions this season. The Medford team has won ten and lost two games this season, and they claim it is a breeze. They have beaten Weed, Yreka, Grants Pass and practically all the teams they have played.

Miss Jean Leach of Pana, Illinois, is expected here this evening on a visit to her sister, Mrs. Fred C. Murphy. She is making a trip through the West, visiting the fair at San Francisco and other points, and will spend about a month in Klamath Falls.

THAW DECLARED SANE BY JURY IN NEW YORK

JURY RECOMMENDS RELEASE, COURT TO APPROVE
Not Expected to Free Thaw, However, as the State is Determined to Appeal the Case—Possible That He Will Be Released on Bail—Motion to Release Immediately Overruled. Jury Out 48 Minutes.

United Press Service
NEW YORK, July 14.—The jury sitting in the Harry K. Thaw case declared Thaw sane this afternoon, and recommended that the court release him. Justice Hendricks is expected to announce his decision tomorrow, and will probably approve the finding of the jury.

The effect of this verdict, however, will not free Thaw, as the state is determined to appeal. It is possible, however, that he will be released on bail. A motion made by his attorney, Stanchfield, for immediate release, was overruled by the court.

The jury was out just forty-eight minutes, and the verdict was unanimous in favor of Thaw on the first ballot. Thaw shook hands with the jurors, thanking them after they were dismissed. He was excited, but he showed no signs of hysteria. His mother and sister, who have remained so steadfast during the trial, wept when the jury's verdict was read.

Six policemen were required to escort Thaw to the Ludlow street jail, as he was given a great ovation by a large crowd gathered outside. A moving picture man was on the spot and took a picture of the event, to which Thaw smiled and bowed.

The various trials held in Thaw's efforts to free himself for the killing of Stanford White have cost the family nearly a million and a half dollars.

14,000 HORSES SOLD TO ALLIES

MAJORITY COME FROM OREGON AND WASHINGTON — REPRESENT AN INVESTMENT OF $1,500,000 IN CASH

PORTLAND, July 14.—Since the demand for horses for use in the European war became strong, a total of about 700 cars of animals from Oregon and Southeastern Washington have been shipped to assembling yards at Omaha and Kansas City. A large part of the horses has already crossed the ocean to the war zone, but because of the difficulty in obtaining transports many of the artillery horse recruits and cavalry mounts have not been moved beyond the feeding yards. Since each car carries an average of more than twenty horses, the 700 cars shipped represent a total of more than 14,000 horses, and the total paid for them runs in excess of $1,500,000. About half of this number represents the horses sold in Western Oregon.

Holt, Muentner and Handwritings

Table with handwritten notes and signatures, including 'Dear Lena', 'Study school', 'With Women', 'J J J J am', 'I am', 'Let Law', 'You year', 'will will', 'will will', 'and and', 'had demand', 'limited', 'Mineola', 'my Muentner'.

Frank Holt and Specimens of Handwriting July 4, 1915. Erich Muentner and Specimen of Handwriting March 20, 1904

Handwriting and Bertillon experts find marks of similarity between this photograph of Frank Holt, the man who blew up a room in the Capitol at Washington and who shot J. P. Morgan, and that of Erich Muentner, the Harvard teacher of German, who is wanted on a charge of wife murder, and their handwritings. The photograph of Holt has just been secured. It was taken of him while an instructor in German in Cornell University. The picture of Muentner is that sent broadcast by the Police of Cambridge after his wife died of poisoning in 1906. The specimens of Holt's handwriting were photographed from a letter he sent July 4 to Rev. Sensabaugh, his father-in-law, in Dallas, Texas. Muentner wrote a letter from Lawrence, Kans., where he was a teacher of German in the Kansas University, which was forwarded to Mineola, where Holt is in jail, by Cambridge police. Police all over the country are now trying to solve the question as to whether or not Holt and Muentner are one and the same.

VEGETABLES GO TO S. F. FAIR

HUGE SPECIMENS OF KLAMATH COUNTY WERE SENT OUT THIS MORNING FOR EXHIBIT—ARE NEEDED FOR DISPLAY

Four heads of lettuce grown in Klamath county weighing over four pounds apiece, were some of the best specimens of Klamath county products which left this morning for the county exhibit at the fair which is in charge of Phil J. Sinnott.

Carrots, onions, turnips and other specimens of our products were also included in the shipment. Advertisers from Sinnott have stated that these exhibits attract considerable more attention than many other exhibits.

Reports from other parts of the state also show that such exhibits as well as others of an industrial nature are bringing results.

The Klamath Commercial Club is receiving returns from the exposition nearly every day from people who come here to see the country after hearing about it at the exposition. The shipment was furnished by Percy Evans and Fred Nilschelm.

Chas. Baldwin Here
Chas. Baldwin of Lakeview drove in last night from that city on a short trip. He expects to leave this afternoon on his return.

STATE HIGHWAY BOARD LEAVES

WILL JOURNEY OVER THE STATE HIGHWAYS, COMING TO KLAMATH, AND RETURNING BY CENTRAL OREGON

PORTLAND, July 14.—Simon Benson with a party Monday morning started over the Pacific highway. He will follow the highway to the California line, then swing back to Lakeview and Crater Lake, cut through Central Oregon and come out again over the Columbia River highway. His object is to learn the exact condition of the Pacific highway and to do what he can to see that the Pacific highway is placed in the best possible shape for travel. The trip will consume at least a week.

KLAMATH CHICKS GET THE GOLD

GUY WALTON BRINGS YOUNG NUGGET TO CITY—DISCOVERS IT IS BRASS—AN ACCOUTERMENT OF A REGULAR CHICKEN

A remark heard on the street yesterday that Klamath "chickens" have a habit of getting the gold, when traced down brought out the fact that Guy Walton, a farmer residing along the river had driven into town this morning with a young nugget of supposed gold.

He showed it to several of his friends, and they all agreed that it was gold, and that perhaps he had a mine of it some place on the ranch, if he would just look around a bit—something along the line of, if you would have diamonds, first dig in your own back yard.

The nugget was taken to a jeweler, and he pronounced it to be pure and unadulterated brass. It had evidently been picked up by a chicken on the ranch, and Walton had discovered it in its craw—which only goes to show that Klamath "chickens" also have the art of gathering the brass, a necessary component of a chicken, anyway, so they say.

LAMONT WILL RETURN TO BAY

IS WAITING IN NEW YORK FOR RETURN OF PARTNER FROM EUROPE BEFORE STATING FOR KLAMATH AND PELICAN BAY

Word has been received in this city that J. W. Lamont, first partner of J. P. Morgan, who returned to New York as soon as possible following the shooting of Morgan at his home at Glen Cove, Long Island, will return to Pelican Bay to spend the summer.

Lamont is waiting in New York for the return of one of the other partners from Europe, who will remain there. The quick recovery of Morgan and the evidence that the work was largely one of a crank, lessened the danger of the situation. The date for his leaving will depend on the date of the arrival of the other partner.

Mr. Lamont's family and Dr. Huddstone and family have remained at the Bay. Mr. Lamont stated while here on his way to Weed by auto when he made such a hurried trip to catch the Shasta Limited, that he planned on remaining here all summer.

At Cornucopia the mines sent out amalgam bars worth $51,000 in three days.

PICTURES OF PROJECT WOULD GET RESULTS

SINNOTT TELLS OF INTEREST IN MOVIES AT FAIR

Moving Pictures of Crater Lake Will Be Taken This Month and Pictures of Irrigation Project Could Be Secured at Small Cost—Expert to Handle Machine is Now in This Neighborhood.

By PHILIP J. SINNOTT (Klamath Representative at the Exposition)

OREGON BUILDING, Exposition Grounds, July 14.—If Klamath county people could see the intense interest motion pictures are receiving at this great world's fair, they would make haste to accept the offer of the reclamation service for the filming of Crater Lake, Klamath Falls and Merrill, the sawmilling, stockraising and farming, and other industries of the county. Motion pictures attract as much attention from home-seekers as exhibits of products—in some cases more—for in this way the people know they are actually seeing the activities of the section portrayed.

In all of the large exhibit palaces motion picture shows are maintained by the nation's leading manufacturers, in which the process of manufacturing their particular products are shown, and these are explained by lecturers. Every theater is crowded the greater part of the time, and interest manifested causes people to look up the various booths to obtain information as to where the particular product might be purchased for home use.

The same is the case where pictures of a section are shown. Immediately after the exhibition there is a rush of people to the booth of that section, to ask the representative about the country, opportunities in this or that line, and to secure booklets. This I have found to be the case not only in the Oregon building, but in every building where such pictures are shown.

Interest in sections included in reclamation projects is greater than Klamath people imagine, and the reclamation service section in the Liberal Arts building is one that is visited by thousands daily. There is a motion picture theater in connection where films depicting a dozen or so projects are shown. These pictures are explained by Statistician C. J. Blanchard, and after a reel is finished he is besieged with requests for information regarding the project shown in movies.

Mr. Blanchard today volunteered to distribute Klamath "Fact Books" from his booth, and he has a plentiful supply which he will give to those inquiring about Klamath. He is interested.

WRIGHT WILL ACCEPT POSITION

SAYS HE IS GLAD TO ACT ON BUREAU, AND URGES FLEET OF 2,000 AEROPLANES—"CHANCE OF A LIFETIME," HE SAYS

NEW YORK, July 14.—Orville Wright, famous aviator, has notified the federal authorities that he will be glad to act on a naval advisory board, and urges that America should have a fleet of 2,000 aeroplanes. He added: "We have the chance of a life time now to build the greatest fleet of aeroplanes in the world. We can profit by the mistakes of the European countries, and I believe that congress is at fault if they do not take advantage of the situation."

UNSIGNED NOTE SAYS BOMBS IN TWO BUILDINGS

BOSTON LETTER SAYS HOLT WAS GERMAN SPY

Note Sent to Boston Paper Says That Bomb Will Go Off Friday to Kill Governor, and That Police Are Being Followed—Clippings Enclosed Showing German Officers Leaving Germany for America.

United Press Service
BOSTON, July 14.—The Boston Telegram is in receipt of an unsigned note which stated that "two bombs have been placed in the state house and one in the customs house."

"Holt was a German spy. So am I. Three interned ships are going to leave, then the bombs will go off. The governor will be killed. The bombs will explode about Friday, and we are watching the police."

The note included clippings showing German officers leaving on German liners for America.

The police and district attorney have been notified. It is thought to be the work of a crank.

MARSHAL SAYS WE NEED BUILDING

UNITED STATES MARSHAL FRANK T. BERRY ALSO SAYS A BILL WILL BE INTRODUCED TO TRY CASES HERE

The average cost of each bootlegger case that goes to Portland is about $1,500, according to United States Marshal Berry, who is in the city in connection with the bootlegging case brought to this city from Fort Klamath. Another case is being brought from Lakeview, and will be given a hearing here.

"We reported to the officials at Washington last year that this was the cost, and our office is boosting for a federal building for Klamath Falls. Of course the cost of the cases where the accused plead guilty is lessened, but when they are tried in Portland making it necessary for witnesses to appear, they average about $1,500 to the case," said the marshal.

"A law is going to be introduced in the next session of congress making it possible for the trying of these cases here, and this means that you people should have a federal building, and gives you a better chance to secure one."

Berry came in connection with the Connor case from Fort Klamath. It is understood that Connor will plead guilty before U. S. Commissioner J. O. Hamaker. He is also waiting for a man coming from Lakeview, where he was arrested on the same charge. They will be given their hearing as soon as Hamaker arrives, and they were expected this afternoon.
