

Quick Capture of Warsaw, Striking Terror, Believed Plan of the Kaiser

HINDENBURG IS TO BE PLACED IN CHARGE THEN

Believed That This is the Kaiser's Plan and to What He Meant When He Said Recently, "Germany Will Have Won By October"—Thought Will Place Germany in Place to Make Proper Terms—French are Ready According to Officials and are Not Worrying

United Press Service PARIS, July 19.—A quick capture of Warsaw which will drive terror to the hearts of the enemy and a triumphant entry into Harms is believed to be the plan of war of the Kaiser and is what he meant when he said recently, "Germany will have won by October." By so maneuvering, it is believed that such successes will place Germany in a position to make terms with the Allies that will be to her benefit and credit without dishonor.

A high official in the French government here stated today that France is ready and is not worrying. Crowds of people are watching the Warsaw situation closely. It is rumored that the Kaiser has promised to put General Hindenburg in supreme command of the western campaign if Warsaw is captured.

EWAUNAS SHUT OUT MEDFORD

BIGBEE PITCHES WONDERFUL GAME GETTING IN STRIKE-OUTS AND ALLOWING BUT FOUR REAL HITS. CAPT. HOAG AND NELSON STAR AT BAT

Hitting the little old pill just at the right time when hits meant runs and runs were sweet tinklings in the ears of the Klamath delegation, the Ewaunas Box Factory team of this city took the supposed Medford big leaguers into camp to the tune of four to 0, a big round-goose egg at Medford Sunday. The game was clinched in the minds of the Klamathites when it was discovered that the "home boys" of Medford were securing but little financial backing.

Caster proved a hard man to knock all over the lot due largely to the fact that the local players have been working against right hand pitchers during the entire season but nevertheless when a run was needed to sew up the game, the boys came through and clouted the cover off the sphere so hard that they could not see them.

The first inning opened like a German battery fire against the wall of Paris would sound and before the entertainers got settled down the old game was won with two runs safely put away on ice. This is how it happened. Caster walked Messick who went to second on Bowden's sacrifice. Messick didn't stop to whistle at second and raced on to third on the throw from second to first making the sack on a beautiful swan dive slide, safe a mile. That started the ball a-rolling and the Klamathites would have drowned out that Paris attack. Bigbee then came up and received one on the elbow that shot a thrill down the spines of his backers for fear of a bad injury but it did not phase him and he took his base. Captain "Hap" Hoag then stepped up and slammed one and before Medford awoke two tallies were made, Nelson scoring Hoag on a long fly which Hoag beat in.

In the fifth inning after two men were down, "Hap" Jess Willard Nelson and Herbig slipped through two more runs by timely hitting, smashing Caster so hard that inning that they could not see them. Green, third baseman for Medford, made a signed statement following the game that one of the balls passed between him and the base so fast that he did not see it.

After that there was no scoring and Medford got one man around to third. While a trifle wild at first due largely to ill fitting shoes, Bigbee settled down after he had changed and had the "home boys" swinging wildly, the old leaguers finding it impossible to touch him up often enough to make it worth while. Shorty Miles of Rogue river baseball fame for his umpiring abilities from second base, claimed it was pure boneheadedness and bad coaching but it rather appeared to be a habit the boys had of failing to touch up the pellet. Bigbee secured 15 strikeouts, eight in three innings, six of which were in double, one, two three order.

He slammered them down the lane so fast and furious and mixed them up so completely that Medford might have been fighting a flock of aeroplanes.

Greeted by the Medford sport dopists who failed to appear at the park for the game as "cowboys" and "cowmen", the Medford team was shown up so badly that they will have to start all over again. The old bush gag of throwing the ball over first base to the right fielder, causing the runner on first to dash for second, worked like a charm. He discovered his mistake and though vainly trying he was unable to navigate in both directions at the same time and due to Messick's quick return, after a hard run, to Nelson and Nelson's planting the ball safely on the runner, he was out several feet.

Caster pitched a good game but he was unable to hold the locals in the places. He secured nine strikeouts walked one and hit two or three. He showed an inclination to be wild but managed to hold himself through the nine innings. Three errors were chalked up against his team mates assembled about the diamond while the Ewaunas played errorless ball, a question of poor judgment might be placed in the outfield but five hits were given Medford.

Lineups: Ewaunas: Messick, Bowden, Bigbee, Hoag, Nelson, Herbig, Palmer, Mosenbacher, Arnold. Medford: Weckler, Green, Caster, Crawford, Wilson, Coleman, Kasmark, Hill, Autie. Summary: R H E. Ewaunas: 4 6 0. Medford: 0 5 3.

BODY OF MAN ON ALTAR STEPS

EITHER MURDERED OR A SUICIDE, BODY BELIEVED TO BE L. A. MILLER OF LOS ANGELES FOUND IN NUDE CONDITION

United Press Service

LOS ANGELES, July 19.—The body of either a murdered man or a suicide, almost nude, was found yesterday on the Altar steps of St. Augustine's steps at the Catholic church near Palma. A coroner's jury this morning brought in a verdict that he probably died from chloroform but did not decide whether it was a murder or a suicide.

It is believed to be L. A. Miller of Los Angeles. A handkerchief was found stuffed in his mouth. His watch and money were missing and his clothing draped about on the altar railing.

His head was marked as if struck by a blunt instrument and it is believed that he was slain in a corn field nearby after which the body was carried into the church. Laura Machaco, caretaker at the church, found the body.

C. S. MOORE IS ILL IN PORTLAND

TWO SONS, JOHN AND CHARLES LEAVE THIS AFTERNOON BY AUTOMOBILE FOR MEDFORD IN RESPONSE TO TELEGRAM

Charles and John Moore left this afternoon by auto for Medford where they will catch the train for Portland, in response to a telegram from their mother. While no information was given in the message it is believed that their father, Chas. S. Moore, who is under the doctor's care at a hospital in Portland, must have taken a turn for the worse.

C. S. Moore has been in poor health for some time and about three weeks ago, accompanied by Mrs. Moore, he went to Portland to consult specialists. Shortly after his arrival he was operated upon, and letters received up till a few days ago stated that he was getting along nicely. The message received today summoned his sons to Portland at once would indicate that his condition was considered serious.

Auto Turns Turtle on Road.

A car driven by Thomas Jacob of this city, taking three passengers to Medford Sunday to see the ball game turned over on the Green Spring Mountain road when the brakes refused to hold. The woman in the party was badly cut and bruised as were the men and were brought back to this city and taken to the hospital for treatment last night. Jacobs was also badly cut about the face and bruised up. The car was badly demolished.

How Austrians Make New Men of Their Soldiers

The Austrians, like the Germans, conserve human life. They repair men wounded in the war, and almost make new men of them, if there is anything to make over. This soldier, who has been given new legs and feet and arms and hands, is an illustration of their wonderful work. He is climbing a ladder to show that he can perform at least some of the feats he was capable of before he had his arms and legs shot off.

LOCAL PRODUCTS AT FAIR OPEN A NEW MARKET HERE

KLAMATH LETTUCE TAKEN FOR CABBAGE

C. N. Ravellin, Chief of the Horticulture Exhibits Describes Samples of Lettuce Sent By Commercial Club As "Simply Phenomenal"—Want More For Gold Medal Exhibition—Beats Anything Shown From Around San Francisco—Opens Possibility for New Klamath Market

(Herald Special Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19.—C. N. Ravellin, chief of the Horticulture exhibits for Oregon describes the four lettuce heads, recently sent for the Klamath exhibit by the Chamber of Commerce, four of them weighing four pounds apiece, as "simply phenomenal" not only as to size but also as to solidity of the heads and excellence of structure. The lettuce was from the truck garden of Fred Nitschelm near Klamath Falls. He is anxious to have more exhibits sent to be entered in the Gold Medal contest which is held later. Many people mistake the lettuce heads for cabbage and their keeping qualities have proven wonderful.

People visiting the exhibition are amazed at the vegetable display from Klamath county which is far better than anything raised near San Francisco. Similar results are expected when the Klamath sweet corn will be put on display as its quality beats anything shown here.

Owing to Klamath's proximity to San Francisco, Klamath county will be in a position to open a splendid market for garden products here, catering to the best class of trade, which demands and is willing to pay for the best vegetables obtainable.

Realizing this, Chief Ravellin is anxious to have fresh vegetables displayed furnished him from Klamath county for display and to be put into competition with other produce in the contents in the Horticultural building where they will attract commission men who visit this building with the express purpose of looking over the exhibits to pick out the best samples of products and note their localities.

FARM PRODUCTS ARE BROUGHT IN

FARMERS OF COUNTY ARE NOW BRINGING IN EXCELLENT SAMPLES OF KLAMATH PRODUCTS FOR DISPLAY

Quite a display of fresh farm products is being gathered at the Commercial Club rooms, 115 Fourth street, through the voluntary contributions of public spirited citizens. In the collection are the following:

A wonderful branch of gooseberries, contributed by G. D. Grissle. The fruit is so thick upon the branches that it would be difficult to find room for more, if one were inclined to add to the quantity born upon them. Mr. Grissle has fifteen bushes like this, which will average over five gallons to the bush at his ranch ten miles out on the valley road.

Thomas McCormick contributes a bunch of fine timothy hay, five feet tall, and having heads of large size, some over seven inches long.

A very large alfalfa plant is displayed from the ranch of N. S. Merrill, of Merrill. The plant makes a fair sized bundle of hay, and some of the branches are five and a half feet tall.

Mr. Merrill also sent in to the Commercial Club a stool of oats over five feet tall, and some excellent red top.

A large bundle of fine timothy and red top, mixed, is shown from the ranch of George Deal, of the Upper Langell Valley, who has 200 acres of this excellent hay crop.

The Commercial Club is very much pleased to have these exhibits on display, and will welcome other products of the soil, giving them prominent positions in the Club rooms, for the inspection of visitors to this section of the state.

K. F. TURNS OUT BIG IN MEDFORD

ESTIMATED THAT NEARLY 300 PEOPLE FROM THIS CITY JOURNEYED ACROSS MOUNTAINS TO BALL GAME

What was one of the largest delegations to ever leave this city for any sort of a celebration journeyed to Medford Sunday to see the ball game between Medford and the Ewauna Box Factory teams, won by the local boys 4 to 0. At one time Sunday 50 machines were counted in Medford and nearly 300 people.

Parties began leaving here Saturday morning and from then until Sunday afternoon a continuous string of automobiles continued to pour into the Rogue river valley city. One driver going over early Sunday morning reported that he passed 12 cars on the road and several times that number had arrived there before.

Greeted with such salutations as "cowboys" and "cowmen" by the anonymous so-called sporting writers on the Medford papers, the ball team and supporters were directed to the Hotel Medford where the place was practically turned over to them. Rates were cut for the accommodation of the guests and this magnificent hotel, almost equalling the White Pelican, was made the headquarters for Klamath people.

The crowd in attendance considering the character of the roads and the distance was astonishing but it seemed to be the psychological moment for a short holiday and a visit to the Rogue river valley, many of the parties making side trips to Crater Lake, Prospect, Ashland and many other points in the valley. The Klamath folk made up fully half the attendance at the ball game and such a demonstration of "pop" and spirit was probably never seen before in that city.

The band was sent over in a special car and added its music and display of "pop" to the celebration. A few cars got into difficulties on the road going over, but one serious accident was reported, that of the Jacobs car.

CARRIED 277 PASSENGERS, 22 BEING AMERICANS

Cunard Liner Orduna, Bound From Liverpool to New York Was Attacked Without Warning By a German Submarine on July 9—Learned Here Today on Arrival of Ship—Was Then Sent 20 Miles From Graveyard of Lusitania—Torpedo Misses Big Ship by Ten Feet

NEW YORK, July 19.—The Cunard liner Orduna, bound from Liverpool to New York with 277 passengers, including 22 Americans, was attacked without warning, it was learned on her arrival here today, by a German submarine on the morning of July 9.

Twenty miles from the graveyard of the Lusitania, off Old Head Kinsale, the Orduna escaped the Lusitania's fate by one-half of a second of time or ten feet of space, the German's torpedo churning the water that distance behind the liner's rudder. Then the Orduna sped away. She was followed by the submarine which rose to the surface, manned a gun on her deck, and shelled the fleeing steamer.

The attack was timed at 10 minutes to 6 o'clock in the morning, when all but a few of the passengers lay sleeping in their berths. Awakened by stewards the passengers dressed hurriedly and went to the upper decks where they put on life belts and took their places in the lifeboats. They heard the screams of the shells and saw the ocean split up columns of water where the shells struck. When the fire grew hot they were ordered for their own protection to the deck below.

For half an hour the Orduna showed her heels to the assailant. Through marine glasses the passengers watched the dark splotch on the water's surface astern. They saw the low-lying German warship coming on with a bone in her teeth, but the Orduna's sight was faster than the pursuit and after seven shots had been fired without effect, the submariners gave up the chase.

A wireless call for help was sent out by the Orduna when the torpedo was seen. She was 37 miles south of Queenstown. The reply, Captain Taylor says in his official report, was that help would be given within an hour. It was four hours before the first British vessel, an armored yacht, the Jemette, appeared.

Protest will be made to the American government by at least one citizen of the United States and possibly others who were aboard. William C. Thompson, counsel to the federal industrial relations commission, who went abroad in his official capacity last March, and was returning to complete his mission by making a report, is the passenger who said today that he would make a vigorous protest to the American government.

"It probably will be several days before I shall make my report on the attack and my protest," Thompson said. "I consider that I am in duty bound to do so. As an American citizen employed in an official capacity by the government to go abroad, I feel that I should bring the government's attention to the attack."
