REPORTS FROM JUDGE FRIGHTFUL

CONDITION SAID TO BE DANGEROUS, DOUBTFUL WHETHER HE WILL REACH NEXT STATION WITHOUT BREAKDOWN

(Special to The Herald)

SPRING CREEK, Aug. 11.—(Wireless. Delayed in transmission)—A party of two young girls of Klamath Falls reached here last night in fine shape, after an exhilarating walk from Chiloquias, according to R. C. Spink of this place. About thirty minutes after their arrival a small cloud of dust was noticed down the road, and there was seen approaching a rather short man, who seemed to be in the last throes of some terrible agony.

He finally managed to drag himself into camp something similar to a broken-down, spavined, short-winded stage horse with one leg over his left shoulder. After medical attention and the use of a scrubbing brush the object of curiosity was discovered to be Police Judge A. L. Leavitt of Klamath Falls, who had left this city in company with his daughters on a hike to Crater Lake, but who arrived here some distance in the rear, and in terrible condition.

"Is there a smoke hereabouts," inquired the Judge, in accents low, as soon as he could speak. Fearing for his welfare he was not allowed the stimulant, but told to wait by Manager Spink until he had further recovered.

"Then I'll never get the smoke," said the Judge, "for I'll never get over this."

He stated he had left without any smoke from the Falls, not wanting to cut his wind down. The next morning he attempted to bribe Spink into hauling him to the next station, or to the foot of the mountains, but Spink refused, feeling that it was his duty not to interfere. He was looking very down-hearted, and begging with tears in his eyes.

The last seen of the party, which had been joined by Spink's daughter, was a cloud of dust in the distance, the Judge being carefully attached to a strong sapling, which was so carried by the young ladies as to assist him over the rougher places and up the grades. It could not be determined for certain, but from the amount of dust, it look as though they might be dragging him.

FISTIC ENCOUNTER CAUSES TROUBLE

MEN ARRANGED FOR FIGHTING, ONE IS FINED, AND WHEN THE TIME COMES FOR PAYMENT HE IS NOT TO BE FOUND

Joe Hughes and a Mr. Whitney were arranged yesterday before Mayor J. B. Mason for fighting, and after hearing the case, Hughes was fined $5 and costs. He was given until 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon to secure his fine, but failed to appear for payment.

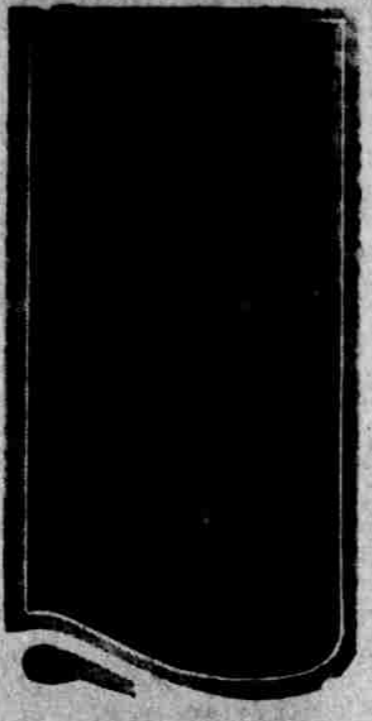

Search was made, and he was not to be found. Monday afternoon Whitney appeared before Justice Gowen and appealed for some measure to make Hughes keep the peace, as he declared that he had threatened his life. They had had one encounter and following this and the failure of Whitney to secure the peace bond from District Attorney Irwin, another encounter followed, Whitney getting the best of both, it is reported.

They were later arrested, and now Hughes is sought for non-payment of his fine.

Man Who Helped Make New Navy

General Benjamin F. Tracy

General Benjamin F. Tracy, one of the organizers of the republican party and secretary of the navy in the cabinet of President Harrison from 1889 to 1893, died at his home in New York city August 6th. He was injured in an automobile accident May 30th, which, it is believed, brought on a stroke of paralysis.

General Tracy was born in 1830. He served through the Civil War, and was breveted a brigadier general. Prior to that he had helped organize the republican party in New York state. He has always been one of its staunchest adherents. He was induced by Senator Platt, boss of New York state, to run for mayor of New York city in 1897, but was defeated.

PINE GROVE PICKUPS

The Civic Club met with Mrs. Sidney McKeanle last Thursday afternoon. A very enjoyable afternoon was spent with needle work, after which refreshments were served to the following present: Mrs. J. S. Mills, Mrs. J. Shepard, Mrs. James Grimes, Mrs. Henry Grimes, Mrs. Lem McKeanle, Mrs. H. M. Miller, Mrs. Sam Miller and Mrs. Sidney McKeanle.

Mrs. S. E. Icenbice has been ill this week.

Miss Emma Murray walked out to Pine Grove last Sunday from town. She enjoyed the "hike" immensely, spending the day with Mr. and Mrs. Mack.

Mrs. Burt Hawkins and family were visitors at the Pine Grove Sunday school last Sunday.

The Pearl Gatherer Sunday school class was organized last Sunday. They will meet at the home of their teacher, Mrs. H. M. Miller, Saturday, August 21st. The officers of the new organization are: President, Dortha Hawkins; secretary, Ethel Mack; treasurer, Clem Icenbice.

The Icenbice boys and the Dixon boys have returned from a camping. They report a very pleasant time and one gallon and a half of huckleberries.

Flice Fight for Turkey

United Press Service

LONDON, Aug. 11.—The allied forces in the Dardanelles are not only fighting Turks but a formidable army of flies. The flies are even worse than the Turks, writes a correspondent from Gallipoli. Food is black with flies the instant it is brought to light, and sleep is almost impossible, due to the constant buzzing attacks of the winged enemy. Jam, which enters largely into the sweets of the army stores, is pounced upon greedily, and it is only by dexterous and long practiced maneuvers that a soldier is able to beat the flies to the eating of it. Midsummer in Gallipoli finds the soldier wearing khaki drill shorts, trousers that end just above the knee. Cigarettes on the peninsula are an absolute luxury, according to the correspondent. The soldiers are willing to pay a heavy price for cigarettes sold by Greek "canteens," just behind the allied lines. The cigarettes are made in Germany, but the troops smoke them just the same.

COCAINE FIEND TROUBLES M. D.

WAS GOING TO COMPEL PHYSICIAN TO GIVE HIM DRUG AND THREATENED TO ROB OFFICE. ARRESTED BUT TURNED LOOSE

A man claiming to have secured cocaine whenever he desired, approached a physician in the city yesterday and demanded some of the drug or a prescription, stating that he could get it right along, but that the drug stores were closed.

The doctor states that he refused either to the man and questioned him, but he would not or could not tell where he had been getting it. The man threatened to break into his office or the office of a dentist nearby to secure the drug.

Later that night while on the street the physician saw the man enter his office, but did not remain long, going to the dentist's office. The police were notified and the man was jailed.

The physician states that the man was under the influence of liquor at the time. He has been here about a week. The law allows a physician to administer to a man to a small degree who is a victim of the drug habit, but not in sufficient quantities to keep him going if he is addicted.

Oregon has no place for drug victims where they may be taken for treatment or cure.

LAWRENCE TAKEN ON ARSON CHARGE

PLAINTIFF IN ANSULT CASE AND LAND CASE IN ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF ARSON BY DEPUTY SHERIFF LLOYD LOW

A. E. Lawrence of Dodd Hollow was arrested yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Lloyd Low at his place in Dodd Hollow, following the issuance of a warrant on complaint of Dorsey Johnson of Dodd Hollow. He was placed under $1,000 bonds by Justice of the Peace Gowen, before whom he was arraigned last night.

HOBO GENTLEMAN BY INSTINCT

REASON FOR HIS ABHORRENCE OF WORK, SAYS PROMINENT SOCIAL WORKER

United Press Service

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11.—"The hobo is a gentleman by instinct. That is why he abhors work."

Miss Emma Ansell, social worker so summed up today the results of her five month's tramp from Chicago to San Francisco to study the tramp.

"The hobo has been much maligned," declared Miss Ansell. "From my experience, I know that most of these so-called itinerant workers are gentlemen—real, kindly and good hearted men."

Miss Ansell while hiking through Kansas visited a camp of 150 hobos and was elected queen.

OREGON MULES GO TO FRENCH

DRIVE OF TWO HUNDRED ANIMALS PURCHASED FOR $25,000 CAME FROM BLY AND LAKEVIEW

United Press Service

REDDING, Aug. 11.—Two hundred mules for the French government arrived in Anderson recently and have been shipped to San Francisco. They were purchased by a government agent near Lakeview and Bly, Ore., and were driven across country 600 miles.

The mules average from 1200 to 1500 pounds, and are from four to six years of age. The purchase price for the band in Oregon was close to $25,000. Payment was made in cash.

There is sharp competition in Oregon for horses and mules. The purchaser of this band was offered $10,000 for his bargain the next day after it was closed, but he declined.

World's End Coming Again

United Press Service

DALLAS, Tex., Aug. 11.—"Brother Scott," of the colored apostolic faith, or "holy rollers," solemnly avers the world is about to end.

"Belovogga," he told his congregation, "de kingdom am near at hand. Ah has seen a vision, and Ah know. Last month Ah seen dem carrion crows goin' in great numbers to de destruction of kingdoms just as de Good Book prophesied. An' what was dem carrion crows gwine? De was gwine to Mexico, dat's what de was gwine to Mexico? To eat de kingdom dat's what fo'."

"An' dat ain't all, beloveds. Dem Germans is killin' ever'body over yonder, and pretty soon dey's gwine to over heah and you'll be dead, dat's what you will. You all see de kingdom comin'!"

Will Take Pictures

C. R. Miller, local photographer, expects to leave soon for a trip near Prospect, Mill Valley and other points, to secure views of that section.
