

ITALIAN ROYALS ASSIST SOLDIERS

BORN IN ROME IN CONTRAST WITH BEHAVIOR OF ROYALTY IN OTHER CAPITALS, WHERE THEY ARE GUARDED CLOSELY

By ALBON BORN (United Press Staff Correspondent)

ROME, Aug. 21.—Democratic and friendly, the royal house of Italy mingles with the mothers and wives and sisters and sweethearts of the men fighting at the front, in marked contrast to the situation at other war capitals, where royalty goes about guarded by bristling weapons.

The scene at the Red Cross fair the other day could scarcely be repeated in any other monarchy in the world. The 11-year-old crown prince, dressed in a boy scout suit, stood in a booth in the garden of the Quirinal, selling his photographs for charity, while crowds of women pressed about him, exclaiming: "Isn't he handsome?" "Such a darling little fellow." The little fellow, with a bright smile on his lips and a frank look in his big brown eyes, was replying to questions put to him by admiring women in a most democratic manner. And while he talked and sold his photographs, murmurs were stirring other sentiments in the gardens of the royal palace.

"Why does the king take such chances at the front?" ran the comment. "It would be a crime to burden such a child with the responsibility of a kingdom at such a time." In other parts of the garden the beautiful Queen Helen and Princess Jelanda were selling chances for the Red Cross lottery. A small red cross was the only requirement for entrance into the royal garden. And awaiting a few guards who quietly told the visitors not to step to look back at the crown prince, there were few precautions taken to safeguard Italy's royal family.

Pastor Returns Tonight
Rev. E. C. Richards of the Methodist church of this city, returns tonight from a trip to the lake in California, and will hold his regular services tomorrow, both morning and evening, at the church. Mrs. Richards will remain for some time visiting in California. Rev. Richards states that both fairs are fine, but that the San Diego fair is not as large as the San Francisco fair.

Leonard Goes to City
Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Leonard and Billie leave in the morning for San Francisco to see the fair. They will return about September 10th.

DIAMOND DUST

Tomorrow afternoon at Modoc Park will be staged Yreka's return game with the Ewansas. This game, it is conceded by the fans, will be the swiftest and hardest fought game ever played on the local diamond. As both teams claim championships for Southern Oregon and Northern California, the encounter tomorrow will practically decide the honors for both championships. So be at the grounds by 2:30 and do your duty, Mr. Sport Fan.

It is said that the Yreka team will be accompanied by a strong aggregation of rooters, etc. They will have to get in and travel if they outdo us. Many are under the impression that the Boxers will be defeated tomorrow. If crookedness be permitted to exist, we will. With squareness we are sure of victory.

Moving Pictures

A big mixed program is the bill for the Star theater for tonight only. The two part Biograph drama, "Aurora Floyd" heads the list. One of the interesting Paramount travel series will also be shown today, and an Edison comedy and a Selig wild animal picture completes today's program, which will be shown today only.

Indian Supervisor Passes Through

Were Married Today
Mr. John Cox and Mrs. Mary Cox were married today by Justice of the Peace Gowen. Both are from Olney, and will make their home there.

Will Meet Husband at Fair
Mrs. Ed Vannice left this morning for San Francisco, where she will meet Mr. Vannice and they will see the fair on his return from New York, where he has been purchasing goods for the Golden Rule store. They will visit the fair together before returning here.

Subscription for Ball Players
Owing to the fact that the Klamath Falls baseball team was able to pay off its debts of last year only from the receipts of the season this year, with the result that Lyle Bigbee, premier pitcher, and Dick Nelson, first sacker, are out money on the summer here for board to play ball for that team, and loss of time in securing work, a subscription list is to be circulated among the baseball fans of the city to reimburse them the money that they are out of pocket. The addition of Bigbee and Nelson made it possible for the Klamath team to win its games, and since they have lead the Ewansas in batting. Bigbee has proved to be the only man able to win his games against opposing teams of the best repute ever secured here.

TUESDAY SET FOR ROAD OPENING

COMMERCIAL CLUB PLANS TO HOLD FORMAL ROAD DAY OPENING ON KLAMATH'S ASPHALT WAY NEXT TUESDAY

Plans are being made by the Commercial Club by Secretary Fleet for the formal opening of the new road, completed today, between this city and the Fort Klamath country on next Tuesday. It is planned to get as many automobilists to make a party as possible, take a lunch, and journey over the new road.

A number of the city and county officers will be asked to make the trip and make short speeches on the importance of the event to this city and the county in general.

The county court made an inspection trip over the road today for final acceptance, and it is expected that today will see the last work on the road.

Superintendent Chapman has announced that the road will be thrown open Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. It is necessary to move the camp and dredger from its present location before traffic can pass.

RUEF PARDONED FROM SAN QUENTIN

BOARD OF DIRECTORS VOTE UNANIMOUSLY FOR PARDON, AND HE HAS AGREED TO EXILE HIMSELF FOR THREE MONTHS

United Press Service
SAN QUENTIN, Aug. 21.—The state board of prison directors voted unanimously this morning for the parole of Abe Ruef, noted San Francisco grafter, convicted about six years ago. Ruef has agreed to exile himself in Mendocino county for three months before returning to San Francisco.

He leaves the prison tomorrow after serving four years and six months of a fourteen years sentence. On request of the board, Ruef suggested that he exile himself for three months saying, "By my absence I wish to avoid all ground for ever suggesting that I may be interested in politics in anyway whatever."

Does It Pay?

In this modern age there is no need of the woman developing into the Household Drudge of a century ago.

Machinery and modern business methods have lightened the burdens and produced efficiency for the man, and the same is true with respect to the disagreeable portion of household, if the woman is wise enough to follow the example of her husband.

Our Bread is made from the best flour, baked in a SPOTLESSLY CLEAN bakery, hence it is a perfect product.

Try a loaf today, and you will never fret over home baking again.

Open Mondays from 9 a. m. to 7 p. m.

Comparative Losses of Seven Nations in the European War

The losses of Europe in the war up to May 21, as compiled by the French ministry of war, are as follows:
Total killed, wounded and taken prisoners:
France, 1,300,000; England, 471,000; Belgium, 113,000; Russia, 3,780,000; Germany, 4,000,000; Austria, 4,385,000; Turkey, 349,000.
The total of killed, wounded and prisoners taken for the seven countries is 14,395,000.

This table was prepared for publication early in June, but was withheld because the French authorities feared the enormity of the figures might have a bad moral effect on the people. The computations, while probably not exact, may be considered the most complete record of losses so far put together. The losses of Serbia are not available, but as that country has suffered from plague in addition to war, they must be large.

The largest total loss is charged to Austro-Hungary, the largest proportionate loss to Belgium. Enough persons have been killed to populate a country like Sweden.

Since May 21 there have been many violent battles to swell the totals given—the French offensive north of Arras, where 15,000 are said to have been slain, the Austro-Italian engagements, the great battle in Galicia and the German offensive in the Argonne.

The most astonishing feature is the ratio of killed to wounded. In previous modern wars the number of the wounded has been to the number of dead as four or five to one. Here the two categories are much more nearly equal. Many of the wounded have joined their regiments, but many are crippled for life. The sick, who have been numerous in all the armies, are not listed here.

MOTHER SICK STOPS ARREST

SHERIFF LOW GOES AFTER MAN BUT SERIOUS ILLNESS OF HIS MOTHER PREVENTS BRINGING HIM IN ON ARMAULT CHARGE

Sheriff C. C. Low made a trip to Bonanza yesterday to get Philip Oden on an assault and battery charge preferred by W. E. Lemon, but found that Oden's mother is in such a serious condition that he did not have the heart to bring the man back.

It seems that Lemon and Oden had some trouble, and Oden struck Lemon in the face with his fist, knocking out a goodly portion of his front teeth. Low found Oden's mother to be in a serious condition, and not expected to live, and so permitted him to remain at her bedside. The charge will be taken up later on the outcome of Mrs. Oden's illness.
