SHERIFF'S OFFICE SUFFERS DELUGE

CLOSING DAYS OF LENIENCY ON TAXES WITHOUT BEING SUBJECT TO 10 PER CENT INTEREST, RUSHES OFFICE

Sheriff Low's office has been today the busiest place in the city. More money has been taken in so far than for some time past, and the clerks have been so busy that they have not had time to count it.

The reason is that today and tomorrow are the last chances to pay your taxes without their being subject to a 10 per cent rate of interest. The treasury law provides this year for two days up until which your taxes can be paid without their being subject to interest. The first date was early in the spring, and the second is September 1st. If you pay your taxes before tomorrow night, all right, but let them wait over the 1st and 10 per cent interest will be collected. After the 1st of this month, 11 per cent is the rate.

WALES STRIKE SITUATION IS GROWING WORSE

BRITISH WORKMEN MAY QUIT IF IT SPREADS

Mass Meeting Being Held and Attacks on Mine Owners Cheered—Walkout on Wednesday Unless Agreement is Reached Before—Arbitration Award is Denounced—Government's Account of Situation More Favorable

United Press Service LONDON, Aug. 30.—It is feared that the Welsh strike will spread to the English mines. This is the first intimation that British workmen may quit. Mass meetings are being held throughout Wales, and the masses of workmen are cheering speeches that attack the mine owners, who are openly accused of profiting from the war without sharing with the workers. The arbitration award was denounced. A majority of the meetings resolved that all shall walk out Wednesday unless an agreement is made meanwhile. Some of the government accounts report the situation in Monmouthshire as more favorable.

CORNER TURNING CAUSES ACCIDENT

TWO AUTOMOBILES COLLIDE AT STREET CORNER WHEN ONE TURNS UNEXPECTEDLY—BELL POLE LAID OUT

An accident took place at Sixth and Main streets Saturday night, when two automobiles collided, as one of the machines was turning around on the corner and the other following it was struck. Little damage was the result, but it might have been more serious.

The danger of automobiles turning on the street corners of Main street was emphasized by the accident. Chief of Police Baldwin is in favor of an ordinance prohibiting it or providing for some sort of a warning to be given by the occupants of a machine turning on the corners.

The natural belief of the driver of a car following another when he starts to turn at a corner is that he is going up the side street, but the first thing he knows the machine has swung around on the turn.

While coming into the city late Saturday night or early Sunday morning, an automobile collided with the bell warning pole at the intersection of Sixth street and the Southern Pacific railroad tracks with the result that the pole was laid out on the ground. The pole is of heavy weight, and supposed to stand a few minor knocks, but a battering ram jolt knocked it out. The police state that the parties are known.

PIONEER DIES RIDING IN AUTO

MARTIN D. HOPKINS, OREGON PIONEER, DIED THIS MORNING AT LAKEVIEW FROM HEART FAILURE—WAS 76 YEARS OLD

Word was received in Klamath Falls this morning of the death at Lakeview of Martin D. Hopkins. Mr. Hopkins' death was due to heart failure, and was instantaneous, occurring while he was riding in an automobile with his son and daughter-in-law.

Mr. Hopkins was 76 years of age, being born at Erie, Pa., in 1839. While in his early boyhood his parents removed to Cleveland, Ohio, where he attended school, and at the age of 16 crossed the plains to Oregon in a government train, settling at Roseburg, Oregon, where, on October 23, 1866, he was married to Sarah E. Miller. With his family he removed to Lakeview, Oregon, in 1871, and has been a continuous resident of Lake county since that date.

Mr. Hopkins is survived by his widow, who now resides at Santa Barbara, Calif., two children, Mrs. Herbert D. Gale of Klamath Falls and Lyman L. Hopkins of Lakeview, and two grandchildren, Austin and Beatrice Gale of Klamath Falls.

The funeral services will be held at Lakeview Tuesday, August 31, 1915, at 2 o'clock p. m., presumably under the auspices of the Odd Fellows, of which order Mr. Hopkins was a member and officer for many years.

Mr. and Mrs. Gale and children of this city will leave for Lakeview tonight to attend the funeral.

REIDY FEELS HE IS CLEARED NOW

WOMAN CONFESSES TO LIE EXOPERATING SUPPOSED FEDERAL OFFICER IN FAMOUS $40,000 "CLAIRVOYANT RING" CASE

P. M. Reidy, formerly of this city, who was arrested and returned from Pennsylvania to Los Angeles as being connected with a supposed scheme to rob Mrs. Mary T. Beles of Long Beach of $40,000, feels that he is cleared of the charge upon new developments in the case.

Reidy explains that he loaned the money to Mrs. Beles on a piece of property, which had a mortgage on it at the time. Sol Alexander, said to have been a federal officer, and sworn to by Mrs. Beles once, but now retracted, appeared before Mrs. Beles, demanding money on another claim. The woman became alarmed, and reported that she was being swindled out of the money.

Reidy states in a letter recently received here that Alexander had appeared in his office one day with a request to write out a receipt for him. He had never seen Alexander before, he states, and did it because the old man stated he was a poor penman.

Later the receipt in Reidy's handwriting, the loan of the money and the securing of it by Alexander was believed by the police to be a scheme to loan her the money and then get it back, says Reidy.

They were arrested, and Reidy put up the money for both bonds, Alexander having nothing. Now Mrs. Beles has signed an affidavit stating that she swore falsely that Alexander had represented himself as a federal officer, and on which charge he is being tried, one jury already having disagreed on the case. This case is expected to be dismissed now, Mrs. Beles stating that she was cajoled into it by the chief of police at Long Beach.

Passengers Saved From Arabic

Stella Carol, one of the Arabic's passengers who was saved, is a young English prima donna who was on her way to New York to make her American debut. She was to appear under the management of Hugo Goerlitz, who first brought Paderewski and Kubelik to this country. Miss Carol is said to possess a remarkable soprano voice. She sings the arias of Tetrazzini and Melba with ease, her voice having a range of three octaves. She has sung before Queen Mary by command, and Caruso has predicted a brilliant future for her. Kenneth S. Douglas, another passenger on the Arabic, is well known to New York theater goers through his acting all last season of the role of Sam Thornhill in "A Pair of Silk Stockings" in the Little theater of New York. Although this was Mr. Douglas' first appearance here, he scored so emphatically that Grace George engaged him as her leading man for the coming season. He was on his way here to begin rehearsals. While Mr. Douglas is comparatively new to American audiences, he has been a popular comedian in London for more than twenty-five years. John Nolan, Christopher McTawney and John Olshewski, whose names appear in the list of saved, make up a vaudeville team known as the Flying Martins. The three are aerial performers, and are said to do the fastest aerial work in vaudeville. Recently they have been appearing in the English halls. Mrs. C. T. Phillips of Trenton, N. J., was on the way over with her four children. She cabled her husband she would take the liner.

Klamath County Booth in Need of Many Exhibits

ABLE MAN IS HANDICAPPED BY FEW OR NO EXHIBITS—WE ARE LOSING GREAT OPPORTUNITY, SAYS BRADNACK IN MERRILL TIMES

Commissioner G. E. Bradnack of Dorris, who has just returned from the exposition, says in an interview that Klamath county is losing an opportunity to secure results that would benefit every man and every business in Klamath county. In an interview with Mr. Sinnott, who is in charge of the exhibit and is doing everything he can with the limited means at his disposal, and who told him the needs, he promised to place these matters before our people and secure action that would bring results. Mr. Bradnack was there on "Benson Day," when thousands of Oregonians were there to meet Governor Withycombe and Mr. Benson, as well as other notables, who were in the receiving line in the Oregon parlors. The rest room in the Oregon building is a large room, occupying half of the end of the building, and is beautifully furnished with everything needed to interest and entertain visitors who meet and want to learn about Oregon and its resources. A door leading from this room enters the Klamath county room, that occupies the other half of the end of the building, each room having a door leading from the main part of the building, where all exhibits are made in booths in the open. Hanging on the front wall of this room in the open side of the building are the deer heads that were sent as part of the exhibit. At a little table under these heads and in front of this wall, is Mr. Sinnott, with a little literature and one solitary big beet, trying to attract the attention of people and to interest them and TELL them what we have, and not SHOW them. How ridiculous this all is to do so little, and handicap the work of a man, instead of helping him. If we could move our Merrill fair exhibit of last year bodily and put it in this room and take people in from the rest room and the open building, what an opportunity we would have to entertain and show them in our room, instead of the open aisles, where everyone is crowding in. Our walls should be covered with sheaves of grain and grasses; our show cases should be a fine exhibit of Indian baskets and other works; the bins should be filled with the grains and vegetables that we grow; photographs should show the stock, and give statistics that would interest, placards should give information that people want; glass cases should show live

GERMAN OFFICIAL SAYS TROUBLE SETTLED SOON

ARABIC REPORT IS LOOKED FOR AT ANY TIME

United Press Correspondent Claims that Leading German Statesman Believes that all Differences Between United States and the Fatherland Will Soon Be Settled—Believed That Gerard Has Cabled Progress

CARL W. ACKERMAN (Staff Correspondent United Press)

BERLIN, Aug. 30.—Von Tirpitz believes that the differences between the United States and Germany should be settled immediately. I have learned that Germany hopes the United States will consider the informal discussion sufficient until a report is secured from the submarine commanders. The question of disavowing the sinking of the Arabic must rest largely on that report.

United Press Service

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 30.—The Arabic report is expected at any time now, states Secretary Tumulty. It is believed that another cable has been received from Ambassador Gerard, which contained an account of Germany's progress in getting news from the commanders of submarines.

SQUAW LIQUOR SUPPLY CLOSED

ARREST OF BILL PUGH, SQUAWMAN, FOR BOOTLEGGING, BELIEVED TO SHUT DOWN FOUNTAIN OF BOOZE FOR INDIANS

The arrest of Bill Pugh, a local squaw man, who has inhabited the abode of Mrs. Moody on Pine street for the past several years, this morning, and the capture of a half bucket of "suds" it is believed by local police will shut down the source of supply of booze wherewith prominent squaws of the reservation frequently get started on the warpath. Pugh has been arrested once before on the same charge, but was freed for lack of evidence. However, he has been suspected of furnishing liquor to Indians on numerous occasions, and particularly squaws, who come to the city and proceed to get drunk.

Policeman McCarty states that he has the evidence and a witness, and produced a half pail of beer to prove it, which Pugh had secured and which he was seen giving to his wife at their cabin. United States Marshal Berry arrived in the city this morning, and went to the Agency for a bootlegger captured near there. He is expected to return tonight.
