

ANGLIN LOCATED BY THE SHERIFF

LOW DISCOVERS HIDING PLACE OF FORMER LOCAL MAN, BUT PROSECUTION OF CASE IS NOT WANTED.

Through active work ever since the disappearance of Harry Anglin in San Francisco, when he jumped his bail and forfeited his bonds to a San Francisco court, Sheriff C. C. Low knew the whereabouts of Anglin up until a day or two ago, and could have had him arrested by sending a telegram. The parents, however, of the former Mrs. Anglin did not desire the case prosecuted, and though District Attorney Irwin has been ready to proceed, the case has been practically dropped.

Ever since his disappearance Low has been working on the case. He spent money in having pictures and descriptions of Anglin printed and scattered throughout the states where it was thought probable he would go. As a result, a short time ago he received word from a small town in Texas that Anglin was there and had been positively identified as the man wanted. All that was necessary then was to have sent the wire ordering his arrest.

rest, which would have been a matter of but a few minutes.

Through the parents of Mrs. Anglin No. 2, the sheriff and district attorney were unable to prosecute the case.

Anglin was first married to Miss Celcia M. Kearney of Berkeley, Alameda county, by Wm. H. Scudder, November 24, 1904. Divorce proceedings were started in 1908 by Mrs. Anglin No. 1, but for some reason they were dropped. He was later married here while in the employ of the county as construction engineer during the erection of the new court house, when it was discovered that he still had a wife in California.

Shortly after his disappearance from San Francisco a story was floated by his brother that it was believed he had committed suicide, and that his body would be found in the bay.

The local sheriff's office placed no credence in the story, and since then has been working on the case, finally locating the man.

INDIANS DO NOT FIGHT THE FIRES

LIGHTNING HAD EFFECT ON RESERVATION—NEW MILL NEARING COMPLETION, AND TO BE RUNNING THIS FALL

The electrical storm which started a number of fires in this section of the county caused considerable trouble on the reservation also, according to L. M. Bedford, forest supervisor, who was in the city today.

The Indians are very poor aid when it comes to fighting fires, stated Bedford, and unless conditions are favorable, refuse to do it. If the weather is warm or the fire a hot one, little aid can be secured from them.

The $10,000 sawmill being built this side of Kirk, largely for the use of the Indians, is nearing completion, and the machinery will be in shape to saw enough lumber to house it and to build the tramways and other structures needed, said Bedford. A railroad spur will be secured soon. The mill will be for the use of the Indians, they to haul in their own logs, which will be sawed, and a percentage taken for the work. Lumber sawed that is not used by the Indians will be sold and shipped.

The mill will cut about 30,000 feet in eight hours, stated Bedford, and later, if needed, will be increased in efficiency to handle the work.

RACE SUICIDE REMEDY FOUND

WHO WOULD NOT HAVE CHILDREN IF TOYS WERE FURNISHED AND BANK ACCOUNTS STARTED AT BIRTH!

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 1.—Each visitation of the stork in Sacramento means something to the retail merchants of the city nowadays—a chance to bring more joy to every newly blessed home. It used to be that the birth notices appearing daily in the newspapers were considered dead matter excepting to those who were interested. Since then the stork has gained more prestige, and now a shower of presents follows the publication of each birth notice.

The custom of making small but pleasing and often useful presents to the new born was established in Sacramento some months ago by the larger retail merchants. Of late the practice has become quite general, and now every little tot whose advent into the world is recorded in the Sacramento papers is presented with orders for either tiny baby shoes, a rattle, bonnet or something quite as acceptable as an adjunct to the ordinary babe's assortment of pretty things.

Recently a couple of Sacramento's banks have become jealous to vie in doing nice things for the city's new born. In several instances little savings accounts have been started in the name of the babe, and in others penny and nickel banks have been presented to the parents in behalf of the babe, and another sends a novel photo album. There is said to be no fixed agreement among the merchants, but it is conceded that the custom of following the stork in his meanderings with little gifts is fixed in Sacramento, and in time to come will be one of the traditions of the commercial life of the city.

PHILLIES FAILED TO GIVE IN

RED SOX AND PHILLIES TO GET INTO THE HOME STRETCH NECK AND NECK, BELIEVE MOST OF THE SPORT DOPISTS

By GEORGE H. HOLMES (United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Consistent baseball by the Red Sox and the Phillies has come to the rescue of a bewildered fandom, and somewhat clarified the situation in both leagues. The long looked for and much predicted crack of the Phillies under the strain has failed to materialize. About the only crack visible to the nude orb has been that of Gaby Cravath's bat against the ball. The Red Sox have yet to reveal any signs of slipping, and it appears that both clubs are going to slip into the home stretch going strong.

Both Moran of the Phillies and Carigan of the Bostonians have prepared for this stretch spurt, and both are going into it with aces in the hole. Both managers have rested their stars, Alexander and Wood, to the very limit that safety allowed, for the past two weeks, in anticipation of a strong September hike. Apparently both believe implicitly in the McGraw maxim that "youngsters are all right in the early drive, but it takes the red necks and veterans to stand the strain of the September efforts."
