TREE GROWTH PER YEAR MEASURED

FOREST SERVICE FINDS THAT 6,397 BOARD FEET IS GROWTH OF ACRE OF DOUGLASS FIR IN FIVE YEARS

Results published in a recent issue of The Timberman relative to a forest service study of tree growth, show that a certain typical stand of Douglas fir, about 60 years of age, on the western slopes of the Cascade range in Oregon, has produced 6,397 board feet during the last five years.

This is a scientific test, bearing upon a topic about which there has been much speculation. In April, 1916, three sample plots, an acre each in size, were laid out in a 54-year-old stand of Douglas fir second growth. Each individual tree was tagged and numbered, and a record made of its measurements. This spring, five years later, these plots were remeasured by the same methods. Some trees had died, others had stagnated, but the majority showed a growth of at least an inch in diameter and a few as much as two inches. In fact, the average annual growth per acre was found to be 1,279 board feet. This is gross scale, no allowance being made for defects or breakage. It should be understood that this is not an exceptional stand in a favorable location. The conditions as to soil, climate and exposure are all average, and therefore the growth indicated is not in excess of what may be secured on any good quality site on the Cascade foothills.

Klamath Water in Competition
(Herald Special Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6.—Lane county has entered the list with another mineral water—twelve cases of fluid from the Calapooia Springs. There is quite a rivalry on between the sections that want to be known as the Caribad of America. The Ashland Lithia Springs has a large display, the Cascade waters are on tap and White Pelican water from Klamath Falls are disputing at a terrific rate. Ashland's "Siskiyou" water is also in the game.

FORD IS CALLED RACE BENEFACTOR

CALIFORNIA SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION SAYS GREAT AUTOMOBILE MAN DOES MOST FOR HUMAN RACE

United Press Service
SACRAMENTO, Oct. 6.—According to Edward Hyatt, state superintendent of public instruction, Henry Ford is a greater benefactor of the human race than Napoleon or Peter the Great, or any of the other famous men in history. Hyatt said today: "Ford is a greater benefactor, not only by his personal service in freely spending his millions to improve the lives and fortunes of his own laborers, but by the pleasure he has given people by his little car. When you meet a party along the road, with the mother, father, three or four children and grandpa, having a jolly good time after a week's toil, it is sure to be a Ford. If it's a poor old rich man in the tonneau, with a hired chauffeur, and a hardened, wearied cynical face—or if it's a gilded youth who did not work for his money—then it's never a Ford."

MUCH TERRITORY HELD BY TEUTON

FIFTEEN TIMES AS MUCH CONQUERED TERRITORY HELD BY AUSTRO-GERMANS THAN BY THE ALLIED ARMIES

United Press Service
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 6.—A German estimate of the physical results of the first year of European war was received by the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce at Washington in a report from the American Association of Commerce and Trade in Berlin. The report said: "It is of interest at the close of the first year to record the amount of hostile territory occupied by the belligerents. In regard to prisoners taken only German data is available."

"The territory occupied by the allies consists of: In Galicia, 3,061 square miles; in Alsace Lorraine, 496 square miles; a total of 4,557 square miles. This territory is about the size of the state of Connecticut. "The territory occupied by the Central powers consists of: In Belgium, 11,197 square miles; in France, 8,100 square miles; in Russia, 50,100 square miles, a total of 69,497 square miles.

"This territory is about the size of the state of Missouri and about one-third of the German empire."

The estimate fixed the number of prisoners taken by the Central powers at 1,694,869, of which 5,790 are officers, and the number of guns captured at 8,000 field pieces and 3,000 machine guns.

CONVICTS LIKE HONOR SYSTEM

AS HAPPY AS KIDS IN OPEN WITH BUTTER FOR THEIR BREAD AND MILK FOR COFFEE—ACT LIKE MEN

United Press Service
SACRAMENTO, Oct. 6.—"Say, Mr. Stern, I don't know whether we can get need to this—getting up to a table right out in the open, eating with nice new knives and forks, having fresh butter for the bread and milk for the coffee."

These words, coming from a San Quentin convict, now a member of the state's convict road labor crew in northern Mendocino county, and spoken to Charles F. Stern, president of the state highway commission, who was at the convict camp for ten days, give a fringe of human interest to the state's plan and what it means to be a convict.

"It would really do your heart good to see these men as I have seen them—no prison walls in sight, put on their honor, living in God's own country. They are as happy as kids, and they work, too," said Stern. "The way they tore into those trees and rocks that stood dense in the right of way, showed they appreciated being used like men, and I have no doubt they will act like men. They surely have so far."
