Judge and the Victim in Russian Munitions Row

General Nicholas Petroff Ex-War Minister Soukhomlinoff

The loss of Warsaw and Galicia by the Russians, due, all experts insist, to the lack of munitions of war by the Russian armies, has resulted in a scandal which is to be aired at a military trial. In Great Britain the lack of munitions, which has caused the loss of thousands of British soldiers at the front, has had no such result.

General Nicholas Petroff has been appointed president of the superior court to try the high military officials who failed to supply the army. Former Minister of War Soukhomlinoff will be one of the first to be tried by the court. He has been chiefly blamed for the failure to equip the army properly.

TODAY OPENING OF BUYERS' WEEK

FARMERS FROM SURROUNDING SECTIONS WILL GATHER TO TAKE ADVANTAGE OF BARGAINS—DANCE THURSDAY EVE

Today is the first day of buyers' week in Klamath Falls. Fifteen hundred catalogues have been sent out to farmers in surrounding sections to come into Klamath Falls and take advantage of the entertainment and bargains offered.

The Business Men's Association is back of the movement. Practically all the merchants in town have made a reduction in their prices for this week, and farmers can buy merchandise at wholesale prices.

The empty building belonging to H. M. Bristol and the exhibit building has been thrown open for the rest room. The present plan is to hold a banquet and a dance Thursday night, at which speeches will be made, prizes awarded, etc. "Wear your work clothes," is the slogan to the city's guests.

FIFTY-FIVE SIGN FOR EXCURSION

OTHER FORTY-FIVE NAMES REQUIRED TO SECURE ONE WAY FARE MUST BE IN BY FRIDAY OR TRIP IS OFF

All of the hundred names required must be handed to Fred Fleet of the Commercial Club by Friday, or the one-way fare excursion to the exposition will be called off. At present fifty-five names have been handed him and only forty-five more are needed.

The train was supposed to leave the 18th of this month, a week from today. Fleet is anxious that everyone make up their minds at once whether they wish to participate in the excursion, so that arrangements can be made with the Southern Pacific company. Over half of the names are those of Klamath Falls people—the remainder those of farmers and citizens of surrounding towns.

The round trip fare will be $12.25, and stop-over privileges will be granted if desired. The excursionists will be on hand for Klamath Day at the fair, which will be billed if the excursion is assured.

CUDAHY KILLS SELF INSTANTLY WITH REVOLVER

TRANSFER MAN COMMITS SUICIDE THIS MORNING

Act Committed at Harrison & Matt's Second-Hand Store—Was on the Verge of Delirium Tremens—Used .38 Colt Revolver That He Drove From Drawer—Gave No Intimation of Purpose—Was About 35.

William Cudahy of this city committed suicide at Harrison & Matt's second-hand store this morning at 8:15. He shot himself with a Colt's revolver, dying instantly.

The reason for his act is mostly unknown, except that he was in a state of nervousness that bordered on delirium tremens this morning from drunkenness.

Cudahy, a transfer man, walked into the second-hand store, where he fired the shot, at 6 o'clock this morning. It was habitual for him to stop there every morning on his way to feed his horses, to read the paper and get warm. This morning he acted much the same as usual, except that he was very nervous, and said that he had not slept last night.

He walked into the office, where he ate part of Mr. Harrison's breakfast. Then he announced that he was going to sleep.

For half an hour he slept, and then walked out on the street for a few moments. He came back, entering the office again.

Mr. Harrison stepped from the room an instant, and while he was gone he heard a revolver report. When he re-entered, Cudahy was leaning back on the sofa, the bullet hole in his temple, dead.

During Harrison's absence, Cudahy had drawn a Colt's revolver from the drawer where it was kept, and loading, shot himself. He was sitting on the sofa when he fired, and fell back against the wall. Death was instantaneous.

The bullet pierced his head, went through the wall of the office, and lodged in a rafter.

Cudahy was about 35 years of age, and unmarried. He has been in Klamath Falls six years, taking charge of the old Union Transfer company. What few relatives he has, a sister and some half-brothers, live in Marquette, Mich.

Armies Ready for War in Balkans

Positions of Opposing Armies

The stage is set again in the Balkans for another war, the third within five years. It is reported that General Mackensen, who was one of the leaders in the Russian defeat, is in command of a German army now near Belgrade, while the Austrians are farther west, both menacing Serbia. A Bulgarian army confronts the Greeks on their boundary lines. But south the allies are landing forces, and already General Ian Hamilton, the British commander at the Dardanelles, has been to Salonika to make arrangement for caring for many thousand troops. The Russians have some 600,000 soldiers on the Black Sea who may be marched into Bulgaria in a short time. Off the port of Varna is a large Russian squadron ready to blow the city to bits.

TRUCK SMASHES INTO METZ CAR

WARD BUECK TURNS THE WRONG WAY ON CORNER OF FOURTH AND MAIN WITH METZ—ABOUT $75 DAMAGE IS RESULT

Down Main street came the city's auto truck, driven by J. Arnold. Behind him came a Metz belonging to Jake Rueck of Dairy, driven by his son, Ward. At the corner of Fourth street the auto truck started to turn. Rueck cut to the left, instead of to the right, with the Metz, just in time to smash into the truck. The truck escaped damage, but the Metz had the entire front end twisted almost out of resemblance to an automobile hood. It will require about $75 to repair the damage.

A bag full of chickens were tied in sacks on the running boards, and while these birds were badly shaken up, and started to squawk, there were no fatalities.

Phillies' Great Pitcher Fails to Win Game Today

United Press Service BOSTON, Oct. 11.—Philadelphia stock took a big tumble today when Grover Cleveland Alexander failed to win his second game. Manager Pat Moran had based his hopes of the world's championship for the Phillies on the one man, Alexander, and today's game proved that it takes more than one pitcher to make a winning ball team.

Although he allowed six hits, Alexander pitched championship ball, particularly in the sixth inning, when the Red Sox were retired on less than twelve pitched balls. On the other hand, Leonard, for Boston, made a record of only three hits for the entire game.

Speaker made the sensational play for Boston in the fourth, when he swatted out a three-bagger and was safe at home on a fly. Alexander would take no chances in the ninth, and walked him.

Neither side scored in the first or second innings, but the Phillies' stock doubled when they secured a run in the third. In the second Hoblitzel knocked one out to infield, but died on base.

Burns made the first and only tally for Philadelphia in the third. He singled, Alexander was safe on an error, Burns going to second. Bancroft singled, scoring Burns.

The Phillies were unable to score in the ninth. Boston scored one, thus winning the game. Hooper singled, Scott sacrificed, Speaker walked, Lewis singled, scoring Hooper.

LINER MARIPOSA HANGS ON ROCKS

MAY SLIDE OFF AT ANY MINUTE INTO DEEP WATER—BOAT LIGHTS SO THAT PASSENGERS CAN STEP OFF DECK TO BOATS

SEATTLE, Oct. 11.—The liner Mariposa, which went ashore at the Campbell Island, off the British Columbia coast, twenty miles south of Bella Bella, is hanging on the rocks by the bow, and may slide any minute into deep water and become a total loss.

This information was brought by Captain George Lewis, commander of the private yacht Cypress. The liner's crew arrived Saturday.

It is said that half an hour after the Mariposa struck she listed so that the passengers could step directly from the deck into the lifeboats.

BIG CABBAGE IS NEED AT BOOTH

SINNOTT WRITES HE WANTS A CABBAGE THAT WEIGHS 50 POUNDS OR OVER TO EXHIBIT EASTERN OREGON MAMMOTH

Who's got a big cabbage? This is what Fred Fleet of the Commercial Club and Phil Sinnott, Klamath representative at the exposition want to know. Moreover they want anyone who has got an elephantine cabbage head to send it over to Fleet at once, so Fred can send it down.

a cabbage weighing 34 pounds. Beside it Klamath cabbages look like lettuce heads. And Sinnott is undergoing much good-natured banter from other representatives over Klamath's inability to raise cabbages.

"They used to raise some whales of brass makers out Fort Klamath way," writes Sinnott. "Get a big fellow and send it down."

Sinnott is also making plans for Klamath Day. As present he is considering having pictures of Crater Lake printed to distribute, or else give every visitor a sample of Klamath county cheese.

Fred Fleet sent some more vegetables to enrich the Klamath booth this morning, but among them was no monster cabbage.

OREGON BUILDING, P. P. I. E., October 11.—At last the exposition has pulled off the real thing and given the visitors the novelty, the big thrill, for which they have long hoped. Last Thursday evening, shortly after "The Fall of Babylon" tremendous spectacle in which that fabled city was struck by lightning, overrun with soldiers and finally burned to the ground, the earth began to heave and tremble, and almost before they knew just what was happening the thousands of exposition visitors had experienced one of the nicest, cutest little earthquakes recorded by the San Francisco seismographs, and never mentioned in the San Francisco papers. And today those present at the fair on this memorable occasion are still reveling in the glory of the earthquake thrill and writing letters by the dozen, speaking of the special honor thrust upon them.

Many men have been considered great enough to be awarded plaques, and others have had their "statoots" placed in the Hall of Fame, but only for the crowd here last Thursday night has any great exposition ever staged anything so awe-inspiring, so perfectly rehearsed, so ultra ultra.

And how the Oregonians here did enjoy it! Everybody at the Oregon building likes thrills, thrills of any kind, and they don't care how they are served. The girls came along while some of the inmates were about to retire to their downy couches, while others were gathered about the big grates in the reception room.

Some were down in the city, and three or four of the Oregon family live at Lewiston, Idaho. Each one of them got big thrills, and they are still talking about the thrill that they never
