P. E. O. SORORITY HOLDS CONCLAVE

ORGANIZATION OF 25,000 WOMEN WILL CONVENE AT EXPOSITION—PLAN TO LEND MONEY TO EDUCATE GIRLS

(Herald Special Service) SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19.—The National P. E. O. Sisterhood, one of the largest benevolent organizations in the world, which claims a membership of more than 25,000 in the United States alone, have arranged to hold a convention in San Francisco, October 26th, under the auspices of the Panama-Pacific International exposition.

The association's objects are social and philanthropic, making a specialty of loaning money to girls of good character who desire to go to college, and in other ways helping young, dependent women to make adequate livelihoods.

In addition the P. E. O. has the distinction of being the only secret and fraternal organization in the world that is not an auxiliary of a higher order of men.

The program at the celebration will consist of speeches by prominent women, the presentation of the exposition commemorative bronze plaques and special music.

NAVY PROGRAM TO BE OPPOSED

PACIFICISTS AGAINST DEFENSE PROGRAM—BATTLESHIPS, SUBMARINES AND AIR FLEET PROPOSED BY DANIELS

United Press Service WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 19.—Secretary of Navy Daniels expressed confidence that congress would "substantially approve" the preparedness program for the navy. It is admitted that opposition by the extreme pacifists is probable.

United Press Service Washington—Utility battleships, submarines, aeroplanes and dirigibles were the subject of a separate report made by Daniels to congress, distinct from the national defense program. Garrison announced that the new army program does not necessitate the abandonment of any existing post.

BREVITY MARKS COUNCIL SESSION

CITY FATHERS ADJOURN MEETING BY 9:30, WHILE USUALLY SESSIONS LAST TILL 11—BUT LITTLE BUSINESS TRANSACTED

Last night's council business was distinguished only by its shortness. While ordinarily the city fathers sit in session till 11 o'clock, until the last spectator has got tired and gone home, last night everything was over by 9:30.

The reason for the brief meeting was that there was little business to transact. The first part of the meeting was devoted to allowing bills, giving permits for woodsheds, etc. Matters lived up a little under complaints.

Holes in sidewalks came up first. There are holes everywhere, claimed Councilman Doty, where a "little tot" could fall in and break a leg. Whether property owners could be forced to keep their walks in condition was discussed, and a committee was appointed to investigate the matter.

The old matter of speed limits was up next. Raising the present limit to fifteen miles per hour, and strictly enforcing it, was discussed. Councilman claimed that at present few automobile owners attempted to keep within the ten mile limit, and dashed up Main street at 25 miles per hour.

The matter of proper conduct at the corners—keeping to the right, etc., brought forth a motion for the appointment of a committee to investigate having a pamphlet printed, instructing vehicle owners as to rules of driving.

LUMBERMEN MEET AT EXPOSITION

"FOREST WEEK" IS BEING OBSERVED AT FAIR—AMERICAN SOCIETY OF FORESTERS MET YESTERDAY

(Herald Special Service) SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19.—"Forest Week" is being celebrated at the Panama-Pacific International exposition from October 18 to 23, and several hundred government foresters, together with hundreds of lumber manufacturers and representatives of the great lumber industry, are trying to make the week a feature of the autumn attractions at the fair.

The question of what is being done to conserve the forest resources of California and other Western states were fully explained by members of the United States forestry service at the convention of the American Society of Foresters yesterday. H. S. Graves, chief of the forest service department of the government, will be the principal speaker at the three business sessions of the organization. All phases of the lumbering industry and the conservation of public timber lands will be discussed.

Increasing Interest in Commercial Club Noted

By FRED FLEET

It is most gratifying to the officials of the Klamath Commercial Club to note the increased interest that is being taken in the work of the organization by the general membership. This is not only evidenced by the financial assistance rendered, but by interest and aid in the different matters in which the club is engaged.

It is apparent that the citizens of Klamath Falls are commencing to realize the value of active co-operation and that there is something to being a member of an organization of this nature, beside paying certain dues quarterly or semi-annually.

Some one remarked recently that "a man had as much right to expect to get into heaven because he paid his pew rent as to expect results from a commercial organization because he paid his dues," and there is more truth than fiction in this sentiment.

There is, of course, a certain amount of work that would be done as long as the revenue is received, but it is only a fraction of what can be accomplished if each member is active and accepts his share of the work. Two heads are always better than one, and the more ideas and opinions advanced in regard to the most rapid accomplishment of the results at which we aim the more dividends will be received by the members on the money invested.

The Klamath Commercial Club is not a "booster" organization, in the sense of the word that booster often conveys to the mind (i.e., the exaggeration of resources, distribution of highly colored literature and the inflation of land values for the enrichment of unscrupulous real estate speculators). The Klamath Commercial Club aims by sane, practical, untransfired methods to develop by co-operation the things that are ours.

The following material is here upon which to base operations. We have the largest belt of standing yellow pine on the earth's surface to be developed. We have latent water power many times over to develop this timber and to operate any and all industries that we may be able to secure. We have about 500,000 thousand acres of the richest soil susceptible to irrigation and an unlimited water supply to irrigate it. We have enormous free ranges for live stock of all descriptions and a climate in which the stock diseases and epidemics of other sections are practically unknown. We have scenic attractions that have made Klamath known the world over.

The position of Klamath Falls, midway between San Francisco and Portland, and at the head of the Klamath River (the only water outlet through the Cascades between the Columbia and the Sacramento), with its 300,000 acres of tributary tillable land, is strategically equal to Spokane or many other of the large cities whose populations are expressed in six figures.

Klamath Falls contains a large number of men of sufficient business ability to gather to themselves a very respectable share of this world's goods, despite the drawbacks and retarded development to which the district has been subjected. There is no doubt but that they are capable of doing for themselves and for the country what other groups of enterprising men have done for their communities. These men, following the example of Portland, Astoria, Salem, and other wide-awake cities have recently bought and paid for the best co-operative working organization plan in the country today, and one under which many of the large cities are operating very successfully. The club has now a very respectable membership of 170, and should be supported by 300 memberships. To sum up: Klamath has the dormant resources sufficient to make it one of the most prominent sections in the West. It has the natural position for a great railroad and trading center. It has men with the brains and money necessary to bring about these results, and these men have now organized under the same system by which other communities have put themselves on the map. Now, let's get busy.

Facts of Interest to the Farmer

While field peas make an excellent feed for fattening hogs, they are not popular in Eastern Oregon, largely because the yield is less and the expense of harvesting more than with other crops. But the peas are said by the Eastern Oregon Branch experiment station to be among the most promising of leguminous crops for rotation systems, so that the plan of hogging off the crop to save the expense of harvesting is being tried out. In this way the hogs do their own harvesting.

"Just now there is a demand for sage at unusually good prices," said Professor A. G. Bouquet of the Oregon Agricultural college horticultural department. "Due to lack of importations from Austria and other countries at war, there is an unusual scarcity, and growers having a surplus of the dried product can readily dispose of it to the Portland tea, coffee and spice dealers. One Portland dealer told me that he was paying 15 cents a pound, which is considerably better than the average price. Growers with sage to market can learn further particulars by addressing any of the Portland spice dealers."

Lumber Business Increasing The receipts for timber sales on the national forests in Washington and Oregon during the first quarter of the present fiscal year, show a marked increase. In fact, the receipts for this first quarter are more than half what they were for the entire previous fiscal year.

Oldest Tree Found A forest ranger on the Olympic national forest has reported a Douglas fir tree which is over 1,350 years old. Hitherto the oldest Douglas fir of which there was an accurate record had 740 annual rings. Does anyone know of an older tree of this specie?

COURT MARTIAL U. S. ARMY HELD

LIEUTENANT COLONEL LEWIS GOODIER FACES TRIAL—DEAD AVIATOR WAS TO BE MOST IMPORTANT WITNESS

United Press Service SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19.—Lieutenant Colonel Lewis Goodier, Judge advocate of the Western Department of the United States army, went before a general court martial yesterday at the Presidio.

The charges against Goodier grew out of charges filed some time ago against Captain Arthur S. Cowan, head of the aviation school. These charges were that Cowan had been drawing 35 per cent more pay than he was entitled. Lieutenant Colonel Goodier, it is said, added several specifications to the charges without authorization of superior officers, and it is this that caused the present court martial.

Lieutenant Walter Tallafro, aviator, who was killed by a fall in an aeroplane a few days ago, was to have been one of the principal witnesses in the case.

LATE BULLETINS

Washington—Contracts for building of sixteen submarines and six torpedo boat destroyers have been awarded. Mare Island gets one of the destroyers and Long Beach three submarines. Bremerton gets one submarine.

Los Angeles—Judge Willis granted a week's continuance of the Schmidt trial, on account of the death of the chief counsel for the defense, Attorney Fairall. Another lawyer, either of San Francisco or Los Angeles, whose identity has been kept secret, will take charge.

Washington—Guatemala is verging on a revolution. The state department has confirmed the report of increased activity against President Cabrera.

Salt Lake—Joseph Hillstrom has been re-sentenced by the district court, to die by the firing squad November 19th.

London—Attorney General Carson was absent from the cabinet meeting again. The belief that he had resigned is strengthened. A crisis in the cabinet over the Italian situation is rumored.

Trenton, N. J.—The suffrage issue will be decided today. Mass meetings were held everywhere yesterday, and the women are confident of victory.
