For Dress-Up Week

Wear Fashion's Latest Decree in Overcoat Style

The Klavicle

(By the House of Kuppenheimer)

THERE is a sense of both warmth and easy-comfort about some overcoats, and the Klavicle (made both single-breasted and in the new double-breasted models) is one of them—roomy back and shoulders cut from one piece of cloth. An original Kuppenheimer creation now widely imitated.

The great popularity of the Klavicle is due to the freedom given the arms and shoulders. Nothing to bind or make the muscles ache.

An all-around overcoat that has special advantages for driving your car.

There are generous patch pockets with flaps. The sleeve is finished with a cuff. The collar of velvet or same material as the coat, which is a "button-thro" coat, with broad lapels, and closing with three buttons!

Whatever the style you have in mind, the anatomy of your coat must be right and it will be if the label says "By the House of Kuppenheimer"—the premier overcoat makers of America.

Prices—$20 to $50
