

BRITISH ATTEMPT TO DRIVE GREECE TO JOIN ALLIES

REQUIRE THAT NATION TO EXPLAIN ATTITUDE

Statement That Greece Disarm or Join Allies Not Met—Apparently English Feel Entrance in War on Side of Tustons Not Unlikely—Only Concession Secured is Permission to Use Greek Ports and Roads.

United Press Service LONDON, Oct. 25.—According to an Athens dispatch, the allies have rejected their request that Greece decide whether she will join the allies or the central powers. Apparently the proposed ultimatum, demanding that Greece either demobilize or strike at Bulgaria before November 1st has not been sent.

Greece's attitude in regard to the war is a subject of much conjecture. She has proclaimed herself in a state of "benevolent neutrality" toward the allies, but the above dispatch indicates that the allies have no assurance she will not only refuse to help them, but will enter the war on the side of the Tustons.

England has made tremendous efforts to influence Greece to enter the war on the side of the allies. The island of Cyprus, an English possession that would be of immense value to Greece, was offered as an inducement. At present it looks as if Greece, in the shape of an ultimatum might be employed.

The only concession procured so far is the granting of conveyance through the ports and over the Greek railways of allied troops to Serbia's aid.

Fred Garish, proprietor of the Sugar Bowl on Main street, is a very busy man, doing everything from dipping chocolates to acting as superintendent of the new move across the street, which he has just begun. His new store will be next door to the Star theater, and it is the opinion of those who are familiar with this location that this should prove to be a very satisfactory move.

STRAHORN SAYS WORK FOR ROAD

IN LETTER TO FRED FLEET EXPRESS APPRECIATION FOR INTEREST TAKEN IN RAILWAY PROJECTS BY KLAMATH FOLKS

That Robert Strahorn appreciates the interest Klamath county people take in the new railway projects is shown by a letter written by him to Fred Fleet of the Commercial Club after having read Fleet's article in the Portland Journal on the railway situation.

The letter is as follows:

"Dear Mr. Fleet: I have just read your exhilarating letter of the 20th in the Portland Journal, and wish to congratulate you on its very happy and convincing vein. Also to thank you very much for your interest in our railway project, and if it could be necessary to offer you a word of encouragement to persist in this to the end. "After reading your letter I have concluded that you do not need anything of this sort, and if the balance of your population can be counted upon to the extent of such as yourself, Judge Worden and others who have come to my attention, your part can be considered as good as done. "Hoping to see you all in the very near future, I remain, sincerely yours, "ROBERT STRAHORN"

Sudden Death of Noland Shock to the Community

JUDGE GEORGE NOLAND

Circuit Judge George Noland was stricken with heart failure about 3:15 Sunday afternoon, while driving his auto, and died before he could be brought to the city for medical assistance.

Judge Noland, with Mrs. Noland, Mrs. Don J. Eumwalt and Mrs. Noland's mother, started on a drive toward the Upper Lake shortly after noon, and about three miles out on the Algoma road Mr. Noland became sick and stopped the car. He had just gotten out of the car when he fell over.

Shortly after A. W. Walker of Medford, demonstrator of the Kinsel Kar, happened along, coming to town, and Mr. Noland was placed in his car and taken to the hospital. Judge Noland was dead before the city was reached, and, in fact, had lost consciousness almost immediately after the attack.

Dr. Merryman, who was the family physician, states that Judge Noland was subject to heart trouble, and has had several attacks in the past year. Just before leaving home yesterday afternoon he had a sick spell, from which he apparently recovered. Although urged by the rest of the party not to go out, he insisted on driving the car.

The news of the sudden death came as a shock to the entire community, and the sympathy of everyone is with Mrs. Noland. It was just about four years ago that the family suffered the loss of their only son, who died while at the University of Oregon. Neither the Judge nor Mrs. Noland ever recovered from this loss.

No arrangements have been perfected for the funeral yet, as the date will depend on the arrival of relatives. It is probable that the funeral will be held Wednesday or Thursday and will be conducted by the Masonic Lodge, of which the Judge was an active member. The body will be removed to the Noland home this afternoon.

WANT KUYKENDALL FOR NEXT JUDGE

BAR ASSOCIATION ENDORSES FORMER PROSECUTING ATTORNEY, AND ASKS GOVERNOR TO APPOINT

A special meeting of the Klamath Bar Association was held this afternoon, at which a committee was appointed to draft resolutions on the death of Judge George Noland. The members of the association will attend the funeral, which will probably be held Wednesday.

The circuit court was adjourned Saturday by Judge Noland until 10 o'clock this morning, and under the law, unless court meets by tomorrow, the term will lapse, and court stand adjourned until the opening of next term. As there are a number of important cases on the docket, the attorneys decided to wire the governor, requesting him to fill the vacancy at once.

A poll was taken of the members present, and they were unanimous in endorsing D. V. Kuykendall for the position. Mr. Kuykendall is a member of the firm of Kuykendall & Ferguson, and is a former prosecuting attorney of this district.

Plans for Klamath Day at Exposition Complete

Klamath Day is next Friday, and Phil Sinnott, in connection with the Commercial Club officials, is working day and night to make it one of the most memorable occasions in the history of Klamath county. Something over six hundred people are expected to participate. Today the Commercial Club received a telegram from Glasgow, directing the work at this end of the line.
