By CARL W. ACKERMAN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

BERLIN, Nov. 5.—"Germany will be using meat and butter cards before the end of the winter, and the maximum price will be placed on practically all food necessities to prevent extortion," Mayor von Wermuth declared today.

Tuesday was Berlin's first meatless day, in accordance with the government's new regulation providing two days' abstinence from meats each week. Meat could not be bought elsewhere. Restaurants served vegetables, cheese and egg substitutes. Today, again Germany will be meatless.

Wednesdays and Fridays will be

"fatless days," as butter, lard and other fats will be unobtainable.

The government intends to enforce these rulings strictly, and to this end has already sentenced two packers for violations. Germany is developing a socialistic state.

The government controls supplies of grain and potatoes, as well as the state-owned railways and 60 per cent of the factories. Further, the state provides employment, and fixes food prices.

"There is no question of food shortage at all said Wermuth. 'It is a question of price. Prevailing high prices have been caused by unequal distribution. I am not worried at the prospect of the supply not lasting, because I know what we need, and we have it. But our duty is to see that everyone gets what he needs.'"

Piles of food in the windows indicate that there is no lack. The mayor Tuesday night visited the meat lines to see how the poor obtain their supplies. Long rows of women stood in the procession all night, in order to obtain frozen meats. The throng resembled a bread line along the New York Bowery, though the occupants of this line were paying for their food.

Anxiety over the meat supply was relieved this week by a telegram from the Holland government, permitting the exportation of 3,000,000 tons of pork because of a Dutch over-supply. At present pork is the highest priced and only the most wealthy are buying it. The potato harvest yielded 55,000,000 tons, a sufficient supply for Germany.

On Monday the price of butter will be reduced four cents, under the new government price regulating system.

"Unemployment is not troubling Germany," said Wermuth. "At the outbreak of the war we had 60,000 unemployed. Today we have only 2,000, mostly women. Think of it—2,000 unemployed in the city of Berlin, with 4,000,000 inhabitants. How does that compare with New York?"

It is estimated that 40,000 women have replaced men in positions in Berlin. The city will continue work on the $25,000,000 subway and the $10,000,000 dock improvements this winter.

In both Austria and Germany the prices of foodstuffs have increased rapidly since spring. The German people, economically, however, are better off than the Austrians.

The people believe that as soon as Bulgaria and Turkey are in direct communication with Germany prices will be lower, because these nations are reported to be stocked with foodstuffs.

Aristocracy of Nation Ready for Horse Show

United Press Service
NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—The aristocracy of American society and the thoroughbred of horsemanship were having their gowns finally fitted and their coats finally groomed today in anticipation of the opening tomorrow of the first national horse show at Madison Square Garden in two years.

The "tone" of the show will be decidedly military. In addition to the "military" trend of feminine frocks, frills and furbelows, which will, of course, be the big feature of the show, not excluding the horses themselves, there will be much display of red-white-and-blue conservatively shot with flags of all nations.

One of the biggest "horse" features of the show will be the military class, which will be judged by no less a personage than Major General Leonard Wood, and not even Secretary Garrison can overrule him this time. The war department has co-operated with President Stutesbury of the association and other officials to notably demonstrate the efficiency of Uncle Sam's mounted men. Twenty-six picked cavalrymen will represent the regular army in the riding classes.

It is expected that many of those made suddenly wealthy, as a result of the munitions factories' effect upon the war babies of the stock exchange, will be there, belligerently intent on cannonading their way into society via the riding stock.

Picked milkmen from New York and other states will compete with the army men in a series of riding

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

IF MIXED WITH SULPHUR IT DARKENS SO NATURALLY NOBODY CAN TELL

The old time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's treatment, and folks are again using it to keep their hair good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is very popular, because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive; besides, prevents dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair.

PERPETUAL WINTER

Dearest Public:—
If your transmission is broken, I'll send a car for you if that's the reason you have not been in to see my stock of diamonds.

The topaz is the birth stone for this month.

The topaz is an amber colored stone, and is very hard and brilliant. The golden topaz is the finest, and comes principally from Brazil. Precious topaz is nearly as brilliant as the diamond.

Better put on your fleece-lined things today, as it is going to snow and we are to have perpetual winter; for as long as the snow stays around on the mountains it's going to be cold, and as long as it's cold, the snow will stay on the mountains. So there you are.
