What the War Moves Mean

By J. W. T. MASON
(Written for the United Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—The Greek cabinet crisis probably means that former Premier Venizelos has decided to try to control again the government, and plunge Greece into the war. The allies may, as a matter of fact, plan a coup d'etat and rally the Greek people against the king's policy of neutrality.

If the boldness of such a move succeeds, it would have a lightning effect on the situation, and mean Great Britain's recovery of prestige in the Balkans, lost through diplomatic failures. It has been reported that Germany is exerting pressure on King Constantine to order demobilization. Once issued, such an order would mean that Grecian participation in the conflict would become too remote for practical consideration.

Probably the allies decided on a quick test of strength between Venizelos and the king, if necessary. If this is true, their time is well chosen. The landing of the allies at Salonika stirred Greek sympathies for the allies. Moreover, the difficulties of the Germans in moving on Nish, and the lack of brilliant Bulgarian victories must suggest to the Greeks the probability of victory for their arms if they enter with the allies.

Nevertheless, it is not certain that the king and his policy can be beaten. In two previous conflicts of opinion over neutrality, he won. And, the strongest weapon the king has is the argument that Venizelos is inspired by foreigners. Such an appeal may have its effect. But, if it fails to stir resentment against him, Greece may yet attack the Bulgarians, if not indeed the Austro-Germans.

BANTAM PONIES AT HORSE SHOW

HIGH STEPPING LITTLE ANIMALS
FEATURE OF SOCIETY'S BIG NEW YORK EVENT—SHOW TO CLOSE NOVEMBER 12TH

United Press Service
NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Bantam high-stepping ponies, never before given much consideration among the thoroughbreds of horsemanship, have become so much the fashion that they are, together with the gorgeous gowns of the society women, a big feature of the National Horse Show, which opened at Madison Square Garden here today. A few years ago the ponies were not represented in a single horse show, either in America or abroad.
Another departure from the rules of former horse shows is the admission of professional exhibitors to the novice classes. Professionals heretofore have been excluded. The American and Canadian hackney horse societies have $500 in prizes in gold medals for the best hackneys. The show will end November 12th.

ACTRESS GIVEN UNIQUE GREETING

FAMOUS STAGE FAVORITE OF
EARLY DAYS OF SAN FRANCISCO
HAS DAY AT FAIR DEVOT-ED TO HER

United Press Service
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—A reception unique in the history of San Francisco will be accorded Lotta Crabtree, San Francisco's favorite of the footlights in the early days, on her arrival home today. At 7 p. m. a public reception will be held at the foot of the fountain which she gave to the city, and the city's band, the city's mayor and other of its officials and the city itself, will all be there to pay homage to Lotta just as it did in the early days.
Miss Crabtree arrived this morning from Boston, with a small party of friends, and went at once to the exposition, where a special day in her honor has been arranged. Miss Crabtree long since retired from the stage and settled down in Boston and New York, but the "old timers" of San Francisco still remember when her name was on every lip in the city, and she was the most popular actress in the bay district.

Seattle Man Despondent;
Runs Amuck—Kills Two and Wounds Others—Slays
Wife with Ax.

Seattle, Nov. 6.—George Roberts, aged 45, killed two members of his family, wounded two others, and committed suicide at an early hour yesterday morning. He crushed the skulls of his wife and his son George with an ax as they were lying in their beds. He shot and mortally wounded his blind daughter Ella as she was descending the stairs. Then he killed his daughter Villa, aged 17.
The crazed man then returned to his wife's room, and found her still alive. He fiercely attacked her again with the ax. Then he committed suicide.
His wife and daughter Villa are both dead. The others are dying.
Roberts was ill, unemployed and despondent.
