KLAMATH TIMBER LAND PURCHASED

PORTLAND WOMAN BUYS TWENTY-SEVEN HUNDRED ACRES OF FOREST IN SOUTHEASTERN CORNER OF THE COUNTY

Another evidence of renewed activity in Klamath realty dealings is the sale of 2,700 acres of land in southeastern Klamath county to Myrtle G. Botsard of Portland by Goddard & Co., a Seattle firm.

This stretch of land runs close to the California line, and along the Lake county boundary, being to the north of Rim Rock ranch, owned by Frank Grohs.

GIVES HIS PETS TO SAVE A LIFE

LITTLE FELLOW CHEERFULLY SACRIFICES HIS RABBITS THAT THEIR BLOOD MAY BRING HIS COMRADE FROM SHADOW

Little Frieda Scheisel, who lives in the Mills Addition, was Sunday morning taken to the hospital for treatment of a serious ailment known as hemorrhagic purpura.

Dr. Hamilton, who has this case in hand, informed the Mills school children regarding the little girl's condition, at the same time advising them that it was necessary to have some rabbits from which to procure blood serum in order that her life might be saved.

Responding to this appeal was the proffering of two pet rabbits by Leonard Ford. Immediately after the rabbits had been contributed by young Ford, Dr. Hamilton, with the assistance of Dr. Canby, hastily prepared the serum that was later successfully administered, and today little Frieda is much improved.

Life is the most pleasant thing on earth, and the beauty and goodness of it lies clothed in deeds of a Leonard Ford, deeds which too often go unmentioned.

PHOTOGRAPH OF COUNTY BOOTH AT PRODUCTS SHOW PROVES IT ATTRACTIVE, AND IT IS WELL MENTIONED

In a resume of the Portland Land Show, just closed, the Portland Journal prints a picture of the attractively arranged Klamath county booth there, and gives the Klamath display the following mention:

"Klamath county had an interesting display of grains and grasses, what were conceded to be about the finest onions in the show, and potatoes, as well as fruits and other vegetables.

"Klamath raises chiefly alfalfa and stock, but as it was manifestly impossible to exhibit stock, its display was centered on other things. The exhibit was sent to Portland by the Klamath Falls Commercial Club, but was in charge of Mrs. John Shook and H. G. Turner, both of Portland, but who are thoroughly familiar with the county.

"Klamath is proud of its timber and rejoices in the fact that it contains Crater Lake. It boasts that any thing can be raised there save, perhaps, the tenderest plants which are susceptible to frost."

This morning at 8 o'clock the home of Mr. and Mrs. Shetler on Michigan avenue was chosen for the closing scene in the courtship of Bennet J. Loftsgaard of Pelican Bay and Miss Alice Shetley of this city. Rev. E. C. Richards performed the ceremony after which those present partook of a delightful wedding breakfast.

S. F. Thornton is over from Ashland.

Sol Israel is here from Sacramento.

F. F. Robinson is here from San Francisco.

A. V. Lipp is up from Marysville.

E. Stewart is a business visitor from San Francisco.

Philadelphia Magnate Dead

P. A. B. WIDENER

Peter A. B. Widener, strongest financial power in Philadelphia, a city in which millionaires are common, is dead in his 85th year.

Widener, who began life as a humble butcher, was a member of that street railroad combination made up of Wm. C. Whitney and Thomas F. Ryan of New York and W. L. Elkins, Thomas Dolan and himself of Philadelphia, which controlled the street railway systems in Philadelphia, New York and other cities.

A new contract between the city of Klamath Falls and the California-Oregon Power company for the illumination of the streets is one of the matters scheduled for consideration by the council this winter.

The former contract for street lighting was made with the Moore interests, and expired about five years ago, prior to the purchase of the power plant by the present company.

Arthur Geary, who visited this city this fall, has been reapointed to deliver a series of lectures for the board of education of the city of New York, the lectures to be given weekly during December, January, February and March.

This is an opportunity to put our section before thousands of people. The Southern Pacific may be asked for a copy of the Lava Beds film, and the state fish and game commission for the film showing the pelican colonies.

Statistician C. J. Blanchard of the reclamation service has used the Klamath films in lectures in the government theater at the exposition, and will be glad to use it at every opportunity.

Sweden's imports of raw cotton during the first quarter of 1915 amounted to 129,449,400 pounds, against a total of 16,969,900 pounds in January-March, 1914, and 17,449,400 pounds in the corresponding months of 1913.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Lieutenant Fay, who confessed to a plot to put bombs on outgoing ships laden with munitions for the allies, may implicate other people.

Chief Flynn of the secret service, Prosecutor Knox and Fay conferred today, and a stenographer was called in. They have made no statement.

Other officials say Fay made no voluntary effort to name "higher ups." He offered to plead guilty of conspiracy, but no promise of immunity was given.

WILSON GETTING OUT HIS NOTES FOR A MESSAGE

MANY NEW MATTERS TO BE RECOMMENDED

Preparatory to opening of Congress, President Wilson is now working industriously on his message to be delivered at the sixty-fourth session of congress.

It is expected that the message will deal largely with the question of national defense, and recommend a two-year schedule for strengthening the army and navy, at an expense of about $1,000,000,000, in order to give this country an army and navy second to none.

The president has also intimated that he will urge economic and conservation in national expenditures, sweeping changes in the shipping laws, trade expansion plans, co-operative selling agencies abroad for American exporters, increased taxes on liquor, tobacco and wool, and measures to prevent the dumping of cheap foreign made goods on the American market after the close of the war.

President Wilson's friends are today discussing the possibilities of Brand Whitlock, American minister to Belgium, being Wilson's running mate in the next presidential campaign.

Whitlock is to be thoroughly sounded out. If he is a supporter of Wilson's preparedness plans, his friends believe him the ideal vice presidential nominee.

MATTER OF AGREEMENT FOR STREET LIGHTING TO BE TAKEN UP AT A FUTURE SESSION OF THE CITY COUNCIL

The former contract for street lighting was made with the Moore interests, and expired about five years ago, prior to the purchase of the power plant by the present company.

The terms of the old contract were in effect until last summer, when there was some difference of opinion regarding the work of replacing of burned out or broken lights.

KLAMATH MOVIES TO SHOW IN EAST

UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA AND NEW YORK CITY SCHOOL BOARD ARE ON THE LIST—U. S. MAY ALSO SHOW FILMS

NEW that the exposition is drawing to a close, the question of keeping the Klamath county motion pictures at work telling the world of this region, is being discussed. It seems likely that the East Coast will see the movies this winter.

The films are shown daily in the Oregon building at the exposition, and are attracting much favorable attention. As a result, several requests have been made for special exhibitions of the movies following the fair's close.

Statistcian C. J. Blanchard of the reclamation service has used the Klamath films in lectures in the government theater at the exposition, and will be glad to use it at every opportunity.

Sweden's imports of raw cotton during the first quarter of 1915 amounted to 129,449,400 pounds, against a total of 16,969,900 pounds in January-March, 1914, and 17,449,400 pounds in the corresponding months of 1913.
