

WINDY CITY IS GREATEST HORSE MARKET IN AMERICA

(United Press Correspondence)
 CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—Chicago today is the greatest horse market in the world. More than 100,000 horses have been sold for $13,000,000 through the local market in the last six months. The European war's demand for artillery and cavalry mounts is responsible for this return of King Horse to the throne from which the automobile spilled him.

Demands from Mexico have added not a little to the business in horses here. At first, agents for the European governments were secretive about purchases. Everyone knew horses were being bought, but few persons ever saw the agents. It was while the allies' agents were buying incognito that the record sale of 7,031 horses in one week was made, in November, 1914. Now the agents buy openly. During the week ending November 6, 5,000 horses were sold. In the same period two years ago 829 horses was considered a good number to sell per week. From 3,000 to 4,000 horses sold weekly these days is an average.

The horses bring $120 to $240 a head, $250 being paid for artillery horses. Draft horses sell for from $200 to $300 a head; $300 being paid for horses of between 1,550 to 1,700 pounds. There have been innumerable spy scares at the yards and vigorous measures of protection have been adopted, but there have been no arrests.

Events of the Week in Social Circles

Just a Little Tip for Dad

Now that Thanksgiving, with its many reunions, dinners, etc., is past, a brief brightening in social activities will be noted. This will be only spasmodic, however, as there will soon be a postponement of meetings in several clubs, to allow the members an opportunity to finish their Christmas preparations.

Dinners were the big attraction of the present week. These were ushered in auspiciously Monday night, when 250 Klamath men and women partook of the banquet given at the White Pelican hotel in honor of Robert E. Strahorn, president of the Oregon, California & Eastern railway. This was so enthusiastic and successful that Mr. Strahorn has laid special emphasis on his reception in Klamath Falls when telling Portland people about his Central Oregon trip. Thanksgiving was also the occasion of a number of special dinner parties.

"The Last Dance of the Season" of the White Pelican Amusement Club is scheduled for the night of December 8th, according to invitations being sent out by the young ladies comprising the organization. This affair will be held in Klamath Falls' ideal ballroom, the White Pelican hotel, and as all of the social functions given by the club have proven successful, a big attendance is looked for by all.

Elks and their ladies spent an enjoyable evening at the Elks' Club Wednesday night. Dancing was the chief attraction, and refreshments were served.

Major Charles E. Worden and wife leave in the morning for San Francisco, where they will spend several weeks.

The semi-annual Thanksgiving ball of the Klamath Falls Volunteer Fire department, held at Houston's opera house, was, as usual, a great success, and the attendance was about all the spacious floor could accommodate. Excellent music was furnished, and the firemen proved such efficient floor managers and reception committee members that those who attended Thursday's hop are already looking forward to the St. Patrick's Day ball the department will give.

Miss Eva Hanks was hostess at a most pleasant party last night, given at the home of his parents, Hon. Marion Hanks and wife, at the corner of Eighth and Pine streets, which was attended by Miss Ora Nelson, Miss Atha Watkins, Miss Esther McAndrews, Miss Fernie Hanks, Miss Eva Hanks, Charles Coffey, James Watkins and Rex LaParrie. Cards and other games were enjoyed, and several musical numbers helped to make the evening hours fly quickly by. A dainty luncheon was served by the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Elliott entertained delightfully at cards Tuesday night at their home in Hot Springs Addition. Five hundred was the game of the evening, and at the conclusion of play the guests enjoyed delicious refreshments. The Elliott's guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wood Eberlein, Mr. and Mrs. Merle S. West, Mr. and Mrs. Albrecht Oehler, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip J. Sinnott, Mr. and Mrs. William Mason Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. Plath, Mrs. Floyd M. White, Miss Edna Norris and Duncan B. Campbell.

A birthday party was given in honor of Anna Bagby at the home of her parents on Klamath avenue on Thursday. Many nice presents were received, and those present were: Mr. and Mrs. John Lewis, Nellie Lewis, Lotty and Henrietta Fisher, Mabel Blehn, Rose Elabek, Ed Bagby, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bagby and Miss Anna Bagby.

Mrs. Ida Pink and her two daughters, Harriet and Josephine, left this morning for San Francisco to spend a week at the exposition.

A pleasant little affair will take place this evening at 5 o'clock at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Martin, when Miss Dorthea Martin will entertain some of the younger society set at a dinner party. Those invited to this pleasant little function are the Misses Sola Burnett, Marie Montgomery, Meta Chastain, Lucille Kitchen, Ida Thomas, Josephine Pink, Harriet Pink, Fernie Hoagland and Veva Martin.

Among the Thanksgiving hosts who invited to their board members of their family were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Goeller, who entertained at their home on Pine street Mr. and Mrs. J. Fred Goeller, Mr. and Mrs.

These photographs are for Dad and Gwendolyn. They show the latest thing in millinery direct from Paris. They will be the rage this winter, and Dad might as well begin to think about them. Gwendolyn's got to have the hats, and Dad's got to pay for them. These samples are published early that he may have warning of what will confront him a few weeks hence.

The upper hat is just a dear, Dad. If you get one for Gwendolyn some young fellow might come along to pay her expenses for the rest of her life. Maybe you don't know how it is made, but listen to the words of an authority:

"One of the season's smartest models is shown in this large picture. It is made up of deep purple velvet. The crown is soft and the brim edge shows a two-inch flange. The simple trimming consists of a band of silver braid."

The middle hat is just as dashing as any theatrical star ever wore and ought to fascinate a man with an eye for beauty. Listen again to authority:

"This charming black velvet model shows a most unusual brim outline, which droops low at the right side and turns high at the left side and back. A wing effect of black gaura outlines the brim edge at the back."

Just look at the sweet little thing

way down in the corner. Gwendolyn will make many hearts flutter and all her female friends envious if you get it for her. This is what the expert says about it:

"There is a decided vogue for soft shirred or draped turbans this season. The one pictured here is made up of navy blue velvet, the crown being softly folded into place and forms the single high loop at the left side. An iridescent beaded ornament in the shape of a bird is an added attraction."

Think it over, Dad.
