JUST A PREDICTION

WE BELIEVE in a protective tariff. We believe with Abraham Lincoln that when we send our money to a foreign country for goods we get the goods, but kiss our money goodbye.

When we make the goods, we have both the goods and the money, or words to that effect. And we know that under a protective tariff our workmen are employed, our mills are running, business is good.

Also, we know that when the tariff has been unduly reduced our workmen are without employment, our mills are shut down, business is bad.

We have twice seen this demonstrated. We have twice witnessed the failure of the free trade theory. That is enough for us. If now, when the tariff is again revised upward, times should not improve, we may have some doubt about the correctness of our belief.

We believe that in 1916 a republican president and congress will be elected and the tariff will be again revised, and when that is done, business will boom again, and we are not the seventh son of a seventh son of a prophet, either. — Rochester (Ind.) Republican.

Three Desperate Scrimmages Between Harvard and Yale

The annual football game of Harvard and Yale, which is considered the biggest gridiron event of the year, was a spectacular game, but it proved that the Blue was no match for the Crimson.
