SOCIAL INCOME

SOCIAL income is the benefit enjoyed by property owners and other citizens of a community as a result of social activities and facilities made possible in social groups. The amount of this income depends altogether on the number, character and activities of the social organizations in the community. The community that is without social facilities gives to its citizens no "social income," and life in the community lacks some of the important elements that make the place a desirable one in which to live and work.

Co-operation in some form is always necessary in order to give a community the means or providing social incomes for its citizens, and where there is no co-operation there is likely to be social bankruptcy. Communities of that sort exist in many sections. They have poor churches, poor schools, poorly attended lodges and neighborhood clubs and circles have ceased to be factors in the life of the people. The places are socially dead.

Find the community in which something is all the time being organized, where something always is doing, and you have discovered a community that gives to its citizens a liberal social income. They are not grumbling all the time because there is nothing to do and nowhere to go. They do not long for the bright lights of the distant city, nor do they seek recreation in other communities. They stay at home and participate in the social activities of those with whom they are acquainted, among whom they work and with whom they co-operate in order to make their community what they want it to be.

If co-operation is necessary to keep alive the social and neighborly spirit, organization is indispensable to promote co-operation. Therefore, every community should have—must have, if it would keep itself socially alive—an organization that shall serve as a medium through which citizens can carry on the work of advancement and regeneration that must be performed from year to year without ceasing. With communities as with men, to live is to die, and only activity will take away the ancient and decrepit, and replace it with life and progress.

STATE INSURANCE COMMISSIONER WELLS believes school directors and principals should be held criminally liable for failure to provide proper fire escapes at school houses. What effect would this have on local conditions?

THESE EUROPEAN nations are somewhat like Kilkenny's cats. Not content with being at war with the rest of Europe, the allies are now reported as disagreeing among themselves.

Stratton Property Changes. Before he ended his life last week, Frederick S. Stratton, former collector of the port of San Francisco, transferred his holdings in Klamath county to his partner, F. H. Page, according to deeds filed yesterday at the clerk's office. This includes his interest in the Page-Stratton building, corner Main and Second street, and considerable acreage property scattered over the county.

Fighter in War Now

Jimmy Britt

Jimmy Britt, once the dandy of the prize ring, the most gorgeously dressed fighter since the days when Jim Mace wore a velvet coat, has gone to war because he loves the Australians. This photograph shows him when he was last in the United States, then doing a monologue in vaudeville. He went to Australian theaters, and there became enamored of the people of that British dependency. He joined a regiment on its way to Gallipoli peninsula, and has probably reached there. He may be sent with his regiment into Serbia.

SADNESS

Dearest Public:— A hussy said I was awful, but it's not so, as her mind needed renovating. 'Tis not my nature to be awful. The turquoise is the birth stone for this month. 'Tis the blue that lies in woman's eyes, and lies and lies and lies. Say, Elsie, I got those new wrist watches, and I want you to dash in and see them while they are all here. French Ivory in sets and single pieces for the most particular. I am about to be taken with another attack of the NO LUCRE. We have DIAMONDS of any size. The real test of true love is for a fat girl to sit on a lean man's lap and keep her mind concentrated from a rail fence. Ticks on the form are a nuisance, but ticks in a watch are essential. No, we don't mend holes torn in the reputation. If you wear a good umbrella and good rubbers you can keep pretty dry, but don't let the police see you. Our prices and goods are right, and dear heart, come over, we will have a fire all tomorrow. You make me weep. SAD McHATTAN.

Conference Seeks to Make Rural Church Forum of the Community

Educators, Agriculturists, Church Workers and Others Assemble in Convention to Work for Better Rural Conditions

(United Press Correspondence) COLUMBUS, Dec. 8.—To make the rural church in America not only the religious, but the social, commercial and agricultural center for the farmer and his wife and children, is the object of a conference here today between Gifford Pinchot, agricultural educator, churchmen, farmers and others meeting with the Federal Council of Churches and the National Commission on Church and Rural Life. President Wilson is expected to address the convention December 10th, the last day, discussing his ideas of rural credits, one of the big questions with which congress is expected to deal this year.

Ohio has been selected as a field for the first intensive rural church reform campaign. A survey by the state shows that 800 of the 5,000 Ohio county churches have been abandoned, one-third are growing, while two-thirds have ceased to grow or are dying. Eighty-three percent of them have a membership of less than 100 each. Only 6 percent have individual half to one-sixth of some minister's time. The plan is to combine the strength of these country churches and establish at the logical points, community churches, which in addition to being houses of worship on Sunday, will be expected to be active in promoting good roads, scientific farming, public health and sanitation, temperance, public recreation, community beautification, better schools, library organization and other things of that sort. It is the belief of the leaders of this movement that the average country minister is underpaid and often needs wider practical experience and training. Among those on the program today were: Dr. Washington Gladden, Columbus; Dr. W. F. Richardson, Kansas City; Professor Edwin L. Earp, Madison, N. J.; Dr. Alva W. Taylor, Columbia, Mo.; Dr. S. K. Mosiman, Bluffton, Ohio; Dr. Ward Platt, Philadelphia; Albert E. Roberts, New York; Miss Jessie Field, New York; President W. O. Thompson, Ohio State University, Columbus; Rev. Hubert C. Herring, Boston, and Rev. R. A. Hutchinson, Pittsburg.

Enemy Words in German Language Too Numerous

By CARL W. ACKERMAN (United Press Staff Correspondent) BERLIN, Oct. 23.—(By mail)—The crusaders against the use of foreign words and languages in Germany are temporarily blocked. Ernest Brues, a Dusseldorf writer, has discovered that there are 100,000 foreign words in the German dictionary, and it is calculated that it would take many years to get them out. The weeding process, which began several months ago, is continued in some parts of Germany every week. Last week a big meeting was held in the town hall of Dusseldorf. At the meeting were members of the General German Language Club and the president of the International Hotel Keeper's Club. All agreed that foreign words should not be used, especially on signs, but the hotel keepers won the point of having the word hotel, which is originally French, remain as a German word on the ground that 40 per cent of the visitors to hotels here are foreigners. Finally the meeting adopted this resolution: "This meeting, which is attended by representatives of commerce and trade for the district of Dusseldorf, considers it its duty to point out that foreign words still appearing on signs, labels, nameplates, etc., should be replaced as far as possible by good German words." The phrase "as far as possible" was put in after Brues informed the meeting of the 100,000 enemies in the German language.

JEWEL CITY IS NOW JUNK PILE

AVENUES NOTED FOR THEIR BEAUTY ARE NOW LITTERED WITH WRECKAGE—DRAYS AND TRUCKS GALORE

United Press Service SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 8.—Where 458,558 pairs of feet trampled through scenes of beauty Saturday, vans, motor trucks, grimy, smoky freight trains and equally grimy workmen today scurried through the wreckage of the Panama-Pacific exposition. Where there was sentiment and beauty last week, there is commercialism and wreckage today. Around the once magnificent courts gardens and palaces there are thousands of packing crates instead of the thousands of admiring spectators. The Tower of Jewels, which since February 10th has been monarch of all it surveyed, today trembled as the dawn of its extinction appeared. Through the various avenues and courts, railroad tracks, hidden for ten months under millions of hurrying feet, bore rumbling freight trains, carrying paraphernalia for the carting away of the exhibits. Uncle Sam has the right of way in the clearance of his exhibits, for the federal displays will be taken at once to the Panama exhibition. They will be in shape for shipping the last of the month. Private exhibitors have until March 1st to remove their displays. The afternoon motor trucks and vans backed up to the state buildings and the disintegration was under way. If you are particular about your fire insurance, see Chilcote. 1-4t Herald want ads get results.

Chamberlain Measure Is to Settle Land Grant Mix

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 8.—Senator Chamberlain has prepared a bill for introduction returning to the United States the unsold lands of the Oregon and California land grant and the payment to the railroad company of $2.50 an acre for the lands returned.

The bill provides for the classification of lands into mineral, timber and agricultural lands under the mineral land laws.

The timber lands are to be disposed of as agricultural after the timber is removed by sale under sealed bids.

The agricultural lands are to be disposed of under the general homestead laws and the payment by entrymen of $2.50 an acre.

The proceeds of the sales of the land is to be distributed to the railroad at the rate of $2.50 an acre, and the balance, 40 per cent to the Oregon school funds, 40 percent to Oregon roads and bridges, and 20 per cent to be returned to the federal treasury.
