KLAMATH FALLS, OREGON THURSDAY, DECEMBER 16, 1916

GET LINED UP

IT IS NOW time that those in Klamath Falls who have not taken out memberships to the Commercial Club should do so.

To be identified with this body and to assist in some branch of the club's activities is a mark of a live wire in this community, and this is a distinction to be sought. The results of the work of the organization for the past year are conceded by all to have been a rich return for the money invested. If this is true and the club has proved beyond a doubt that it merits the support of all, isn't it downright ignorance for the man who is able, to sit by, take all the benefits, and let some one else do his share of the work?

How much faith have you in Klamath Falls and Klamath county? R. E. Strahorn said on his recent visit here that Klamath was the richest county in resources in the state of Oregon. Do you believe this, and do you believe in getting after the development of these resources; or do you believe in the "good old days" of Klamath before the railroad and irrigation; when nothing was raised but a handful of rye hay and nothing was sent out of the county except beef cattle, and when the mail arrived several times each year—if the weather permitted?

Look at a membership from a business standpoint. Suppose you, as a citizen, own a business lot on Main street, valued at $2,000, and a friend should offer you $4,500 for the lot, provided you would build a shed costing $25 dollars upon it, and spend three weeks in cleaning it up. The chances are pretty good that your friend bought something as soon as he made the offer.

If you will make the same investment of time and money in your Commercial Club, you can by practical development methods get just as big results for yourself, in addition to assisting those around you.

Three weeks' work would mean three hours per week for one year, and if the business men of this city would untiedly devote this much of their time, with the unparalleled resources on which they have to base their operations, the results would be something tremendous.

What will you do for your town and county during the coming year?

New British Monitor Shelling German Naval Base at Ostend

This is the first picture ever taken of the new British monitors with their powerful 15-inch guns in action. Very little has been heard of this part of the English navy. Each monitor carries one big 15-inch gun mounted on a turret. The picture was taken off La Panne, Belgium.

Well Known Local Singer Is Again Going on Stage

FAVORITE KLAMATH FALLS SONGSTRESS IS TO AGAIN BECOME AN OPERA STAR—IN HER NEW POSITION, MRS. ZUMWALT WILL TAKE UP ROLE OF GERALDINE FARRAR

Mrs. Don J. Zumwalt, Klamath Falls' popular vocalist, is again to appear on the stage in singing numbers. In her coming appearances she is to take up grand opera; that is, she is to take the part of Geraldine Farrar, and Mrs. Zumwalt's many friends look for her to do herself proud in the dramatic-musical role she will assume.

This new appearance of Mrs. Zumwalt is one of the features of "The Follies," the big musical comedy entertainment local talent is preparing for rendition for the benefit of the Philanthropic Department of the Woman's Library Club. In the big opening feature, "The Strahorn Station," Mrs. Zumwalt appears as Miss Farrar at the close of the latter's grand opera season in Klamath Falls. At the station, the misfortunes of a poor, stranded passenger proves fortunate for the audience, as the opera star sings to help raise a fund for the stranded one.

Mrs. Zumwalt has ably demonstrated her histrionic ability in her work with the Andrews Opera company and in local affairs in which she has taken dramatic parts. Her musical ability is even better known, and the Library

Club deems it very fortunate that she has consented to help make the production for the benefit of the worthy poor a big success.

This will be the first appearance of Mrs. Zumwalt in public since her recent special courses under William Shakespeare and at the Pasmore studio, and the public is looking forward with interest to Tuesday and Wednesday nights, when she will appear with thirty or forty other talented local people in the great "Joy show."

HENLEY SCHOOL NOTES

A gloom was cast over this section Monday afternoon when the death of Mrs. Anna Thomas was announced.

Mrs. Thomas had been ill for several weeks, and her friends were hoping against hope that her life would be spared to them. It is with a keen sense of the poverty of language that this tribute to her memory is written.

She was a loving mother, a good neighbor, a devoted friend to all, especially to the children of this community, who loved her with a love that children only can possess for one who has been ever thoughtful, loving, kind and sympathetic.

Mrs. Thomas' bright face, sparkling eyes and cheery greeting will be sadly missed by every one in this community.

"With a hope that was undimmed, and a faith that knew no faltering, she closed her weary eyes and crossed the bar."

A just and loving Father cannot hold disappointment for such a soul.

In the Christian home of glory There remains a land of rest. There my Savior's gone before me To fulfill my soul's request.

He is sitting up my mansion, Which eternally shall stand For my stay shall not be transient *In that holy happy land.

Pain, nor sickness ne'er shall enter; Grief nor weep my lot shall share; But in that celestial center I a crown of life shall wear.

"On the other side of Jordan, In the sweet fields of Eden, Where the tree of life is blooming There is rest for you."

A parent-teachers' club was organized at the school last Friday afternoon. Mrs. Hawkins was elected president, Mrs. Johnson vice president and Mrs. A. Newton secretary and treasurer. Regular meetings will be held at the school house every two weeks on Friday afternoon at 2:30. First meeting January 6, 1917. We trust that this will prove to be a strong and helpful organization, and a credit to the Henley district and school.

The meeting which was to have been held at the school house Tuesday evening, December 14th, was postponed, owing to the condition of the roads. Notice of the time the meeting will be held will be given later.

The following pupils were neither absent nor tardy during the month ending December 10th: Cecil Caldwell, Ruel Boydston, Mabel Latta and Annie Hasen.
