A WARNING FROM BRITAIN

THOSE AMERICAN statesmen who profess to believe that there is no danger of the dumping of cheap products in this country after the close of the European war would do well to ponder upon a word of warning which has been uttered by the London Morning Post to the people of Great Britain. At a time when the discussion of domestic problems is discouraged by the government, the Post feels impelled to say:
 "Military victory is still far away; but even military victory will not save this nation if it is won by others and not by ourselves, and if it is accompanied by commercial defeat. We understand that those German industries which rely on the export trade are at present time producing, not so much for export, as for dumping after the war. The state is at present subsidizing these German industries for the express purpose of accumulating reserves which will be used for deluging our markets with cheap goods when the war is over. How are we going to meet this menace?
 "This country must have a national protective tariff if it is to survive the fierce commercial conflict which is sure to follow this war. We may be told that even to mention this subject is what is called a 'breach of the party truce.' If it has come to this, that the party truce is to prevent this country from adopting in time a policy necessary to its salvation, then the party truce would be rather a source of peril than of safety. But we prefer to believe that this war has raised the question of imperial union and trade protection out of the realm of party politics and placed it among questions of national urgency, which are to be settled without reference to party."

IT SEEMS that all the battling is not being done in Europe.
 SO AUSTRIA prefers to remain friendly with the United States. She doubtless has trouble enough on her hands right now.
 THE QUESTION IS: Will we have a white Christmas, or will Santa have to use an astro?

Wooden Paving Blocks Praised by Trade Journal

PORTLAND, Dec. 21.—Use of wood blocks as a paving material has received a boost in the 1915 proceedings of the American Society of Civil Engineers, copies of which have been obtained by the West Coast Lumber Manufacturers' Association. Indorsement of wood block paving is given in the proceedings by L. R. Ash of the Kansas City firm of Harrington, Howard & Ash, designing and supervising engineers of the Columbia River interstate bridge, to connect Portland and Vancouver.

Reporting on the paving of a viaduct in Kansas City with wood blocks, Engineer Ash says, in part:
 "The use of wood blocks for paving the roadway portion of the viaduct has proved entirely satisfactory. It was feared that the grade would cause the pavement to be slippery, but the blocks were laid with a lath between each row and the remaining space filled with broken stone.
 "The laying of wood blocks on the viaduct without a sand cushion has been entirely satisfactory, and demonstrates the wisdom of omitting one of the great sources of trouble with pavements of this type. With care in finishing the concrete base the surface can be brought to true crown grade without serious trouble, and when this is done there is no justification whatever for the use of a sand cushion.

 Lumber manufacturers believe that such an opinion from a disinterested engineer of established reputation should have weight in influencing cities to turn to this type of paving, resulting in the use of large quantities of wood blocks.

SAYS WE BECOME CRANKS ON HOT WATER DRINKING

HOPES EVERY MAN AND WOMAN ADOPTS THIS SPLENDID MORNING HABIT

Why is man and woman, half the time, feeling nervous, despondent, worried; some days headachy, dull and unstrung; some days really incapacitated by illness?
 If we all would practice inside bathing, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of thousands of half sick, anaemic looking souls with pasty, muddied complexions, we should see crowds of happy, healthy, rosy-cheeked people everywhere. The reason is that the human system does not rid itself each day of all the waste which it accumulates under our present mode of living. For every ounce of food and drink taken into the system nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out, else it ferments and forms ptomaine-like poisons which are absorbed into the blood.
 Just as necessary as it is to clean the ashes from the furnace each day, before the fire will burn bright and hot, so we must each morning clear the inside organs of the previous day's accumulation of indigestible waste and body toxins. Men and women, whether sick or well, are advised to drink each morning before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of washing out of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the indigestible material, waste, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.
 Millions of people who had their turn at constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, nervous days and sleepless nights have become real cranks about the morning inside bath. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will not cost much at the drug store, but is sufficient to demonstrate to anyone, its cleansing, sweetening and refreshing effect upon the system.—Adv.
