A NEW YEAR RESOLVE
(By Fred Fleet)

I BELIEVE in my town and my country. I call it my town and my county, not because a large share of it is mine, but because my small share of this world's goods are here, because what I will be able to gain will be gained here, because the food that I eat is raised here and because the future that I plan for is laid here. I call it my town because I love it, believe in it and will work for it, because the front rank it will some day hold among American cities, will be in a fractional way due to efforts I have made to put it there.
I believe in my fellow townsmen and countrymen. I want them to succeed in their various pursuits and to become contented. I resolve that during the coming year, I will work harder to build up my home institutions, that I will endeavor to forget petty quibbling and squabbling and that I will strive harder to make my neighbor more prosperous, knowing that thereby I will become prosperous myself. I will take this method of wishing myself a Happy New Year.

Scattered Shots

THE FACT THAT baby week is set for March, and that the story was just released today strikes many as indicating the administration isn't as strong for "preparedness" as it claims to be.

LITTLE 'SIXTEEN seems to be a good provider. Notice the precipitation he brought with him to offset the dryness which is to be prevalent.

THE SKATING was ideal yesterday. The coasting should be equally good today.

FUNNY WHAT a difference a few hours make. Fellows who last night were yelling and cheerfully introducing themselves as the "wisest guys" in Oregon, are today rather doleful, and they inform themselves and friends that they're the biggest d--n fools in the world.

A NEW YEAR resolve: The repair of the Pelican City road.

EVIDENTLY THERE was some of the troublesome old "Bust Head" brand sold last night, judging from the appearance of a few faces.

BUT WHEN WE think that 1916 is the time for the election of a republican president and the resultant return of good times, we all say "Happy New Year" advisedly.

MANY'S THE check, letter, etc., to be spoiled in the next few days because it's so hard to remember "1916."

Novelist Who Dislikes Bald Heads

In a New Jersey court where her husband sued her for divorce and she brought a counter suit, Mrs. Irene Sheffield, author of "The Golden Hollow," told the court the kind of a man she liked.
"My ideal is a man with long, black, wavy hair that I can run my fingers through," she continued. Then she turned to the court and pointing to her husband added, "My husband, you see, has little hair. He looks like a chestnut burr."
Mrs. Sheffield wrote "The Golden Hollow," but her husband believing he was one of the villains of the book, tried to buy up the edition. Now she says he is a brute.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

BY MARGARET MASON
(Written for the United Press)

Stuck in her hair, milady fair
A stunning comb elects to wear:
It gives her such a killing air
That all who see, with envy stare,
Then haste to copy all they dare,
'Til every head a comb doth bear,
Quite a la rooster, I declare.

NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—The new combs are enough to go to anybody's head, so gorgeous and effective are they.
One shop is offering a barbaric model dubbed Mandarin and in the forms of crescents, pagodas and other Oriental symbols they are elaborately carved and set with semi-precious stones in vivid hues. These combs are either tow three or four pronged and fit into the new high coiffure most artistically.

Other striking combs of brilliant set in silverite, a metal which is sworn not to tarnish, set off midnight or ruddy tresses to great advantage. Lucky the maid who has fallen heir to an old Spanish comb for her hair. It's an heirloom to be enthusiastic about, with its spreading fan back of tortoise shell, mellow toned and exquisitely hand carved. The combination of such a comb thrust at an angle into a high rat of dusky hair is irresistible. Then there are the glistening, high backed combs of jet, the exclusive hair adornment of the blond beauty; and in exact contrast, the lovely hand carved ivory combs for her of the ebony tresses. Vieing with the combs, artificial flowers bloom on many a head. Wreaths of tiny rosebuds encircle coquettishly the high knot of curls drawn on top of the head in Victorian manner. A single perfect rose catches the elfish ringlets dangling in front of her rosy ear in another revised antique coiffure and garlands of mixed flora now usurp the temples which erstwhile the Greek, classic or castle, (as you will), hand bound. Chaste chaplets of leaves in natural green or gold or silver are fitting embellishments of the demure, parted in the middle 1850 hair dressing now so much in vogue. The San Francisco fair, with its adjacent Chinatown, undoubtedly gave birth to the penchant for Chinese pins of bone, vermillion tinted of jade green, which bristle like the fretful porcupine out of many of the hard little knots of hair on the napes of the debutantes. They are quite murderous looking as they jut out their long and slender points at all precarious angles. Quite in a class as a killing fashion are they with the jeweled dagger pins Lucille loves to thrust through her mannikin's hair. But then, it is only meet that hair adornments should also be hair raising.

"Baby Week" Is Latest of National Observances

United Press Service
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 1.—1916 is Baby Year. The facts about American babies, the needs of American babies, and America's responsibility to her babies will this year be known as never before, because the first week in March will be "baby week" throughout the country.
More than 400 communities representing every state in the Union are making their plans for baby week, according to the Children's Bureau of the Department of Labor, in order that during those seven days the needs of babies may be so presented that all the parents in those communities may learn a little better how to care for their babies, and all the citizens will realize that they have a special obligation to safeguard conditions surrounding babies. And it is confidently believed by those who are interested in this nation-wide baby week that the remainder of the year will be marked by a strengthening of all community activities for saving babies' lives and giving them a better chance to grow to a healthy maturity.

The baby week idea originated in Chicago not quite two years ago. Then New York had a baby show, and Pittsburgh, and other cities. Such practical benefit has in each case resulted that the General Federation of Women's Clubs has undertaken to promote this nation-wide observance. State health officials and national organizations interested in public health and child welfare have taken up the plan and in various ways are giving it not only their sanction but their active cooperation. The extension divisions of the state health departments have promulgated assistance in interesting and helping baby weeks in rural communities.

The Federal Children's Bureau believes that baby week will give more parents a chance to learn the accepted principles of infant care and will also awaken every American to his responsibility for the deaths of the three hundred thousand babies who, according to the census estimates, die every year before they are twelve months old. Therefore the children's bureau has prepared a special bulletin of practical suggestions for baby week campaigns, adapted to the varying needs of communities of different types. Copies of this bulletin may be had free of charge from the children's bureau at Washington.

DRINK HOT WATER IF YOU DESIRE A ROSY COMPLEXION

Says we can't help but look better and feel better after an inside bath.

To look one's best and feel one's best is to enjoy an inside bath each morning to flush from the system the previous day's waste, sour fermentations and poisonous toxins before it is absorbed into the blood. Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of incombustible material in the form of ashes, so food and drink taken each day leaves in the alimentary organs a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not eliminated, form toxins and poisons which are then sucked into the blood through the very ducts which are intended to suck in only nourishment to sustain the body.
If you want to see the glow of healthy bloom in your cheeks, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, you are told to drink every morning upon arising, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless means of washing the waste material and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.
Men and women with sallow skins, liver spots, pimples or pallid complexion, also those who wake up with a coated tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, others who are bothered with headaches, bilious spells, acid stomach or constipation should begin this phosphate hot water drinking, and are assured of very pronounced results in one or two weeks.
A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses, purifies and freshens the skin on the outside, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the inside organs. We must always consider that internal sanitation is vastly more important than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowels pores do.—Adv.
