KLAMATH FALLS, OREGON SATURDAY, JANUARY 6, 1916

A NEED FOR ACTION

FOR several years, Klamath Falls men have been talking the idea of a federal building for Klamath Falls. For the same length of time, the need of the use of Crater Lake National Park revenues in Crater Lake Park improvement work has been talked of.

Talk is practically all that has been done locally regarding these projects, to date. But these matters are now live issues, as Congressman Sinnott has introduced a bill for the former, and Congressman Hawley one for the latter project in congress. Now is the time for real concerted action.

Every pressure should be brought to bear upon the Oregon congressional delegation to get full support of these measures. Wherever possible, work should be started through the right channels for getting the aid of the lawmakers of other states. And above all, local people should keep active in this matter. These two items affect Klamath Falls and Klamath county more than any place else; therefore, we should take a real active part in the work of seeking to put them through.

TO THE VICTORS

WITH a postal deficit of eleven millions of dollars staring the officials of the postoffice department in the face, the modest Daniel C. Roper, first assistant postmaster general, puts in a provision for a salary increase of $2,200 per annum in the departmental estimate of appropriations for the coming fiscal year.

Inasmuch as Mr. Roper now gets $5,000 a year, this increase will make his place at the public trough worth $7,200 annually, or $200 less than the salary paid a United States senator.

Increases are also asked for the three other assistants. This is a self-awarded premium on official mismanagement.

Scattered Shots

SEEING THE GROUND snowed under reminds some of the democratic party in November.

IF WE COULD just use as much energy at trying to better ourselves as we are prone to use preventing others from doing things we do not approve of, it wouldn't be long until we'd not need aeroplanes to soar around in.

ONE CONSOLATION—there's no lawns to be mowed.

FRANCE SEVERAL years ago considered purchasing several ships for its merchant marine, but upon investigation abandoned the plan as too costly and ineffective. Yet some American "statesmen" still insist that Uncle Sam should purchase such a fleet.

LETTER WRITING WEEK approaches fast. Are you getting your data in shape for sending to friends and acquaintances?

SQUARE THAT BILL you promised to pay "some time" during "Pay-Up-Week."

THE SLED salesman has it all over the man who sells vehicles with "transmissions," "self starters," etc.

THE FELLOW who was too lazy to put his wood in during the good weather had to do a whole lot of extra work prospecting to find his wood pile this morning, all right.

MARVELOUS

Dodge Brothers of Detroit, Mich., manufactured and sold last year thirty-five million dollars worth of motor cars. This is "marvelous" when we consider that while they were noted makers of motor car parts, their first car was put on the market January, 1915.

This wonderful car can be seen at 202 Main street, and "Dad" Shive, agent for Klamath, Lake and Siskiyou counties, will be glad to explain to you its working parts in detail. 5-11

SOCIETY

By PHILEAS

An Attractive Winter Costume

This especially comfortable costume is made of terra cotta chamolix cloth, with clever arrangement of squirrel fur on the bottom, cuffs and collar of the coat.

The Herald, in this department, seeks to reflect the social side of life in Klamath county by chronicling the parties and other events that help to make life more pleasant. As it is impossible for us to know about all of these affairs, the assistance of our readers is asked, and social news, either sent or telephoned to the Herald before 10 o'clock Saturday morning will be gratefully received for publication.

With the hills "just perfectly lovely" for coasting, local society, to swipe a term from the market page, has "hit the toboggan. Oh, not a really honest-to-dod, toboggan, you know, but at any rate, coasters and big bobbeds. The city fathers have given a stimulus to the great winter time sport by stationing a policeman at the corner of Third and Main streets during the evening hours, and with that splendidly graded and paved thoroughfare officially designated as Third street covered with snow, coasters get such a good start and gain so much momentum that they cross Main street at a speed just a little less than fifty miles an hour. On Ninth street, too, there is excellent coasting, and the cheers and yells of the happy throngs are heard every night. With a heavy fall of snow today there is reason to look for sleighing parties next week, with bobbeds laden with hand-holding kiddies, skimming along over favorite roads to this or that ranch house, where a feed and dancing are enjoyed, followed by a joyous return, the strains of popular songs rendered in lusty chorus sounding above the cheerful jingle of the bells encircling the middles of Dobbin and old Becky.

About ninety young people enjoyed a get-together banquet held last night at the Christian church by the members of the young people's societies of the Methodist, Presbyterian and Christian churches. Rev. Chas. T. Hurd, pastor of the Presbyterian church, acted as toast master, and brief addresses were made by J. W. Jenkins, pastor of the Christian church; E. C. Richards, pastor of the Methodist church; George A. Haydon, Vera Houston, Chas. Roberts and Rachel Applegate. An interesting paper contributed by J. G. Camp was read by Miss Carrie Widdoes, and a delightful solo was rendered by Miss Augusta Parker. The tables, placed in the form of a huge letter "U," typified the purpose of the banquet—the initiation of some form of union effort among the young people of the city. Plans were made for a federation of the society represented, which will undertake some adequate work along civic, social and spiritual lines.

Elks and their ladies were much in evidence at the Third street hill Wednesday night, and the lodgemen and their fair guests enjoyed the coasting with as much enthusiasm as did the youngest kid that ever sneaked away from home during chore time. After two hours of sport with the bobbeds, the Elks' party adjourned to the fine new Elks' building, at the corner of Third and Main, and enjoyed coffee and sandwiches. Following the refreshments, dancing rounded out an evening of unalloyed fun.

Members of the Art Needle Work Club were the guests of Mrs. George A. Haydon Wednesday afternoon, when several hours were delightfully spent in needlework and conversation, refreshments being served late in the day by the hostess. Mrs. Dan Ryan of Fort Klamath was in attendance, in addition to the club members, Mrs. R. H. Dunbar, Mrs. Robert E. Wattenburg, Mrs. George A. Haydon, Mrs.

Says Sweden Will Join Germany if Necessary

In a campaign to capture the Russian capital, Petrograd, and then would sweep southward to join the Germans near Riga.

The Norwegians sympathize with England from sentiment and in consequence of trade relations. Moreover, they are mindful of the ruin that England's navy could work on the Norwegian merchant fleet, the largest except England's and Germany's.

Norwegian army men are mostly pro-German by reason of their German training, but the masses are friendly toward England. For political reasons, the Norwegians presumably would be with the Swedes in case of war against Russia, if they were compelled to take sides. The Norwegians could muster 400,000 soldiers, all well equipped.

On the other hand, Denmark does not enter into Scandinavian calculations in the matter of a prospective struggle against Russia. Denmark is frankly and consistently pro-ally. The Danes hate Germany, remembering how they wrested the tiny territory of Schleswig-Holstein from Denmark years since; farther, they fear the rest of their possessions will go the same way, and hence there is no chance of their joining in an alliance that would redound to Germany's advantage.

BEGIN HOT WATER DRINKING IF YOU DON'T FEEL RIGHT

Says glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast washes out poisons.

If you wake up with a bad taste, bad breath and tongue is coated; if your head is dull or aching; if what you eat sours and forms gas and acid in stomach, or you are bilious, constipated, nervous, sallow, and can't get feeling just right, begin inside bathing. Drink before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will flush the poisons and toxins from stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, and cleanse, sweeten and purify the entire alimentary tract. Do your inside bathing immediately upon arising in the morning to wash out of the system all the previous day's poisonous waste, gas and sour bile before putting more food into the stomach.

To feel like young folks feel; like you felt before your blood, nerves and muscles became loaded with body impurities, get from your pharmacist a quarter pound of limestone phosphate which is inexpensive and almost tasteless, except for a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant.

Just as soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and freshening, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Men and women who are usually constipated, bilious, headachy or have any stomach disorder should begin this inside bathing before breakfast. They are assured they will become real cranks on the subject shortly.—Adv.
