

When Is an American Not a Real American?

By ED L. KEENE
United Press Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Jan. 14.—When is an American not an American? That is the hard nut to crack, according to the American embassy in London. Rather, it is a whole bushel of hard nuts to crack. But some of the nuts have been cracked, it was learned today, with the result that scores of "Americans" in England are now without a passport.

The issuance of passports is one of the embassy's most troublesome duties. Numerous Americans who have resided in England for ten, fifteen or twenty years decided after the war began, and more particularly after the Zeppelins put London on their burning list, that they had better inquire into their citizenship. All wanted American passports. Some wanted to go back to America. Others were bound for France or other comparatively Zeppelinless climes. There was the rub.

Passport officials at Uncle Sam's London address struggled with the problem. The applicants, many of them with English accents, so long had been out of touch with the Statue of Liberty, were forced to answer imposing hats of questions, which were forwarded to the state department at Washington.

The department of state, acting on a musty and long unused law, decreed that to be recognized as an American in a foreign country, a person must report to the proper American authorities at various times, duly pay taxes in America if he or she has enough property to be taxed, or make a visit home once in a while. A great many Anglified Americans had failed in this, in whole or in part. They are now persons without a country. A passport is required to go "most anywhere at present. So America's lost citizens are marooned—in England.

There are many well advertised kidney remedies on the market today, but none so well recommended in this vicinity as Doan's Kidney Pills. Read the statement of a resident of Jacksonville.

I had to get up at night on that account. Doan's Kidney Pills soon rid me of all the ailments, and my kidneys have bothered me very little since."

Not a Bite of Breakfast Until You Drink Water

Says a glass of hot water and phosphate prevents illness and keeps us fit.

Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of combustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken day after day leaves in the alimentary canal a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not completely eliminated from the system each day, becomes food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels. From this mass of left-over waste, toxins and ptomain-like poisons are formed and sucked into the blood.

Men and women who can't get feeling right must begin to take inside baths. Before eating breakfast each morning drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash out the thirty feet of bowels the previous day's accumulation of poisons and toxins, and to keep the entire alimentary canal clean, pure and fresh.

Those who are subject to sick headache, colds, biliousness, constipation, others who wake up with bad taste, foul breath, backache, rheumatic stiffness, or have a sour, gassy stomach after meals, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store, and begin practicing internal sanitation. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make
