KLAMATH FALLS, ORDGOV THURSDAY, JANUARY 20, 1916

IT'S BADLY NEEDED

HE cold weather just passed has demonstrated forcibly to Klamath Falls people that the plumbing in a big percentage of houses is not up to standard. Plumbers who have been called in thaw out pipes or repair broken colls have all attested this, after an inspection, and were unable to give assurance in many cases that the pipes would not be frosen just as readily during the next cold spell of weather.

There is only one way to remedy his. The enactment of a plumbing ordinance, providing specifications and regulations for the best class of plumbing installation, and the appointment of a plumbing inspector is the means used in other cities, and should be used here, where every winter we expect cold weather.

Such an inspector should be a man who knew his business, and every job of plumbing should be rigidly inspected by him before the work would be declared up to standard. In case it was not, the man guilty of attempting to put in inferior work should be compelled to tear out the whole job and owners leave them covered with snow. install it properly. The tangible results of operations in rural sanitation indicate that mark-ed advancement in maintaining hydenic and satisfactory surroundings in country districts is possible by the application of the common princ of preventive medicine. Insanitary conditions exist largely because they are not known to be such. Actual demonstrations of their harmfulness together with definite recommenda-tions for their correction, remain one of the most gratifying and successful methods for instituting reforms.
