JACK MARTIN IS A MARRIED MAN

MERRILL MAN IS WEDDED TO

KLAMATH FALLS WOMAN SUNDAY, BUT HONEYMOON HALTED BY THE BLOCKADE

A quiet marriage was solemnized at the home of Dr. C. E. Wheeler at 9 o'clock Sunday morning when John Henry Martin and Pearl Gertrude Wheeler were united in matrimony. Rev. E. C. Richards performed the ceremony.

The news of the marriage was successfully kept a secret. The couple had also intended to leave on the morning train before their friends learned of the nuptials, but after they had their grips all packed, they found there was no train leaving, owing to the blockade between here and Weed.

Mr. Martin is of pioneer stock and is an enterprising business man, being a member of the firm of Martin Bros., operating here and at Merrill. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler of the Altamont ranch, Mr. Wheeler being ranch foreman. She has resided in Klamath Falls several years and has a wide circle of friends.

Here is a chance to help a good boy.

Attending Klamath County High School, scheduled to graduate in June and recommended in the highest terms by members of the faculty, is a young man who by a recent change of circumstances will be forced to give up his school work and lose the honors of graduation he has justly earned, unless he can obtain some means of self support for the remaining four months.

Anyone in position to offer this boy an opportunity to finish the term is requested to notify the Commercial Club or Principal C. R. Bowman at the high school.

SAYS DES MOINES PLAN IS FAILURE

THEREFORE, MEMBER OF THE DES MOINES CITY GOVERNMENT QUILTS—PLAN ATTRACTED WIDESPREAD NOTICE

United Press Service

DES MOINES, Ia., Jan. 24.—The so-called Des Moines plan of city government, one of the first forms of commission government, which attracted much favorable attention the country over when it was adopted seven years ago, is branded a failure by Councilman W. F. Mitchell and a considerable percentage of the citizens. Mitchell was put into office to see if he couldn't reorganize affairs and make the plan successful. His resignation is tendered today, effective this spring. Mitchell says the city manager plan should be adopted by Des Moines. The bonded and floating indebtedness of Des Moines has increased nearly $1,000,000 since the plan was put in force seven years ago. The plan was heralded as one that would eliminate partisan politics from all municipal elections, and place the responsibility for the success or failure of the city government upon the heads of the individual commissioners and generally make for economy and efficiency. Mitchell says politics has not been eliminated and that financially the plan has accomplished no good. Mitchell favors electing councilmen, by districts rather than at large, paying them for one meeting a week. He believes all municipal executive control should be vested in the city manager, together with power to enforce all laws and ordinances and to control all city work. Mr. Mitchell believes this would kill the political phrase he believes has made the old Des Moines plan useless.
