

LAWRENCE MAY BE TRIED IN ANOTHER CITY

ATTORNEY GIVEN TIME TO ASK VENUE CHANGE

Demurrer to indictment is overruled by Judge Kuykendall today, and accused man enters a plea of not guilty to charge of murdering Mrs. Alma Kuehne in battle below Merrill last December.

A change of venue may be asked for by A. Ernest Lawrence, who is under indictment for the killing of Mrs. Alma Kuehne, the woman shot in the battle at Dodds Hollow in December.

Attorney W. H. A. Renner, who has been retained to defend Lawrence, today asked time in which to prepare an application for a change of venue and file necessary affidavits. Fifteen days was the time allowed by Judge Kuykendall.

The move for the change will be based upon the ground that it will be impossible for Lawrence to obtain a fair and impartial trial here. It is the defense's contention that there is prejudice against Lawrence because of his litigation with the Kuehne woman, and because he was on trial here shortly before the shooting in a case growing out of the feud. The case attracted much attention at that time.

The request for time for application for a change was made by Renner after Judge Kuykendall had overruled the demurrer to the indictment of Lawrence. Lawrence then entered a plea of not guilty.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunter, arrested and indicted with Lawrence, are to be tried separately from Lawrence.

King Peter of Serbia Flees From Teutons in Ox Cart

This remarkable photograph shows the straits to which King Peter of Serbia was reduced in his flight from his country when the Germans defeated his army. He had to leave in an ox cart driven by peasants. The forlorn king is shown by the driver's seat, with his sword between his legs. In the lower picture he had stopped the ox team to let army transports have the right of way on a narrow mountain road. He is shown watching the fugitive army supply wagons file past.

Of the approximately 490,000 acres of school land within the national forests of Washington, 233,000 acres have thus far been cruised as a preliminary step in the exchange of these lands for a solid block of national forest land of equal area and equal value. Upon the completion of the cruise of the school lands, it will then be necessary to cruise an equal area of land to give to the state in exchange for the school lands. The cruising work is being done under a co-operative agreement between the federal government and the state of Washington.

Use May at Last be Found for Jackrabbit

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Within a month representative Sinnott of Oregon, expects to be wearing a fine felt hat, made largely of the fur of the Oregon jackrabbits.

Through Representative Edmonds, of Pennsylvania, the consignment of Oregon jackrabbit pelts received by Mr. Sinnott have been turned over to a Philadelphia factory, which manufactures high grade felt hats. With the pelts went Mr. Sinnott's head measurement.

The manufacturer has written Mr. Sinnott acknowledging the furs, saying they will be thoroughly tested and promising him the first hat made from them.

If the Oregon jackrabbit fur proves suitable for hat manufacture, Mr. Sinnott is prepared to put the manufacturer in touch with various of his constituents who will find a market for a product they have heretofore regarded as worthless.

HYPHEN THING OF PAST --- WILSON

TELLS MILWAUKEE PEOPLE ALL WILL BE FOR AMERICA WHEN THERE IS NEED FOR THEIR ASSISTANCE

United Press Service
MILWAUKEE, Feb. 1.—Addressing 9,000 people yesterday afternoon, President Wilson stated that the danger of "hyphenated Americans" is past.

"When the time comes, America will be first in every man's heart," said he.

Wilson reiterated his statements made at Pittsburg, New York and Cleveland that the country must prepare, but he stated that he wanted to remove any apprehension by stating positively that there is no new crisis. "I have come upon this errand because everywhere the world's atmosphere is thrilling with the passion of a disturbance such as the world has never seen before. It is time we should set our house in order." Wilson pledged, with God's help, that he would continue to keep our nation out of war.

It does not seem to be generally known that the term "forest reserves" is no longer legal or official. This name was changed by act of congress March 4, 1907, to "national forests," to indicate that the resources were not locked up as "reserves" for the distant future, but were to be administered for the greatest good to the greatest number now.

BONANZA CLUB NOW A REALITY

ORGANIZATION IS EFFECTED, OFFICERS ELECTED AND PERIODICALS AND BOOKS ARE TO BE INSTALLED

(Herald Special Service)

BONANZA, Feb. 1.—Bonanza's club is now a reality. Quarters have been secured, and books, periodicals, etc., are to be secured for the perusal of Bonanza people during their idle hours. Such games as pool, billiards, checkers, dominos and cards will be installed also, and there will be writing materials and other conveniences for the club members.

The club quarters will be in two rooms. The back room will be the lounging and reading room, and in the front will be a stand for the sale of candies, cigars, soft drinks, etc.

Membership is open to all over 12 years of age. Gentlemen pay an initial fee of $1, and 50 cents a month dues, and women pay 50 cents initial fee and dues of 25 cents a month.

The club quarters will be open daily and Sunday from 1 to 5 p. m. Smoking, gambling, dancing and unseemly conduct in the club rooms are forbidden by the by-laws.

John Jahr has been chosen as manager of the club. The officers elected are: President, Mrs. A. Parsons; vice president, Mrs. E. Kilgore; secretary, K. I. Bold; treasurer, A. J. Hickman; board of trustees (to be elected annually), Rev. Sydney W. Hall, Dr. J. L. Harris, J. L. Sparrentorn, Ray P. Burk and J. O. Hamaker.

The first allotment of national forest money made to Oregon and Washington in 1906, after the passage of the act which gave the states a share of the national forest revenue, was $7,565 for Oregon and $1,823 for Washington. In 1915 Oregon's share of this revenue was $49,675, and Washington's was $37,445. The constantly increasing demand for national forest timber assures a much higher rate of increase in the next few years, and ultimately the states will receive a large revenue from this source.

An idea of the beet sugar industry's extent in Colorado can be gathered from the fact that in one county alone, Larimer, refining companies have this year paid out approximately $2,200,000 for the raw material sugar beets.

Tale of German Rovers Is Most Gripping Story

United Press Service

NORFOLK, Va., Feb. 1.—The most daring maritime feat of the war was revealed today, when the African liner Appam, which recently vanished in the Mediterranean, arrived at this port in charge of a German prize crew.

The Appam was reported as missing by the British admiralty. That the Appam was the German naval vessel believed the vessel was lost in a storm.

A German merchantman armed as a raider, captured the Appam off the Canary Islands January 15th according to passengers. A prize crew was placed aboard the captured vessel, with Lieutenant Oscar Berg, age 22, in command.

The crew of the Appam thought the raider was a pirate ship when it attacked, and they attempted to repel the boarding party. After the Appam's two guns proved ineffectual, bloody hand-to-hand fighting ensued. This resulted in two deaths. Ten or more were wounded before the melee was settled and Captain Harrison surrendered his ship.

The Germans have armed the Appam as a commerce raider, and have captured at least two vessels en route to America, federal officers declare. If this is true, the Appam must intern or leave within a few hours.

Aboard the Appam were 166 passengers and a crew of 134. The vessel entered Newport News flying the German flag.

United Press Service
NORFOLK, Feb. 1.—A message thrown from a porthole of the Appam to a United Press correspondent stated that the German raider capturing the Appam was the German naval vessel ship Moew. It started its career from the Kiel canal, and successfully ran the British blockade.

The message said that the Moew sank the British steamers Crowbridge, Farringford, Drummond, Author, Ariadne and Clan McTavish within four days' time. All except four members of the crew of the McTavish were killed in their fight to prevent capture.

The Moew, according to the message, approached the Appam flying the British flag. Suddenly the Union Jack was hauled down and the German flag displayed, while false sides were lowered, revealing several ten-inch guns trained on the Appam.

During the cruise toward this port the Appam's prize crew flew the Swedish flag over the vessel until close to the harbor.

The Appam has been given a day in which to supply and leave, or to intern.

TWO MORE MEN AS CANDIDATES

HALL SEEKS NOMINATION AS SHERIFF, AND MERRYMAN IS OUT FOR THE OFFICE OF DISTRICT ATTORNEY

Two gray hats were seen flying through the air toward the center of Klamath's political ring. The small gray headpiece was recognized as that of Harold C. Merryman and the large Stetson was easily William Hall's.

Merryman is a candidate for the office of prosecuting attorney. He is a brother of Dr. George H. Merryman, and in the four years he has been located in Klamath Falls, he has built up a good law practice and made a reputation as an energetic and logical barrister.

The sheriff's office is the place Hall seeks. He was formerly a member of the Klamath Falls police force, and has entered the race only after careful consideration of the matter.

Austrians Deny Sinking Persia; Other War News

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 1.—Secretary Lansing today announced that he has received Austria's denial of the charge that an Australian submarine sank the Persia. The note states that the commanders of the Teutonic allies' submarines have all reported that they know nothing of the affair.

Lansing expects to know by Friday whether Germany will agree to the full demands of the United States in the Lusitania case, or will seek further delay. A high official says the crisis is expected to be safely passed.
