KLAMATH FALLS, OREGON
THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1916

THIS MUZZLING MOVE

THE readiness with which Klamath Falls people have responded to the council's emergency ordinance ordering dogs muzzled or confined shows a splendid spirit by all in co-operation for the suppression of the rabies. There are mighty few dogs seen roaming the streets without muzzles these days, and these few are usually gathered in by the police in a short time.

This compliance means that Klamath Falls is almost immune from rabies, an advantage not enjoyed by every town in Eastern and Central Oregon. But the dogs must be kept muzzled, and dogs belonging in other districts must be kept out of town if the rabies danger is to be passed successfully.

WE CAN, BUT WON'T

IN HIS memorandum submitted to President Wilson, Secretary of Commerce Redfield spoke of the "false doctrine of American inability to compete." There is no such doctrine, there never has been, and Mr. Redfield knows it. He has put up a straw adversary in order to make a display of knocking it down. American ingenuity, American enterprise and American labor have the ability to compete with any nation on earth, on equal terms. They can compete on equal terms, but they won't.

Now, Mr. Redfield, and President Wilson, please take note of the difference. We have the ability, but we haven't the inclination. The American laborer can live on the same wages and under the same conditions as the European and the Asiatic, but he won't. And we are proud of him. American industries can thrive under the same conditions as industries in countries of low-paid labor, but they won't. We are also proud of the capitalists of American industry.

There are some American statesmen who would like to force American labor to accept European and Asiatic standards. They tried to put that over, and as a result we had long bread lines and vast armies of unemployed in 1913-14. You think you democrats can do that again, Mr. Redfield, but you can't. When it comes to a question of "inability," you are up against it. You simply can't put it over again.

Porter Charlton, Back After Killing His Wife in Italy

PORTER CHARLTON

Porter Charlton, the young American, son of former United States Judge Charlton of Porto Rico, has returned to the United States six years after he killed his wife at Lake Como, in Italy. After his first return here in an effort to escape he spent three years in prison in the United States. He returned to Italy, and was in prison there two years before his trial, then he was convicted, but given a sentence of less than one month.

News Print Paper Fight Results Coming Out Soon

United Press Service

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 3.—Newspaper publishers of the country, fighting proposed increases in rates on news print paper, soon will know the result of their fight. The Interstate Commerce Commission has before it the facts, following hearings and arguments.

If the rate increases are granted, publishers east of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio River will be particularly affected. Publishers all over the country who get paper from the East will be somewhat affected. All classes of paper are included in the proposed increases. The situation as applied to news print paper is:

The railroads have named rates which they say will equalize rates on all classes of paper. At present the rates are admittedly confused. It is claimed that the new rates asked will result in increased revenues for the railroads, and that all rates will be equalized.

Since 1898 the New England and Northern New York mills, which make 75 per cent of the news print, have gotten a commodity rate of 18.9 cents per 100 pounds. Before the 5 per cent increase this rate was 18 cents. The proposed commodity rate, as it is called, is for 21 cents—an advance of 11 per cent. It applies to news print particularly from the territory named and from Quebec.

The publishers claim that nearly all points will be affected—all combination rates to the south, southeast and west that base on Cincinnati, Louisville and other points in central freight association territory (west, on a line through Niagara Falls, Buffalo, Pittsburgh and Wheeling, to the Mississippi River). This means that practically every publisher who gets his paper (as almost all of them do) from the East will be affected. The publishers say they will have to bear the increase and they can't afford it. The rates now, they say, are "all the traffic will bear."

Publishers say that if increases are granted further increases will be asked in the West and New England.

Hawley's Bill Seeks to Sell Off the Grant Land

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 3.—The bill introduced in the house of representatives by Congressman W. C. Hawley of the First Oregon district for the disposal of the grant lands held by the Southern Pacific company as successor of the Oregon & California Railroad company, provides for the immediate sale of the grant lands to settlers at $2.50 an acre in tracts of 160 acres or less. The bill for the act amends the original grant act of 1866 and its later amendments, and provides in section 1 that any person shall have the right to purchase the lands who has the requirements of an actual settler as held legal at time of the passage of the original grant act by making settlement on a tract not greater than 160 acres in area, making application therefor by notes and bounds and accompanying same with tender of payment; any person so qualified shall be a qualified purchaser.

Section 2 provides "That the said grantees (the O. & C. R. R. Co.) shall sell the lands remaining unsold at the time of the passage of this act, without delay as qualified purchasers appear and in the following order of preference: First, to persons actually residing in good faith on proper areas of such land prior to

Coming Conference Has the Churches Interested

The laymen's missionary convention of Oregon, to meet in Portland February 13-16, and which is part of a nation-wide movement to arouse the energies of laymen of all evangelical churches in upwards of eighty of the leading centers of the country, will prove of importance to all the world.

As the result of conventions held in other cities, there is much information. At St. Louis, actual gifts to the work totaled upwards of $6,000. Christ Episcopal church enrolled the largest number of delegates, 113, at Cincinnati, and the Walnut Hills Baptist church enrolled its entire male membership, 77.

A member of the convention committee at Toledo requested that he be put in touch with his national denominational leaders, so that he and his wife might guarantee the support of at least five missionaries.

The ambition of Los Angeles is to secure 5,000 delegates. From Minneapolis comes the information that the Lutherans are making preparations for the convention there to a greater extent than in any other city.

Outside of Manchester, N. H., ninety towns were represented at the convention by 426 delegates—more than one-third the total registration.

John A. Goodell, executive secretary, 306 Y. M. C. A. building, Portland, will be pleased to supply full particulars to all who apply that desire to attend the Oregon convention.

TODAY'S ODDEST STORY

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 3.—The equal rights idea has invaded several San Francisco saloons. Fashionably dressed women walk in and drink along-side the men, and seem just as adept as their male escorts at crooking the elbow while resting a dainty, slippered foot on the brass rail.
In one of the equal rights thirsteries, a landmark of the days of the '49 gold rush, it requires a line of white coated bartenders working at top speed to keep abreast of the demand for a seductive South American punch that has made the place famous.

FEEDING BIRDIES SQUARES ACCOUNT

ZOOLOGIST AT STATE COLLEGE GIVES SOME INTERESTING FACTS ON ECONOMIC VALUE OF THE MOVEMENT

CORVALLIS, Ore., Feb. 3.—"Feeding the birds in snowy weather is only squaring our account with the birds," says Professor G. F. Sykes, zoologist of the Oregon Agricultural College.

"The few handfuls of grain thrown out for the birds during the recent snow storm will bring the best returns of the year. Many a little bird guardian, robin, bluebird, skink, gold finch or Junco, who came months ago to clean up the weed seeds of last season or to catch the cut worm and leather jackets lurking in the turnip or grass fields, was going about hungry and with cold feet. Many of them also have perished with the cold.

An examination of the stomach contents of birds during an open winter shows them to be at such a time entirely beneficial. In one robin's stomach were found 210 March fly larvae, and a China pheasant had eaten 673 larvae at a single meal. These grubs resemble cutworms, and are a serious pest on root crops, grass and alfalfa. Moreover, five Juncos were found to have destroyed in a single morning 275 May weed seed, 101 wild grass seeds and 301 pigweed seeds. Thus the Juncos, together with the skinks and green backed finches, made away with millions of noxious weed seeds in the course of an ordinary winter season.

"With the snow deep on the ground the birds were having a hard time. They have no deep seated hostility toward us, even though we have chided some of them for helping themselves to our cherries or wheat during the summer. So they may be encouraged to take food put out on the window ledges."

In his bird feeding Professor Sykes has found that the covers of baking powder boxes, lard pails, etc., make admirable food trays for putting out bird food. Small grain, cracked corn, wheat or barley, even rolled cereals, put out in such receptacles or in wooden troughs may be placed on the window ledge, the roof or porch of out buildings or on tops of fence posts. Crumbs from the table, too, were appreciated by the birds, but these may also attract cats.

DRINK WATER TO AVOID SICKNESS, SAYS AUTHORITY

GLASS OF HOT WATER BEFORE BREAKFAST DAILY KEEP THE DOCTOR AWAY

Sanitary science has of late made rapid strides with results that are of untold blessing to humanity. The latest application of its untiring research is the recommendation that it is as necessary to attend to internal sanitation of the drainage system of the human body as it is to the drains of the house.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when we arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the phosphated hot water is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble, rheumatic stiffness; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation.—Adv.
