BISHOP PADDOCK HERE FEB. 13TH

HEAD OF EPISCOPAL CHURCH IN EASTERN OREGON WILL GIVE A PUBLIC LECTURE AT THE OPERA HOUSE

Owing to the conditions of the railroad, Right Rev. Bishop R. L. Paddock, Episcopal bishop of the Eastern Oregon diocese, will be unable to reach Klamath Falls for the services Sunday, as noted in the Herald of yesterday. Instead, the bishop will visit his charge here on Sunday, February 13th, when the program outlined for tomorrow will be followed. Morning services will be held in the west hall of the Odd Fellows' Temple, and in the evening, beginning at 7:30, the bishop will give a lecture in the opera house.

Moving Pictures

The Orpheus, in offering to its patrons, the Griffith-Sennett all star feature programs, which begin tomorrow, is offering the very best picture it is possible to secure.

It is a known fact by all who attend high class photo plays that the name "Griffith" means perfection in film production. Mr. Griffith being the man who produced the greatest film ever shown, "The Clash of the Titans" or "The Birth of a Nation."

Such names as Mae Marsh, Henry Walthall, Blanche Sweet, Lillian Gish, Robert Harron, Mabel Normand and Fred Mace need only to be mentioned to give you an idea of the class film pictures the Orpheus will show on Sunday and Monday night. In addition to a seven reel program, the Hearst-Vitagraph News Pictures will be shown on Sunday night.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

BY MARGARET JASON
(Written for the United Press)

Small boys all know that tanning makes persons quite some smart; And that's a fact that summer girls will have to take to heart. Because all dyes grow scarcer Since first the war began. And for those dying to be smart There's nothing left but tan.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—Positively the only way you can go in for color effects this coming spring and summer is to turn green with envy, have a yellow streak, a fit of blues or red yourself up to be the pink of neatness. They do say that all is fair in love and war, but it's been mighty hard for some of us to be fair with the recent embargo on peroxide. Fortunately that has just been lifted and hearts and heads are once more light.

The outlook for other dyestuffs, however, is very dark. The weather man has often predicted a white winter for us, but now the fashion man promises us a white summer—white with a large dash of tan by way of variety.

By way of getting the greatest amount of variety out of tan you can call it beige, ecru, string biscuit, sand and putty, as its intensity of tanness waxes or wanes.

Fortunately we already have such charming tan summer materials in natural pongee shantung and rajah silks, to say nothing of natural linens, that to be thus limited for our spring and summer outfits threatens no real tribulation.

Cotton voiles of rich beige color striped in the same toned cotton velvet are most effective, and the beige black striped are stunning additions to the new tan toned fabrics. Faille is lovely in these neutral shadings, too, and spring suits of ecru accue much credit to the wearer, as do the little turbans of biscuit colored straw and taffeta and the high shoes with putty colored tops.

Newest Buys of Washington Society

MISS MARIE SIMS MISS ANITA KITE. MISS ELLIE LEJEUNE

The debut of these girls this winter in Washington society proves that the social affairs at the capital this winter have beauty to grace them.

If you remember we were caught in a sand storm of sand colored suits, hats and accessories last spring, but this year's beige hue promises less violence and more quiet effectiveness.

As befitting a neutral nation that other most neutral of tints, pearl gray, will also have its place in the monotonies of our most modern frocks. Of a necessity, then, the modern maid, deliberately going against the admonition of Mr. Omar, to fling her winter garment of repentance aside for the fires of spring will change instead her flame hued garb of winter for the ashes of a new sartorial season.

And so a gray or tan mark will be added to the aggregate mass of black marks against the war by the women of fashion. But between you and me, after viewing the Ballet Russe backed by Bakst, with its chaotic and unrestrained riot of colors, I can't believe that the poor old war is the only thing responsible for the alarming shortage of dyes.

One of the most pleasant times the young ladies of the social set have enjoyed this season was held at the home of the Misses Elsinore and Ione Steinman on Pine street last Saturday evening. Many delightful musical selections were rendered, and with singing and dancing those present enjoyed themselves immensely. Later the party, with Mrs. Lottie Martin as clarinet, repaired to the Rex cafe, where a delightful luncheon awaited all those present were Misses Elsinore Steinman, Ione Steinman, Alice Duncan, Gladys Duncan, Hazel Goeller, Barbara Goeller, Wally Jacobs, May Maguire, Helen Maguire, Dorothy Weeks, Pearl Bolvin, Maude Newberry, Ada Gould, Mabel Martin and Mrs. Lottie Martin.

Great is the interest Elks and their ladies are taking in the fifth annual ball of Klamath Falls Lodge No. 1247 B. P. O. E., which will be held Monday evening, February 14th, in the Elks' new hall. This will be the first ball held in the new lodge home, and it is needless to say that the ever hospitable "Bills" are making most elaborate arrangements for the evening's success. The affair will be a Valentine dance, in keeping with the day on which it is to be held.

A pre-Lenten event which will attract much attention will be a dancing party given on the night of February 22d by the ladies of Sacred Heart

Church. This affair will be held at Moose Hall, and will be the final activity of these delightful entertainers until after Easter. Especial attention is to be given to music, decorations and other features, and the following committees have been named to take charge of the preparations:

Arrangements—Mrs. Paul Bogardus, Mrs. G. A. Bellman, Mrs. Martin McAndrews.

Reception—Misses Dorothy Weeks, Pearl Bolvin, Ada Soule, Nettie McAndrews, May Maguire, Ora Nelson and Alice McCourt.

Punch and refreshments—Mrs. G. A. Bellman, Mrs. Clayton E. Wheeler and Mrs. William Maguire.

Floor committee, Joseph P. Brett, Joseph B. McAllister, Philip J. Sinnott, Colman F. O'Laughlin, Ewing Hittinger and Charles Coffey.

Miss Anna Beebe, who has been prominent in the social affairs of the younger set this season, left this morning for San Francisco and Oakland, to remain for the remainder of the winter.

The piano pupils of Mrs. Fred Cofer met at her home this afternoon, and enjoyed a program of musical numbers and other diversions. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Cofer, and
