KLAMATH FALLS COMES TO HELP OF NEEDY JEWS

BUSINESS MEN WILL MAKE A CANVASS

Two Business Houses Make Donations of Thirty Dollars, and Others Will Do as Well—Banks and Local Stores Will Receive Donations. Cause Is Considered Highly Worthy of Aid by All

Klamath Falls today again opened its heart in response to the urgent cry of distress raised by millions of suffering Jewish people in the war swept sections of Europe. Contributions of cash and checks have been coming in all day long.

Two checks, one for $29 and another for $10, were received from local business men.

"I would be glad to give a still larger amount if I were financially able to do so," said one of the donors. And that is the spirit all are showing in this call for assistance.

A short time ago the Commercial Club took up the Jewish relief matter. At that time, although everything was voluntarily donated, with no solicitation whatever, over $50 was raised.

Local business men, however, have decided to make a campaign and to call upon firms and individuals for donations. This committee will begin work tomorrow morning, and the fund raised will be taken to Portland by K. Sugarman Saturday morning. In the meantime, donations can be left at either of the banks, at K. Sugarman's or the K. K. K. Store.

This is the first time in history that the Jews have appealed for help. Travelers from the war-ridden countries of Europe and Asia declare that the condition of the Jews in those sections is terrible beyond belief.

Of the 10,000,000 Jews in the world, 6,000,000 are in the countries affected by the war.

German Cruiser Captured Monday by British Aided Appam Capture

Battle Cruiser Roon in Kiel Canal

Still another chapter was added to the story of the capture of the British steamer Appam by a German war vessel and the sailing of the Appam into an American harbor by the prize crew. This was the capture by the British battleship Drake of the German cruiser Roon Monday, after a three hour fight off the Bermuda coast.

The Roon was supposedly bottled up in Kiel canal, and how it escaped is unknown. A suspicion that the Roon was chiefly instrumental in the capture of the Appam resulted in an order to search the seas for her, and the capture of the Roon and two merchantmen Monday.

The lower picture shows the armed German guard stationed at each gangway of the Appam to hold on board the British military prisoners, and to keep outsiders off the vessel.

MRS. W. S. WILEY IS DEAD IN EAST

WIFE OF WELL KNOWN LOCAL ATTORNEY SUCCUMBS AFTER YEARS OF SUFFERING IN WASHINGTON, D. C.

Mrs. Wilson S. Wiley, wife of a well known local attorney, passed away in Washington, D. C., today, according to telegrams received by friends. The remains will be laid to rest at New London, Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Wiley was a native of Pennsylvania, but resided in Washington the greater part of her life. It was there that she met Mr. Wiley, then an attaché of departmental offices, and just before Wiley was sent here, in 1907, as legal adviser for the reclamation service, they were married, and came here together. One son, Wilson S. Wiley Jr., was born to them.

For several years Mrs. Wiley has been in poor health, and has undergone repeated operations in the hope of improving. Several weeks ago her condition became critical, and Mr. Wiley hurried East, to remain with her until the last.

AMERICAN LINER RELIEVED OF ITS STORES BY DIVER

SUBMARINE FIRES AT THE AMERICAN SHIP

As a Result of Affidavits Filed by the Captain of American Steamer Petrolite, Secretary Lansing Asks Austrian Government to Make an Explanation of the Affair—No Formal Note Is Sent.

United Press Service

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 10.—Secretary Lansing today announced that Austria must definitely explain why a submarine flying the Austrian flag stopped the American steamer Petrolite and took some of its stores. This, Lansing says, is a mere request for information, not a formal note. As yet, officials refuse to consider the affair as a "crisis."

The inquiry is made after the filing of affidavits by Captain Thompson of the Petrolite. In these, Thompson says that the submarine fired on his vessel, despite the fact that it flew the American flag, and carried other neutral markings.

VOGELSANG GETS A HIGH POSITION

SAN FRANCISCO ATTORNEY WELL KNOWN HERE IS NAMED FOR IMPORTANT POST IN THE INTERIOR DEPARTMENT

United Press Service
WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 10.—President Wilson today nominated Alexander T. Vogelsang of San Francisco as solicitor of the Department of the Interior.

Klamath Falls friends of Vogelsang are rejoicing at his appointment, and they predict splendid success for him. As a supervisor of San Francisco, he has made a wonderful record, and his initiative is largely responsible for the work of preserving the Fine Arts Palace and other beauty spots of the exposition.

Vogelsang has long been an ardent booster for Klamath's trout fishing, and every year he has spent a couple of weeks, whipping Williamson River and Spring Creek for Rainbows. He has been the means of bringing scores of anglers here, and converting them into enthusiastic Klamath boosters.

BRANDEIS AGAIN GIVEN A CUSSING

THIS TIME, INSTEAD OF BEING TOO FRIENDLY WITH CAPITAL, HE IS SAID TO BE ENTIRELY TOO UNFRIENDLY

United Press Service
WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 10.—The sub-committee of the senate judiciary committee, who yesterday heard Louis Brandeis criticized for being too friendly to capital, today heard capitalists say he was too unfriendly. Thomas Spelling of New York so testified.

J. W. Carmalt, examiner for the Interstate Commerce Commission, who participated in the Ohio rate cases, said Commissioner Thorne of the Ohio state commission should not have been surprised at Brandeis favoring the increase of railroad revenues, as he did not conceal this stand.

Brandeis is confident that he will be appointed to the supreme bench by confirmation of Wilson's nomination.

Uncle Sam Will Also Swat the Bootleggers

Bootleggers in the future will find themselves up against state and federal prosecution, with the federal laws providing a minimum penalty nearly as great as the maximum imposed for violation of the state laws. Milton A. Miller, United States collector of internal revenue whetted the prohibition razor when he announced to all peace officers and district attorneys in the state that his office will prosecute all bootleggers who may be shown to have sold liquor without affixing the internal revenue stamps. Executive officers are elated over the announcement, and bootleggers who have been convicted already under the state laws may be made the subject of further prosecution.

"This department is desirous of cooperating with state officials in locating and bringing to justice all parties who may be suspected of violating the law regarding the handling of spirituous liquors," Miller wrote to Sheriff Low. "And to this end I beg to suggest that if evidence can be secured of two separate sales by any one individual, such evidence to be in the form of affidavits by two separate and reliable parties, upon receipt of same at this office immediate steps will be taken to prosecute such case or cases under the internal revenue law.

"My attention has been called to the illicit traffic or bootlegging throughout this state, and while my deputies are always on the lookout for such offenders, it has been found difficult to secure the evidence above suggested, which is necessary before this office would be warranted in proceeding, through the United States attorney, in prosecutions. I trust our efforts in the strict enforcement of the law may be fruitful."

Deputy Sheriff Lloyd Low said today they would turn over to Mr. Miller all evidence in cases coming within their jurisdiction, and would cooperate with the federal authorities in every possible way to secure convictions in the United States court.

EPIDEMIC COMES TO FLOOD AREAS

PLEA IS SENT FOR EVERY AVAILABLE PHYSICIAN TO ASSIST IN FIGHTING SPREAD OF TYPHOID FEVER

United Press Service
MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 10.—Telegrams have been received from Clarendon, asking that every available physician be sent there to help fight the threatened epidemic of typhoid fever, breaking out since the flood.

Sewers were burst to pieces by the rushing waters, and hundreds of women and children are marooned in lofts without any sanitation. There is no bread, nor meat for the flood victims.

Deaths in the vicinity of Clarendon as a result of the floods total twenty-eight.

ELK TO BE SENT TO STUKEL RANGE

DURING WINTER, YOUNG ANIMALS WILL BE FED AT ELLIS YOUNG'S RANCH AND WILL BE LIBERATED LATER

At last night's meeting of the Klamath Sportsmen's Association, Stukel mountain was chosen as a range for the eighteen head of young elk to be liberated in Klamath county by the State Fish and Game Commission. This was decided upon by vote, and the other suggested sites being defeated in the elimination process of voting.

A call was issued for all members to attend last night's meeting, and aid in settling this important question. There was a good attendance.

The elk are expected later this month. They will be taken to the D. Ellis Young ranch, and will be fed there the remainder of the winter. In the spring they will be liberated when the cattle are turned out, and they will be watched all summer. Efforts will be made to feed the elk on the range next winter.

KITTIE'S EXTRA CAUSES LAUGHTER

SPECIAL ISSUE TWO DAYS AFTER SHOOTING CONTAINED ACCOUNT ALREADY PRINTED IN THE HERALD

Considerable amusement is found by Klamath Falls people in the issuance of an "extra" by the Merrill Record Thursday morning, giving the story of the Langell Valley tragedy which occurred Tuesday morning. The facts, as set forth in the "extra" are the same as printed Tuesday and Wednesday in the Herald, plus a few inconsequential details as to the location of powder burrs and other matters of no importance.

In the meantime, the Herald is being congratulated upon the efficiency of its correspondents, who sent in the news of developments in the case at the time these were of news value.

THIS HIGHWAYMAN A "GENTLEMAN"

NOT ONLY DID NOT MOLEST THE LADIES ON TRAIN HE HELD UP, BUT CHEERFULLY REASSURED THEM OF THEIR SAFETY

United Press Service
CHEYENNE, Wyo., Feb. 10.—A lone highwayman boarded the east-bound Union Pacific train last night at Green River, and robbed the smoker and two Pullmans, and left the train near Rock Springs.

The highwayman did not molest any of the women passengers, and assured them that no harm would befall them. Only one shot was fired as a warning, over the head of the conductor.

The robber wore a white mask, and compelled the trainmen to pass the hat among the passengers. About $80 were collected before the man jumped from the train near Rock Springs.

A posse was at once organized, and the pursuit of the robber is still being carried on.

Doyle May Be Arraigned Late Today or Tomorrow

Later—An information charging Wm. Doyle with murder was issued at 2:45 this afternoon.

An information, charging William Doyle with murdering Mary A. Wilcox and Maggie Jones, is expected to issue this afternoon. Doyle will be given a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace Gowen a short time afterward, say authorities.

The evidence at the coroner's jury at Bonanza is deemed sufficient to hold Doyle for a trial. The prisoner was brought in at 7:30 last evening, and is now in the county jail.

"I would rather not say anything regarding the case until I have an attorney," said Doyle to the Herald this afternoon. "There are two sides to every case, and although the evidence at the coroner's jury looked bad for me, I am confident that when the case is tried I will not be found guilty.

"Nobody feels any worse about the affair than I do. Both women were friends of mine, and the news of their death alone would sadden me, even if the tragic circumstances were entirely missing."

The bodies of the two women were brought to Klamath Falls by Coroner Whitlock yesterday afternoon. They are being held at the morgue, pending word from relatives Whitlock is trying to locate.

A guard has been placed at the ranch where the crime was committed. Sheriff Low is determined that the premises shall not be disturbed by curious people.
