Italian-Americans' Donations Have Rebuilt Destroyed City

By HENRY WOOD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

AVEZZANO, Italy, Feb. 1.—(By mail)—Thanks largely to Italian-Americans, Avezano, which just a year ago today suffered one of the worst earthquake disasters in the history of the world, is today almost a completely restored city.

In just one year as much has been done toward rebuilding this city as has been accomplished at Messina in the ten years that have elapsed since it suffered a similar disaster. In both instances America played a large part in the work of restoration, but at Avezano American spirit and American influence accomplished miracles which just plain American dollars could not do at Messina.

When a year ago the earthquake reduced Avezano to a mere mass of ruins, from which only 1,200 people out of a total population of 13,000 escaped, the news struck a responsive chord in the hearts of a particular class of people in America. There were the Italians who themselves in years past lived in and emigrated from Avezano or the country immediately around it. Thousands of these persons still had relatives there, and the call of blood as well as the call of the city of their nativity proved stronger than the call of success they were meeting with in their new homes in America.

Almost without exception these former residents of Avezano abandoned their prospects in America and returned to succor their relatives and help build up the city of their birth. But in coming back to Italy they brought with them more than the few hundred or few thousand dollars that the average Italian immigrant accumulates in America before returning home. They brought with them also the American spirit, American hustle and American tradition. They brought with them especially the remembrance of how San Francisco had risen from its ruins—hundreds of them having gone through the 'Frisco quake—and they set about doing at Avezano what they had seen Americans do at San Francisco. The results have amazed all Italy, and especially Messina, which ten years after its disaster, hardly has begun to be its old self.

Avezano, whose population was reduced from 13,000 to 1,200 by the quake, today has 5,000 inhabitants. Aside from possibly 1,000 of the survivors who remain here, the great bulk of the remainder are returned Italian-Americans. That is why Avezano is growing faster than a boom town in America.

The government extended the same help to Avezano that was extended to Messina, but without the Italian-

Americans the result would hardly be what they are today. These enterprising hyphenates of which both Italy and America have cause to be proud, have carried out the demolition of 3,500 partially wrecked houses and braced up 3,100 tottering walls, constructed barracks and temporary houses that contain 11,800 rooms, while others containing 7,000 more rooms are being constructed; and have repaired 3,600 of the houses not entirely destroyed.

They have got the water works and the electric light plant in full operation, made it possible for the schools to resume sessions, and are laying out new additions to Avezano with straight streets and regular square blocks, quite after the American fashion of town building and quite contrary to Italian customs, where irregular wandering streets and kaleidoscopic blocks are the rule.

The Italian-Americans are facing all the civic problems that confront every community in America, and are finding work for the unemployed, encouraging agriculture, providing credit, looking out for public sanitation and caring for the poor. They have, in fact, even gone the American towns where they got their ideas, one better, and when Italy declared war, sent her an army contingent of 380 men, twelve of whom have since been killed and their places filled by fresh Avezano recruits.

SPRING LAKE TAKES THIRD GAME FROM HENLEY FIVE

(Herald Special Service)
SPRING LAKE, Feb. 21.—The third game of a series of basketball games between the Henley and Spring Lake schools was played Friday afternoon at Henley school.

A preliminary game between girl teams from the two schools resulted in a victory for the Spring Lake girls by a score of 6 to 2.

The contest between the boys' teams representing the two schools was a lively battle, but the Spring Lake "Wildcats" proved their superiority, winning the game by the score of 18 to 4. Both teams played well, and the "Wildcats" won by superior teamwork and hard playing.

Of the three games played by these teams this season, Spring Lake has won two and Henley one.

The Bachelor Club meets every Wednesday night at Hildebrand.

There was a large crowd gathered at the Lone Rock ranch last Wednesday to welcome home Mr. and Mrs. H. Schmor from their honeymoon. Quite a few presents were given to the bride and groom. Dancing started early, and at 12 o'clock all retired to the dining room, where an elegant supper was served. After supper cigars were passed around, and the men retired to the bunk house to smoke. Roy Beck favored them with vocal music, and just as soon as things were cleaned up, dancing was resumed, and it was late when all started for their homes. Everybody stated it was the best dance that was ever held in Swan Lake. Mrs. Schmore is from Springfield, and Mr. Schmor is an old resident of Klamath county. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. Colbert, Mr. and Mrs. Brown Michael, Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. H. Woods, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. H. Schmore, Mr. and Mrs. W. ### EXPO OPENING DATE IS OCCASION FOR BIG TIME

United Press Service
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 21.—The anniversary of the opening of the Panama-Pacific International exposition was celebrated yesterday at the exposition grounds when ceremonies of "One Year After" were observed. For a single day all the enthusiasm which marked the fair grounds during the ten months the exposition was in progress were revived and a series of programs were held at various parts of the grounds.
The "piece de resistance" of the day was a sensational airplane fight by Art Smith which was wound up when the aviator dropped a bomb on the Canadian-Pacific building at one end of the Marina.

SUPREME COURT DECIDES AGAINST INNES AND WIFE

United Press Service
WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 21.—Victor Innes and wife of Portland, lost their fight to postpone extradition to Atlanta for trial in connection with the disappearance of Beatrice Neims and Mrs. Eloise Neims Dennis, by a decision of the supreme court today.

At Peterhof, fifteen miles west of Petrograd, the main road to the Russian capital has been prepared for fighting. Gun emplacements and trenches have been constructed in woods and gardens along the roadside and platforms, reached by ladders of spikes driven into trunks of trees, have been built among the branches, so that machine gun fire may sweep long stretches of the road.
