C. W. Fulton Wants to Vote for Nomination of Hughes

SALEM, Feb. 28.—Former United States Senator Fulton has filed his best efforts to secure the nomination of Justice Charles E. Hughes for president.

DRINK HOT WATER BEFORE BREAKFAST

Says you really feel clean, sweet and fresh inside, and are seldom ill.

If you are accustomed to wake up with a coated tongue, foul breath or a dull, dizzy headache; or, if your meals sour and turn into gas and acids, you have a real surprise awaiting you.

Tomorrow morning, immediately upon arising, drink a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is intended to first neutralize and then wash out of your stomach, liver, kidneys and thirty feet of intestines all the indigestible waste, poisons, sour bile and toxins, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal.

Those subject to sick headaches, backache, bilious attacks, constipation or any form of stomach trouble, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store and begin enjoying this morning inside bath. It is said that men and women who try this become enthusiastic and keep it up daily. It is a splendid health measure, for it is more important to keep clean and pure on the inside than on the outside, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing disease, while the bowel pores do.

The principle of bathing inside is not new, as millions of people practice it. Just as hot water and soap cleans, purify and freshen the skin, so hot water and a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Limestone phosphate is an inexpensive white powder, and almost tasteless.—Adv.

Sugar to Vie With Preparedness in the Fights Before Lawmakers

By BOND P. GEDDES
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 28.—

Congress today is in the throes of another tariff fight. Partisan politics is at fever heat. Lobbyists are busy. The American sugar bowl is the cause. "Free sugar" is the battle cry.

Repeal of the clause in the new Wilson-Underwood tariff act which would place sugar on the free list, removing about one cent a pound duty.

Initiated in the house by Democrat Underwood, the resolution proposing that the present duty of approximately one cent a pound shall be continued on sugar is an administration measure, urged by President Wilson in his opening message to congress last December. Because of declining revenues caused by the war, the president asked that the free sugar schedule be rescinded. The Kitchen resolution provides for its outright repeal, and not its indefinite suspension.

The administration leaders in Congress today are contending that the war makes necessary continuance of sugar duties, probably the biggest single source of custom duty revenue.

In 1915 the net revenue from sugar was $45,000,000. The democrats contend that but for the war, with its disturbance of commerce and curtailment of customs receipts, the treasury would not have needed the sugar revenue.

On the other hand, the republicans are loudly proclaiming that the democrats are admitting and rectifying a serious error in their tariff revision of 1913, when they passed the Wilson-Underwood bill. Both political factions are making the utmost capital of this situation for this year's presidential campaign purposes.

The present one-cent-a-pound duty is about half a cent less than that of the Payne-Aldrich tariff act. The Wilson-Underwood bill proposed to take off the tariff piecemeal, leaving free sugar to become effective May 1.

Many democrats are opposing outright repeal, urging instead, indefinite suspension of the free sugar proviso, so that when war conditions become adjusted sugar can be made duty free without cumbersome legislation. They also believe such a course would minimize republican charges that they admit having made a basic error. Republicans in both the senate and house are for the democratic resolution to continue the present duty. But they insist first on taunting the democrats for the alleged mistake. Passage of the duty-continuing resolution, with both parties voting for it, is regarded assured eventually, after a long wordy war.

Tariff experts say the repeal of free sugar will not affect the present retail prices to the consumer. Effects of partial tariff reduction already have been felt, they declare.

But a big revival in the American sugar industry, both cane and beet, is expected to result from continuing the present duty. With the one-cent-a-pound protection, Louisiana cane growers, who put their cane fields into other crops when the sugar schedule was revised downward, are reported planting new crops. Increased acreage of sugar beets and more production in Western beet sugar factories, is also expected.

Political effects are bound up in the sugar question. Following the Louisiana cane growers' declaration that "free sugar" would ruin them, a progressive congressman was elected last year from that rockbound democratic state.

An interesting story is told in connection with the sugar tariff. President Wilson himself, it is said, was most insistent upon making sugar duty free. Senator Underwood, then house leader, bitterly opposed it, but at the president's behest, finally wrote the "free sugar" clause in the bill. Then it was estimated the indirect tax burden upon the consumers would be reduced $115,000,000 a year. Whether the refiners or the consumers would benefit by the reduced tariff has been and is still a point of partisan debate.

THE Dumbest Oyster can make a better pearl than the brightest man. The oyster uses Nature's methods.

Velvet Joe

WHEN I'm maturin' tobacco for VELVET, I take a page from old Mother Nature's Book.

Nature says smokin' tobacco don't arrive at its full, hearty maturity until after two years' maturin'.

Some folks may say: "Why wait on Nature? We can do it quicker."

I'm strong for Nature's way—the VELVET way—two years' mellowing in big, wooden hogsheads—"ageing in the wood."

What do you say?

Well, fill a pipe with VELVET, an' draw in the cool, mild smoke that's so fragrant an' rich that—but what's the use of trying to describe a taste? Take my word for VELVET long enough to try a pipeful, and you won't need to take anybody's word after that.

The Garageman As an Educator

Who educates the greater majority of car owners in the care and equipment of their cars? The Garageman. It is the garageman who determines the make of tire, spark plug, carburetor, lamp, etc., that the car owner should use on and in his machine when he renews the first equipment bought with the car.

The car owner is often a busy man, with his mind glued to his business and other primal affairs, leaving the study of his automobile matters to the expert garageman, with whom he consults and advises.

Even when he gives these matters some personal attention, his views are controlled largely by the advice and wider experience of the garageman who makes the care of cars and their equipment his life work.

The White Pelican Garage is fully equipped to take care of all automobile needs. Not only do we have the agency for some of the best automobiles manufactured—we also have a well arranged show room with a complete line of automobile accessories, including tires and tubes. A well equipped machine shop for repair work, a vulcanizing and battery charging plant, with competent and reliable men to operate them.

It will be a pleasure to us to show this garage and its equipment to every automobile owner in Klamath County.
