

Colorado Looks for New Boom in Mining Circles

United Press Service
DENVER, March 15.—With the opening of the spring season, Colorado expects to experience a big boom in mining. High prices in all metals and ores and the falling off in imports of minerals due to the European war is already showing its effects in record activity among Colorado's mining camps. The tungsten fields of Boulder county remind old timers of the early days in Cripple Creek and Leadville. Fortunes have been made in the tungsten fields and the increased demand of this ore for hardening tools promises continued prosperity. Zinc, which doubled its output in the state last year, is keeping up its record production. Good prices for silver has resulted in a renewed interest in that metal. Experts predict a big rise in the price of silver at the close of the war, based on the belligerents' great need of silver for a medium of exchange since America is in possession of a large part of the world's gold supply. Gold production continues to show remarkable staying powers in Colorado. Rich strikes on old properties are frequently reported. Experts predict that the value of Colorado's minerals mined in 1916 will exceed that of any year in the state's history.

government agents and the opium smugglers, actual scenes in Chinatown and "opium raids" by secret service agents—all these interwoven with an impelling story of love and sacrifice, combine to make "Hop, the Devil's Brew," the greatest of photoplays.

"The Regeneration," a Fox feature in five reels, showing at the Star tonight only, will no doubt prove to be one of the best productions of this feature company. Below are a few press opinions on this production:

New York World—"A powerful drama of brilliant power and depth. A play to move and away with the deep undercurrents of human life and emotion—fires and inspires with masterly skill and deft dramatic work."

New York Sun—"Swept a vast audience off its feet—caused cheers to resound after the tremendous climax—a great big success that will stay long on Broadway in our estimation."

New York Telegraph (by Frank J. Price)—"I predict for 'The Regeneration' a great success—will stay on Broadway for some time—really moving and gripping."

New York Press—"A drama that is refreshingly powerful and true—unfolds a touching and dramatic story thrills aptly and swift action from start to finish."

New York Times—"Rarely is a drama of such real merit presented on Broadway—the authors are to be congratulated on a real play of trenchant worth and heart-reaching appeal."

New York Herald—"A magnificent drama that is filled with human life and heart interest situations."

CLAMAN PLAYERS DRAWING MANY

LAST NIGHT'S ATTENDANCE WAS LARGEST SO FAR — VARIED HILLS ARE BEING PRESENTED HERE

The largest house so far greeted the Merchants Carnival company at Houston's opera house last night, to witness David Graham Phillips' problem play, "The Price She Paid," nearly every seat being taken. This shows that the company is pleasing and gaining in popularity.

Last night's play was ably presented by an evenly balanced company, every part being well sustained. Special scenery and careful attention given to details make last night's production equal to many of the high priced shows.

Tonight they present the New York success, "The Easiest Way," a story of the underworld. Tonight is what is known as profit sharing night, when portions of the money received from ticket sales is returned to patrons, in envelopes containing amounts varying from one cent to one dollar.

MAN HE ROBBED

Some time ago Jack Ryan had a warrant issued for the arrest of James Bodner on charge of larceny, alleging that the lad stole close to $1,000 from clothing in Ryan's room. Yesterday Ryan appealed to Circuit Judge Kuykendall to have Bodner's bond reduced so he could be released on bond, and given an opportunity to make amends.

The reduction was made, and Chas. D. Willson and Ryan were Bodner's bondsmen. Willson had a job all in readiness for Bodner, who has already stated that he has only himself to blame for his present trouble.

Opium, most deadly of all habit-forming drugs, is wrecking the lives of thousands throughout the country. Despite the government's ceaseless fight to stamp out the traffic, smuggling bands bring valuable consignments to American Chinatowns every month. From these centers, hatched-faced agents operate in distributing the drug. Here are maintained secret rooms wherein addicts may consume the death dealing narcotic. The nation-wide fight that is being waged by the government to stamp out the traffic and restrict the use of opium has been made the basis of an exciting and highly moral photoplay called "Hop, the Devil's Brew," to be shown at the Orpheus next Sunday afternoon and evening only. Thrilling scenes abound; exciting combats between

Dearest Public:

Just returned from a two months' visit with Rip Van Winkle.

I was awakened by a freshet of love surging through my heart, and it was for you, dear. If you are ever going to "coo" this weather ort to bring it out on you. With the lovely things for spring, you should have some appropriate jewelry. The aquamarine and the bloodstone are the birthstones for this month. The aquamarine is a beautiful translucent stone of the color of the ocean's water (blue-green).

They are found in Siberia, Colombia in South America, and in Coos county, Oregon. If you ain't got on yer birth stone you might as well quit the map, 'cause you ain't goin' to have any luck. The blood stone is a greenish opaque stone, with red blotches in it, which look like drops of blood.

The ancient Babylonians used the bloodstone as a talisman.

They are found in India, Scotland and Australia.

'Twas by the sea shore She stood at bay. In her defiant eyes Was the glitter of steel. He had kissed her and blistered her back.

Ain't so! the mean old cuss? If it's jewelry you want, we have it. If I should farm my heart out to you would you put a blister on it?

Next week we are going to add a link to our chain of thoughts, and in the meantime we'd like to "add-a-link" to your bracelet. We have links in gold and silver, two bits each. I shall love you when your money is all gone, but I'll not be with you. Dash over to 511 Main street, and see us if yer watch is sick.

SHASTA VIEW NOTES

Rev. Cowley delivered an excellent discourse on "Man's Dependency" last Sunday.

On Friday, March 3d, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Strowbridge, a birthday party was given in honor of Grandpa Rue, as he is familiarly called. Friends and relatives began to arrive as early as 10 o'clock, and many did not leave until after 11 p.m. that night. Games, songs, religious services, etc., composed the exercises. Several school children gathered in the evening, and recitations and music were enjoyed. At a late hour the guests departed, wishing Mr. Rue the return of many happy birthdays.

Rev. Tupper is delivering a course of lectures at Shasta View Thursday night of each week.

C. M. Kirkpatrick, wife and family are visiting at A. Turner's, near the Falls. Mr. Kirkpatrick was summoned as a juror.

Two candidates for county offices passed through here last week on their way to Bonanza to attend the candidate's ball.

The Merrill Minstrel and Comedy troupe gave an entertainment at Mallin Saturday evening, March 11th. They played to a full house, and it was considered the best ever given.

A. S. Bennett has been called to Klamath Falls as a juror.

On account of an entertainment at Mallin Saturday evening, the Shasta

View Literary Society was not so well attended, but a ciphering match was given, and everybody seemed to enjoy it—especially the smaller folk.

O. E. Hunt made a trip to the Falls the latter part of last week.

Dame Rumor has it that there will be a wedding soon in this neighborhood. Guess who?

The ladies of the Helping Hand Society will give an entertainment at Shasta View on the evening of March 25th. Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

MIDLAND MUSINGS

Jim Jory went to the city Saturday.

W. E. Lloyd left for Ashland Monday on a business trip.

Livestock shipments are being made weekly from this place. This means more money in the ranchers' pockets.

Religious services are being held at Anderson's store.

The Morgan family went to Lost River for a day's fishing Saturday.

Spring plowing has started here with all the usual vim and vigor of Midland ranches.

Quincy brothers are busy these days clearing off sage brush.

Mrs. C. R. Patterson is visiting friends in California, and Pat says hatching is not all roses.

A rural Parent-Teacher association was organized at Midland recently, which is already attracting notice and proving a community need. The association hopes to accomplish some much needed work for the district through the ensuing year.

Sunday school is held every Sunday at the Midland school house at 1 p. m. Preaching services will be held every other Sunday, beginning next Sunday.

Mr. Stuckie was in Midland last Monday attending to business.

Clara Kirkpatrick and her cousin, Roy Rowe, are visiting their aunt and Uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Worden on Lower Klamath Lake.

The directors of the Midland school are fixing up basket ball and tennis grounds, which will be completed soon.

Mrs. Homer visited her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. King, of the Spring Lake district this week.

Several Midland school children, with their teacher, Mr. Hutchens, visited the Henley spelling contest held last Friday.

There will be a shadow social and candidates' meeting held at the Midland school house on Saturday, March 25. Everybody is invited to come.
