

AMERICANS READY TO LEAVE BERLIN ON SHORT NOTICE

LITTLE HOPE OF ALL DEMANDS BEING MET

Interview of Chief of German Naval Staff Regarding Tonicic Position Is Taken by Some Officials to Mean There Is No Chance for a Settlement by Berlin's Meeting the Suggestions of America.

United Press Service
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 22.—Apparently there is little hope here that Germany will fully meet the demands of the United States in the submarine controversy. The interview given by Admiral von Holtzendorff to the United Press yesterday is believed to indicate an unwillingness to meet American demands, but a desire on the part of Germany to shift the responsibility for the break on America. Some say that a modification of demands is the only chance for avoiding a break. The administration, however, is not inclined to modify the demands, holding that if Germany agrees to follow the visit, search and safety provisions, America will accept her version of submarine warfare, but will insist that Germany keep her pledge.

ROME, April 22.—Neutral diplomats declare Austria will bring pressure on Germany to prevent a break with America. Austria's influence, it is pointed out, caused the German breakdown in the Austro case.

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
BERLIN, April 22.—The United Press bureau is besieged by Americans requesting news of the German-American situation. Many telephonic queries have been received asking if matters are sufficiently critical to warrant a departure. Today's Lokal Anzeiger says: "We insist upon our right to hit our foes in their weakest spot. Nevertheless, we want peace with the people across the water, and an agreement with America should be possible."

THE HAGUE, April 22.—Many Americans are preparing to close their affairs and leave Germany upon two days' notice if relations are severed. A number have already arranged to come to Holland in that event. There has been no contact since the crisis. There are about 700 Americans in Germany, and those leaving will probably concentrate at Berlin, leaving for Holland on a special train.

Concerns to Alaska.

Waive Jacobs is Second in the Race for Queen

(Herald Special Service)
PORTLAND, April 22.—Waive Jacobs, the Klamath Falls candidate for queen of the Portland Rose festival, was second in standing when the votes were counted at 10 o'clock this morning. In a recent count, Miss Jacobs stood sixth, but since then she has made a big gain, and bids fair to come again in the lead, for a time at least. Miss Rose Uptegrove, the Oregon City candidate, is in the lead today. She is working hard, as are all of the candidates and their friends.

Two Husbands Die of "Her Fatal Beauty"

CORA MASHEW AMES WOLTER
Two husbands have killed themselves because Mrs. Cora Mashev Ames Wolter possessed "fatal beauty." She is now in Bridgeport hospital from a slight wound the second one inflicted. Her first husband was Frank Ames, a Bridgeport theatrical man, who killed himself because she had taken up with the second, Louis Wolter. Wolter found a letter from another admirer, and he tried to kill her. She ran away after being wounded and he turned the gun on himself.

JAPAN IS AGAIN PEEVED AT U. S.

CERTAIN CLAUSES IN IMMIGRATION BILL ARE DEEMED NOT QUITE TO THEIR LIKING BY THE NIPPONESE

United Press Service
WASHINGTON, April 22.—President Wilson today discussed with Baron Chinda, the Japanese ambassador, certain provisions of the immigration bill the house recently passed, which are objectionable to Japan. Simultaneously, Japan sent the state department a memorandum covering her complaint. It is understood that objection is made to the classifying alike of Japanese and Hindus, and the restriction placed upon the number of Japanese immigrants to be admitted.

GERMAN LEADER OF THE TURKISH ARMIES IS DEAD

IS SEVERE BLOW TO THE MOSLEM ARMS

Liquid Fire Is Again Used in the Fighting Around Verdun—British Counter Attack, and Recapture Trenches Taken Earlier by the Germans—Sofia Is Bombarbed by Airmen—Other News of the War.

United Press Service
BERLIN, April 22.—Field Marshal von der Goltz, commander of the First Turkish army, died at army headquarters after ten days' illness with spotted fever. This is considered a severe blow to the Turkish arms, as Goltz practically directed all Turkish military movements. Marshal von der Goltz was considered by many to be Germany's greatest soldier. He was the first military governor of Belgium, and he organized Germany's secret defenses along the Russian border.

BERLIN, April 22.—It is officially admitted that the British recaptured a third of the trenches the Germans took Wednesday in their attack between Ypres and Langemarck. The French have gained a foothold in the German trenches in Caurette wood.

United Press Service
Paris, April 22.—It is announced that the Germans, attacking with liquid fire to the northwest of Verdun, and occupied the slopes of Dead Man's Hill. French counter attacks finally ousted them. Flame projectors are also being used by the Germans in a desperate fight north of Caurette wood. French artillery fire is decimating the advancing German infantrymen.

AMSTERDAM, April 22.—An aeroplane last night bombarded Sofia. This is the first time it has been raided since the war started. No casualties are reported.

United Press Service
BERLIN, April 22.—It is officially announced that the French penetrated the German trenches in a heavy attack on Caurette Wood Thursday. Elsewhere in the fighting around Verdun that day they were repulsed. French attacks in the vicinity of Dead Man's Hill were repulsed.

United Press Service
PARIS, April 22.—It is announced that Thursday night the Germans made a powerful attack along a front one mile in length. Near Vaux and to the south of Douaumont they took some French trenches, but were later repulsed. The French then advanced upon both sides of the Meuse.

The Comedy Pirate and His Victim

Clarence Reginald Hudson, alias Ernst Schiller, and several comic German names, captured the British freighter Matoppo, single handed, from Captain Bargner and his crew of fifty-six, just outside of New York harbor. Taken to New York he told detectives he and three friends had planned to board the Cunard liner Pannonia and sink her at sea. When Hudson, whose father is British and mother German, stuck his pistol in the face of Captain Bargner in the cabin of the Matoppo, he said the master of the ship was almost as scared as he was himself.

MIDLAND MEET WELL ATTENDED

CANDIDATES AND VOTERS MET TOGETHER—NEAR PANIC IS CAUSED WHEN OIL STOVE CATCHES FIRE

The political pot is boiling in Klamath. Whether any more people are now attending the meetings than at the beginning of the campaign, it is hard to determine, but it is a fact that more candidates are present at each late meeting than at the former ones. Last evening at Midland thirty-three candidates met the voters of the Midland precinct. A short program was rendered by the students and residents of the district; a song by six girls, a reading by Mrs. Sigford, instrumental number by Mrs. Lloyd and a reading by Miss Wilma Lloyd, a little tot of five years. The program was enjoyed, and most of the speeches were well received by the voters, principally because of the brevity of the candidates. A diversion was caused during the speeches by an oil stove catching on fire, and a near panic resulted through the impression of some that the fuel was gasoline instead of kerosene. The crowd was quieted soon and the flaming stove carried outside with no damage save the destruction of the stove. Refreshments consisting of ice cream, cake and coffee were served. The proceeds went to the Parent-Teachers Association for beautifying the school grounds.

NEW REVOLT IS SAID TO HAVE GERMAN MONEY

REPORT, HOWEVER, IS STILL UNCONFIRMED

American expedition is at a Standstill, and Following Conference Between Funston and Scott, Dispatch Bearers Leave El Paso for Pershing's Headquarters—Many Arrests in Connection With Revolution.

United Press Service
SAN ANTONIO, April 22.—Following a conference between Generals Scott and Funston, secret riders have been rushed toward Pershing. General Scott's presence here seems the signal for renewed activity. It is not known whether Scott has agreed to a change of the expedition supply base from Columbus to the Presidio. Officials say there is little likelihood of a withdrawal. Guarded comments have been heard to the effect that America is ready to meet Carranza opposition, if necessary, to get Villa.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 22.—President Wilson is awaiting General Scott's report before he makes any move in the Mexican situation. The big question seems to be "what is Carranza's attitude?" Since the clash at Parral, there have been persistent reports that the Carranzistas are mobilizing south of Parral. General Scott is attempting to determine whether the Carranzistas who ordered Americans not to advance beyond Parral are acting on their own initiative, or upon orders from Carranza.

EL PASO, Tex., April 22.—News of the executions of movers in a revolution, with mention of German money, came from the Mexican rumor factory today. These reports were given so much attention locally that the expedition is almost overlooked. It is reported that Generals Blanco, Narreta, Torres and two other Carranzistas were executed this morning at Guadalupe on charge of conspiracy against Carranza.

Arrests are being made by the wholesale by the Carranzistas. Agents for this revolution are also said to be busy in America. Consul Garcia says he has heard that the German interests financed Villa to bring on a war with the United States, to insure keeping America out of the European conflict. The statement is unconfirmed, and Americans and Mexican secret service officers are investigating.

Torreon arrivals report that General Trevino proposed to the British consul the internment of Americans of the Torreon and Laguna districts in prison camps. This report is not officially confirmed. There are twenty-four Americans at Torreon. Arrivals say a Carranza officer, at pistol point, prevented a Mexican mob from attacking the American consulate at Durango last Friday.

Saxon Makes First Trip Through From Portland

To the Saxon goes the record of being the first car to make the trip from Portland to Klamath Falls this spring. The trip was made by Harry Telford of Telford Bros., local agents for the Saxon. The total distance covered was 465 miles. The gasoline average was 18 3-5 miles to the gallon, and the car traveled an average of 77 2-3 miles on a quart of cylinder oil. Telford left Portland on the morning of April 11th. Between Portland and Eugene he averaged 25 miles an hour, and reports the roads there as good. At the Pass Creek canyon, south of Eugene, the roads became muddy, and near Comstock a landslide of mud resulted in the car becoming stalled. The second day's travel brought Telford to Glendale, the road between there and Comstock being in fair condition, though, of course, muddy at that time. After a short stop in Ashland, the Saxon tackled the Siskiyou, crossing without trouble, although the road was muddy in some places before Hornbrook was reached. After spending the night in Hornbrook, Telford left there at 10 o'clock and reached Klamath Falls at 3 o'clock. He says this road is in pretty fair shape, although there are some rough spots and some mud holes.
