

Collegiate Athletes Assemble for Relay

United Press Service

PHILADELPHIA, April 28.—Two hundred and fifty athletes, representing the best men American universities and colleges, will assemble on Franklin Field this afternoon in the preliminary heats of the University of Pennsylvania two-day relay carnival.

Those who qualify will compete in the final tomorrow.

While the various teams will endeavor to win the point trophy for their individual alma mater, the struggle primarily will be a gigantic battle for supremacy between East and West.

Never in the history of the Penn relay classic has such a group of athletes been gathered as today. This is partly due to the European war, which caused abandonment of the Olympic games. Altogether there are eighty colleges competing with a representation of over 100 teams. The colleges entered in the championships are:

Yale, Harvard, Princeton, Cornell, Dartmouth, Michigan, Chicago, Illinois, Pennsylvania, University of Minnesota, University of Wisconsin, Notre Dame, Kansas, Indiana, Occidental College, Brigham University, Iowa State, Georgetown, Columbia, Syracuse, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Hamilton College, Michigan Agricultural, Holy Cross and Pennsylvania State.

When these colleges represented by such stars as Meredith of Penn, Diamond of Chicago, Wilcox of Harvard and Moore of Princeton, there is more than a chance that new world records will be established.

This prediction was made today despite the fact the records in two of the relay championships and some of the pentathlon events are as low as it seems possible human legs and also strength can take them.

While unusual attention is directed toward the sprint and distance medley championships and the special events, chief interest centers in the one-mile relay, with the two and four mile championships almost sharing the same attention.

Harvard is picked by many dopesters to win the mile event. Bingham, Teschner and Wilcox of last year's speedy quartet are entered, while as a fourth man the Crimson has Biddle, Minor and Pennybacker, all of whom can do close to fifty seconds for the quarter-mile.

Coch Donovan feels confident that this team will break the present record, now held by Pennsylvania, of 3 minutes and 18 seconds.

Pennsylvania, however, is figured in some quarters to repeat, but while the Quakers retain Ted Meredith, Kaufman and Lockwood, experts point out that the loss of Don Lippincott, one of the fastest quarter-milers in the country, will greatly reduce the Red and Blue's chance for success.

Princeton, Chicago, Dartmouth, Kansas and Wisconsin also have entered in the mile relay and are classed as dark horses.

From the way the runners shaped up during the spring it looks as though Yale should have a good chance to slice something off Princeton's figures for the two-mile event.

The Tigers' record established last year, is 7 minutes and 55.25 seconds, may cause Yale and Princeton no little trouble.

The dark horses in the event are considered to be Michigan, Kansas and Pennsylvania.

In the four-mile relay, Cornell is expected to repeat her performance of 1911, when the Ithicans walked away with the event to the tune of 17 minutes and 55.15 seconds, establishing the present record.

Three of the men Cornell has entered are Windagle, Potter and Hoffmire. All can run the mile in 4 minutes, 25 seconds.

The most formidable team the Ithicans will stack up against in this event will be Massachusetts Institute of Technology, which defeated Cornell at the indoor inter-collegiate.

The medley relays, freshmen championships and the special events are well represented, nearly thirty colleges having entered teams and men in these events alone.

Worthington of Dartmouth, who finished best to Berry of Penn in the pentathlon championship last year, is entered again. In a recent broad jump trial, he cleared 32 feet, 4.12 inches, which was two inches better than his winning jump here last year.

DANCING PARTY GIVEN TONIGHT

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION MEMBERS AND STUDENTS OF KLAMATH COUNTY HIGH SCHOOL WILL TRIF LIGHT FANTASTIC

The dance to help the Catholic fund, which was postponed from April 14, will be given tonight. Although not a high school dance, the proceeds of the occasion will be contributed toward the athletic deficit of the high school.

A committee of high school boys in connection with the Alumni has invited the Alumni and the students of the high school.

This affair will be held in Houston's opera house, and the music will be furnished by the Peerless orchestra, beginning promptly at 9 o'clock. Gentlemen will be charged seventy-five cents.

ZUMPAIT GIVES PAVING COSTS

REITERATES STATEMENT THAT SHIPPINGTON ROAD NEED NOT COST MORE THAN TWENTY THOUSAND DOLLARS

City Engineer Zumwalt a short time ago made an estimate of the cost of improving the road to Shippington. He stated then that the work could be done for $20,000.

Today he reiterated this statement, and sets forth the following figures: Main trunk road, four inch oiled macadam, 14,080 square yards, at $1 per square yard, $14,080.

Two branch roads, fourteen feet wide, five inches of crushed rock, at $2 per cubic yard, $2,250.

Grading, etc., $3,640.

Making a total of $20,000.

Some of those opposed to the improvement have stated that it would be impossible to improve the road for less than $40,000.

PELICAN MILL TO RUN NIGHT SHIFT

OUTPUT OF MILL WILL BE DOUBLED, WITH INCREASED PAYROLL AT THE OTHER END OF SHIPPINGTON ROAD

A material increase in the payroll of the Pelican Bay Lumber company is to be made soon, for beginning May 1st the big sawmill is to be operated twenty hours daily. This will increase the daily cut to 300,000 feet, and will necessitate the employment of fifty or more men in the mill.

Announcement to this effect was made today by President H. D. Mortenson of the company. This means increased prosperity for all of Klamath Falls, providing the highway connecting with Shippington and Pelican City is improved, so the mill employees can reach town to do their trading, instead of having to send away for goods.

The improvement of the road will also make it possible for these mill employees to reside in the main portion of town, renting or buying homes, while they ride to and from work on bicycles.

By FILMPHAN

For the second time within a fortnight, Klamath Falls theatergoers will tonight have an opportunity to witness "Carmen" at the Star theater. Although the two films are founded upon the same story, they are different, and are portrayed by different companies, supporting leading ladies, who are favorites with all, but who are before the public eye in entirely different theatrical work.

The exhibition given a short time ago was a dramatization of the dramatic version of "Carmen," as produced on the stage, Theda Bara appearing in the title role. Tonight, the operatic version will be shown, with none other than Geraldine Farrar, America's greatest opera star, playing

"Carmen." A comparison of the two versions should be of interest to all theatergoers and tonight's production should be of especial interest to music lovers, as it shows a star of the first magnitude a little out of her orbit—but nevertheless an extremely capable actress, keeping all interested.

As to which version is the best there is much discussion. The supporters of Theda Bara point with pride to the famous leap to death and say, "Can the Farrar film touch that?" to which the people favoring the operatic version reply that Miss Farrar and her company make their film a success by real acting, not by introduction of thrills foreign to the story.

Those who witness tonight's exhibition will find Miss Farrar a much more fascinating "Carmen" than Theda-of-the-Eyes. They will also find an able cast supporting her, a real interesting plot, with real thrills furnished by the realistic fight between

"Carmen" and another cigaret factory girl, by Jose's duello, and last, but not least, by the bull fight, which is more fight than "bull."
