Big Times in Store for Rose Queen and Retinue

(Herald Special Service)

PORTLAND, May 1.—The queen of the 1916 Rose Festival, with her maids of honor, will find something of interest every hour during the progress of the June celebration.

The queen will visit the festival center the afternoon of June 6, where with J. H. Dundore, president of the festival, and Mayor Albee, she will rehearse the crowning ceremony.

This ceremony will take place the evening of June 6, when Mayor Albee presents her with the key to the city and, in company with the mayor and festival governors, she will inspect the festival center.

Opening day, June 7, the queen rides at the head of the children's parade at 3:45 a. m. At 2 p. m. she is crowned "Queen of the Columbia" at the national dedication ceremonies of the Columbia river highway at Multnomah Falls. The same evening she is the guest of honor at a magnificent display of fireworks on the Willamette River, in which the reproduction of the sinking of a battleship by a submarine will be presented. Colored lights and the presence of Portland's fire boats will make this a most spectacular feature.

The second day finds the queen present when the second annual roller skating marathon is held. On the afternoon she appears in the beautiful floral parade, and in the evening presides at the children's sing, where more than 5,000 boys and girls take part.

June 9th, closing day, features the queen in the mammoth fraternal, military and civic parade, the first Rose Festival regatta and the Utees carnival parade to close the show. She will appear at the annual rose show of the Portland Rose Society, and take part in the many other functions festival week.

It will be a merry festival time for the ruler of the tenth annual festa in the Oregon metropolis.

pily recalled by those who have followed the fortunes of the Bluebirds. Their newest collaboration will be shown at the Orpheus theater tonight under the title of "The Flirt," a picturization of Booth Tarkington's clever serial story of the same name that ran so entertainingly in the Saturday Evening Post. Marie Walcamp will play the role of the flirt, and Juan de la Cruz will be her leading man. Both of these clever players were, by the way, members of the "Hop" cast, and this time they play the leads.

Election Day Dinner

The ladies of the Sacred Heart church will hold a dinner on the day of the primary election. The place will be announced later.
