

Not the envelope—but what the envelope contains—is what accounts for the wonderfully successful sale of Wirthmor Waists everywhere

These four new charming styles in Wirthmor Waists go on sale tomorrow. As always, they're just $1.00, and as always they're exclusive models—and could not be bought elsewhere at any price.

IT'S true that Wirthmor Waists are, and have been from their very inception years ago, packed in sanitary transparent envelopes. It's not, however, the method of packing—that's responsible for their wonderfully successful sale—but the extreme desirability of the waists themselves. Wirthmor Waists are always neat, simple, refined in style—and so made as to insure lasting satisfaction. That's why they sell so well—and that's why every woman who buys them once will buy them again and again. No other waists of the same or somewhat higher prices compare with the Wirthmor in value.

Unless the envelope is stamped Wirthmor the Waist the envelope contains is not a Wirthmor. And remember this, that Wirthmor Waists, in this city, are sold in just this one store.

Making Gasolene Cheap for the Poor Motorist

This is Dr. Walter F. Rittman of the federal bureau of mines, and the experiment station in Pittsburg, where he makes gasoline much cheaper than that sold by the Standard Oil company and other refiners of oil. He experimented till he could add 200 per cent to the quantity taken from petroleum. This station cost $250,000. Representative Randall of California proposes that the government acquire by condemnation proceedings all the oil producing land, in order to keep down the price of petroleum and its products.

PINE GROVE PICKUPS

Believing with the Chicago churchmen, that "advertising will make any church a success," and that "the church bulletin board should be large enough to give every pedestrian a punch in the eye," we make special report this week of the work being done in this community by the church and Sunday school.

Rev. O. T. Morgan filled his regular appointment at Pine Grove school house last Sunday afternoon. Church services begin promptly at 2 o'clock each Sunday afternoon and Sunday school follows the close of the preaching service. All are invited to attend, and we assure you a hearty welcome.

The Bible class organized April 23d, electing Chas. Mack teacher, H. M. Miller president, Mrs. Henry Grimes vice president and Emma H. Murray secretary-treasurer. Captains were then appointed, and sides chosen for a membership contest. Mrs. S. E. Icenbice was chosen captain of Company A and Mrs. Earley Arant captain of Company B. The contest is to extend over a period of three months. At the end of that time the company losing must entertain the other company.

We wish to call attention to the children's services preceding the regular church services each Sunday afternoon. These meetings are conducted by Dr. Morgan, and are both interesting and instructive.

The young people spent an enjoyable time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Miller a short time ago, the occasion being the birthday of Miss Norah Miller. The eighth and ninth grades from the Henley school and the young people's Sunday school class of Pine Grove, in all thirty-two people, with their teachers, Mr. Sexton and Mrs. Johnson of Henley and Miss Murray of Pine Grove, attended the affair.

Our school fittingly observed Arbor Day by planting trees on the school grounds and by rendering a program of appropriate songs, compositions and recitations.

Earl Mack was recently suffering with a badly sprained ankle, caused by his horse falling.

Mrs. T. M. Cunningham is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Arant, at Ashland.

Mrs. S. McKenzie entertained the ladies of the Civic Club in honor of her mother, Mrs. Holland, recently. All report a nice time.

The Anti-Cant Sunday school class met at the home of Miss Hazel Arant Friday evening.

The Pine Grove church held its first annual business meeting recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mack. This was attended by Dr. O. F. Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Grimes and family, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Miller, Mrs. Brown and son Basil, Miss Crapson, Mrs. Icenbice, Mrs. B. Hawkins, Albert Miller and Cal Icenbice.

Will Spend Millions to Put Soldiers on Farms

J. S. DENNIS, ASSISTANT TO SHERIFF SHAWNEE

(Special Correspondence)
CALGARY, May 2.—The providing of employment for returned soldiers is a question that is demanding much attention, and it has been with great satisfaction that Canadians learned that the Canadian Pacific railway is to take action in this regard.

J. S. Dennis, assistant to the president of the Canadian Pacific railway, makes this statement: "The decision of Lord Shaughnessy to provide farm homes for returned soldiers is a further proof of his willingness to devote his great energy and ability, and the resources of the company, to the solution of the problems facing Canada."

An Immense Project
"The task of preparing 1,000 farms involves building 1,000 houses and 1,000 barns, constructing 1,300 miles of fence, digging 1,000 wells, breaking and cultivating 50,000 acres. The buildings will require 30,000,000 feet of lumber; preparation of farms will entail an expenditure of $3,500,000.

"One thousand farms will provide for an extremely small proportion of returned soldiers, and the government must adopt some general policy of providing these homes.

"The enlistment of 250,000 additional men called for by the government will double the number to be taken care of after the war. The Western provinces have responded nobly to the call of the empire and already there is a shortage of labor of all kinds. In the effort to meet this shortage, the government is now advertising in 4,000 papers in the United States for 50,000 laborers. They find there is no chance of getting this number of men, and have announced that from 2,000 to 5,000 is the greatest number that can be obtained.

Shortage of Labor
"The recognition of this shortage and the efforts of the government to meet the situation by bringing men from the United States is a contradiction of the statement at a meeting in Montreal a short time ago by General Sir Sam Hughes, minister of militia, that the enlistment in the West was not causing any shortage of labor.

"Every true Canadian realizes that Canada must ultimately send her last man and spend her last dollar to enable the empire and her allies to bring the war to a victorious termination, but why enlist men before they can be used?

It is now recognized that under the most favorable circumstances it will be the end of the year before all the men now enlisted can be transported across the Atlantic, and after that only 10,000 men a month can be sent. Many of the battalions now authorized are much below full strength, and it will be months before they will enlist their full quota.

Of the men already enlisted, Western Canada has provided more than its share on the basis of population. We are proud of that fact, but why drive a willing horse off its feet?"

Swiss System Is Further Explained by Staff Writer

By WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

(This is the second of a series of five articles by Shepherd dealing with the Swiss system of military training for citizens, in its relation to the possibilities of a similar system in the United States.—Editor.)

BERNE, May 2.—A little blue book, Mr. American, with your name and your photograph, and a score of facts about your life written in it, which you would carry in your pocket all the time, would be the token of the upheaval in American life which would be caused by the introduction of the Swiss military system, in its entirety, in the United States.

"Here's my book," said Luigi Corti, a storekeeper of Chicasso, who used to live in Texas. "Every Swiss must carry his book with him. When I go to the bank I take it. When I go to a strange Swiss city I'm asked for it. I show it when I register at the hotel, when I draw money, when I send a telegram. My book shows how much military service I've done. If I neglected my duty, my book will show it."

"Do you think Americans would like to carry books like that?"

"Not the kind of Americans I used to know in Texas twenty years ago. The Americans don't like their government to interfere with them," said Luigi.

Luigi was in the American army during the Spanish-American war.

"This little book," he explained, "is issued by the federal government. Down in Texas the folks got along all right with the mayor and the policemen and the sheriff, but the minute you said 'United States marshal' they pricked up their ears.

"American folks don't like to be governed by Washington."

Luigi Corti had his Texas folks right. He had a lot of other Americans right, too. This little blue book would mean that you were tabbed and listed by the federal government.

Some years ago this would have sounded more un-American than it does today, because in reality you are now tabbed and listed on the federal income rolls. But this little book of military service and citizenship would keep you in your niche, right under the eye of the federal military authorities, all the time. If you left Chicago to live in Cleveland you would be forced to have your military book read by the military commander of the city you were leaving and signed by the commander in the city to which you moved.

A centralized government would have its grip on you.

Even the Swiss, after eighteen months of war, are becoming restless under the central military control of Berne. In peace times the local commander is an officer chosen by the soldiers in the local troops; he is always a man from the neighborhood.

But during the war high officers from Berne have gone to the various corners of Switzerland to take control, and the independent Swiss citizens don't like it. Not any more than Americans in California would like to have an army officer from Washington come and rule their lives and actions. There have been half a dozen parliamentary quarrels in the Swiss congress within the last four months over this matter.

The little blue book, issued by the state government, wouldn't be an inconvenience. Americans in every district, to judge by the experience of the Swiss, would want to elect their own officers and be under the control of their own state government.

Any Swiss can tell you that to submit to any other arrangement is to upset the fundamental ideas on which both the United States and the Swiss federation were founded. Military men in Switzerland want federal control. The citizens want control or state control. And when they don't have it they raise a row, that serves to ease up the federal pressure on them.

(Article No. 3 will tell how long it takes in Switzerland to learn how to become one of the best soldiers in the world. It is a surprisingly short time.)

Let Us Help You Clean House

No matter how thoroughly you clean the rooms, dingy walls with cracks and patches still remain an eye-sore.

You have put off repairing them, perhaps, because of the awful mess it makes. We don't blame you. Tearing down old plaster, daubing on new and then covering it with wallpaper is always a distressing job.

But you don't have to go through the torture to get the finest walls that you could wish for—walls of the highest quality—walls of genuine Beaver Board.

All you have to do with Beaver Board is to apply it right over the old lath and plaster, paint according to your taste and you're done. No waiting for plaster to dry.

We'll consider it a favor if you ask us to help you plan.
