

NEGOTIATIONS WITH MEXICO END WITHOUT ANY REAL RESULTS

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 12.—Following the close of the conferences between Generals Scott and Obregon last night, with nothing definite being settled, General Scott has been ordered here, and the administration has cast the burden of further negotiations upon Carranza.

No action will be taken until Mexican Ambassador Arredondo makes a request. Then Mexico will be informed officially that American troops will not be withdrawn until the border is entirely safe from further incursions by Mexican bands.

"It looks like it's their next move," said a cabinet member today after a meeting to consider the matter. The situation is considered more serious now than at any time since the expedition entered Mexico.

It is understood that General Obregon feared the political prestige of himself and of Carranza would suffer if he closed the agreement with the United States.

He told a friend that Carranza, in rejecting this, "saved me from myself." "He knows I'm a fool," continued Obregon. "Had he accepted the agreement I would have been a dead cock in the pit so far as Mexico is concerned."

Following the breaking up of the conferences, General Obregon ordered General Trevino to send ten thousand men into the region opposite Big Bend, and to Parral. The purpose is believed to be to prove that the Carranzistas are able to control the bandit situation, and to have this established before the Washington negotiations are opened.

ANOTHER KLAMATH STUDENT HONORED

MISS ELINOR COGSWELL, HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATE, IS ELECTED TO THE NATIONAL SCHOLASTIC HONOR FRATERNITY

That Klamath county high school's course is by no means a poor preparatory for collegiate and university work is being demonstrated by students' records in the coast's leading institutions. From Stanford comes yet another tale of achievement for a Klamath girl.

Miss Elinor V. Cogswell, class of 1911 of Klamath county high school, has been elected to Phi Beta Kappa, the national honor fraternity and the goal of all ambitious college students. Miss Cogswell is a member of this graduating class at Leland Stanford University. She is majoring in psychology and English and has been assistant instructor in the psychology department the past year. She has had an offer from the university as an assistant in English, following her graduation.

She Tells How to Keep a Man

United Press Service
SAN FRANCISCO, May 12.—Mrs. B. F. Roller, the "physical culture bride," has discovered the way to keep a husband. Here is the recipe:

"Wrestle for ten minutes every day. Know something about all the sports he knows about. Be able to talk of the baseball game intelligently and outpoint him on plays if you can. This keeps him from the club, where he goes to talk of sports, and lends an air of companionship which makes a wife seem like a pal.

"Keep in athletic trim, so that he will admire your suppleness, and by constant exercise you will be able to indulge in some of his sports, such as wrestling or boxing."

Mrs. Roller is the wife of Dr. B. F. Roller, the wrestler, formerly of Seattle, but now in the East. She has just returned from a trip to Honolulu.

Practical Work of High School Students Shown

The first glance the passerby directs at the spacious display windows of the Biwin Hardware company will cause a feeling of surprise, which will give way to the thought that the "City of Paris" or "White House" has moved here from San Francisco, and has displayed in the windows its finest in feminine apparel.

But a second glance will disclose some placards announcing the display to be the work of the domestic science department of the Klamath county high school. And the unmarried men who gaze upon the bewildering array register a resolve to marry a K. C. H. S. graduate if they marry at all.

The display includes every type of feminine apparel, from slinky, dainty lingerie to suits, dresses and coats, the equal of any product of the sartorial art to be found in the stores. All of the work was done by the students as part of their course of study, and the exhibit proves that while acquiring a scholastic finish, under the direction of Miss Mabel Mears they acquired real knowledge in home making and practical economy.

But what have the boys been doing?

Forge work, wood work, wood turning, bench and cabinet work, mechanical drawing and other useful work, under the direction of E. J. Mayer. In a short time a display of their work will be made in the windows of the Virgil Furniture company, and this will be well worth walking a mile to see.

K. F. TEAM PLAYS AT DORRIS 4TH

LOCALS WILL PLAY A THREE-GAME SERIES WITH THE FAST WILLOWS GIANTS AS PART OF BIG CELEBRATION

Klamath Falls vs. Willows at Dorris, July 3-4-5.

This is the bill for the natal day celebration as far as Klamath Falls and the local ball team is concerned. After failing in the attempt to get the business men interested in a celebration, a proposition was offered for a three-day baseball tournament here. This also failed to meet with any support and consequently the management is on the eve of closing a contract with the Dorris celebration committee for three games in Dorris with the Willows Giants as opponents.

The Willows Giants have a phenomenal record, having played 300 games and lost only fifteen, some of these being to professional teams.

Manager Watts today heard from Dunsunulr. That team will be here Sunday, May 21. This will be their first appearance on the local grounds for a good many years.

In the meantime, don't forget Sunday's game against the Yainax Reds. Come out and look the gang over, and see if Bigbee looks as good as he did last year.

EZRA MEEKER TO EMIGRATE AGAIN

United Press Service
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 12.—It was the same old "timonose," but a modern or-less chassis, that the same old Ezra Meeker, 55-year-old-transcontinental traveler, hauled out of its shed here today, to look over in preparation for Ezra's fourth jaunt from coast to coast.

Meeker calls his renovated vehicle a "schoonermobile." It's all of that. The top is the same, label-covered prairie schooner top which Ezra's oxen have dragged three times over the roads between here and the Pacific. Under it is an up-to-date, motor-driven chassis.

Within a few days Meeker starts for Olympia, Wash., a distance of 3,550 miles. Meeker is the original triple-exponent and proponent of a national, coast-to-coast highway. He expects to drive over one before Old Man Time gets him.

JOHN HOUSTON IS H. S. PRESIDENT

STUDENT BODY ELECTIONS RESULT IN CHOOSING A MEMBER OF THE JUNIOR CLASS—CECIL ADAMS VICE-PRESIDENT

At the student body election held this week at the Klamath county high school, John Houston, a junior, was elected president for the coming year. Cecil Adams was elected first vice-president, Wilfred Henry was chosen second vice-president, and Clara Calkins was named as secretary-treasurer.

There were several candidates for each office, except secretary-treasurer. The elections were held at this time owing to a constitutional amendment providing for the choosing of officers for the next term in May of the preceding year.

LAKE EXCURSION IS CALLED OFF

WEATHER CONDITIONS MAY NOT BE THE BEST—IN THE MEANTIME, VOTES ARE PILING UP FOR KLAMATH GIRL

Owing to the unsettled condition of the weather, it has been deemed advisable not to hold the excursion to Upper Klamath Lake points Sunday afternoon, as previously planned. This may be held later.

The excursion's purpose was the raising of sinews of war for Miss Waive Jacobs' contest for queen of the Rose Festival.

Since Waive has jumped to the lead, and votes this week have six times their usual value, Klamath Falls boosters are rallying to the cause, and as a result there has been considerable over $100 raised already for the Klamath girl. All contemplating supporting our candidate should do so this week, as every $1 spent for votes draws an extra 5,000 votes, and a landslide can be let loose from here that will effectively overwhelm every other aspirant for queen of the big Portland Festa.

The dance will be held in the Merrill opera house. The well known Peerless orchestra will play, and a supper will be served by the Merrill women.

The Merrill candidates ball is always the biggest event of the year in Southern Klamath.

FRANCIS OLDS IS NOW IN THE ARMY

J. B. McALLISTER AND "KING OSCAR" LARSEN HAVE ALSO BEEN CALLED TO THE COLORS AND GO ON FIRING LINE

Fired with patriotism, Francis Olds has joined the army. He is now the standard bearer. And Oscar, the cobbler, he is also a soldier, yeelp a general, and Alderman J. B. McAllister of Pelican City is a captain. Perhaps army? Nay, nay, the "Army of the Lord," and the little band of players will make the Salvation Army scene in "A Night in Bohemia," the Elks' show, one of the biggest hits of the decade.

Larsen is General Misfortune. The other characters (aside from the mysterious bass drum soloist) are: Major Gloom, Austin Hayden; flag bearer, Francis Olds; Captain Prunes, J. B. McAllister; General Electric (shocking), Clarence H. Harris; Salvation Nell, Josephine Van Ripper; Rag Time Liz, Helen Maguire; Captain Bal Sapper, Waive Jacobs; General Round-up, Mabel Martin; General Prosperity, Ione Steinman; Corporal Cigarettes, Mrs. Joseph B. An added attraction is a special conversational song number, "Down Home in Tennessee," to be rendered by a double quartet, including Mr. and Mrs. H. Roland Glaisyer, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon T. Mutschbacher, Lawrence Mehauffey and Clarence H. Harris. This promises to be one of the most delightful bits on the joyful program.

WANTS CONGRESS TO DENOUNCE THE IRISH EXECUTIONS

DYER INTRODUCES BILL IN THE HOUSE

Says American People Are Horrified at the Punishment Meted to Men Who, Fired With Patriotism, Sought to Establish Republic—Asquith is Called to Dublin, as Situation is More Serious

United Press Service
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 12.—Representative Dyer today introduced in the house a resolution asking congress to formally denounce the Irish executions, and to:

"Express the horror of the American people over the summary execution of Irish patriots, who, following the inspiration of the American revolution, dedicated themselves to their country's cause, as they conceived it, and attempted as an organized force under forms of war, to erect a republic."

United Press Service
LONDON, May 12.—Premier Asquith reached Dublin today to take charge of affairs. The situation there is admittedly more serious, and he will immediately prepare for court-martials, following his conference with General Maxwell and the civil authorities.

Cabinet officials and others have received thousands of messages protesting the execution of editor Sheehy-Kernan.

Asquith stated today that E. M. Deane and other revolt leaders were executed this afternoon. Newspapers differ on predictions as to whether Asquith will establish partial home rule while in Ireland.

In conformity with the common need and in a special spirit of helpfulness to the new members of the church, Rev. E. C. Richards of the Methodist church will begin next Sunday morning a series of short lectures on Methodism.

These will be from five to ten minutes in length and precede the morning sermons, taking the place of a part of the regular ritual. They will consist of the history, beliefs, laws and scope of the church in its nearly two hundred years of history.

The first talk, given Sunday, will be upon the subject Susannah Wesley, the mother of Methodism. Those interested in knowing something of the scope of Methodism are especially invited to be present.

HENLEY TO HAVE COLONIAL PLAY

SIXTY CHILDREN WILL TAKE PART IN PLAY TO BE GIVEN ON MONDAY EVENING—PLENTY OF SEATS FOR ALL Unusual interest is being taken in the colonial play to be presented at the Henley schoolhouse Monday night. Many Klamath Falls people will attend.

Sixty children will take part in the production, which is representative of American history from the time of Columbus' discovery to the present day. Adults will be charged 50 cents, including lunch to be served.

Arrangements have been made to have comfortable seats for all attending.

Oneill Continues His Campaign of Mud Slinging Dirty Politics

The following is a verbatim report of one of the speeches of C. M. Oneill, who with Prosecuting Attorney John Irwin, is making a mud-slinging campaign throughout Klamath county, in the hope of gaining favor from the voters. In the light of what is shown by the court records, and what is vouched for by other attorneys, it appears singular that a man, seeking as high and as dignified a position as circuit judge from the people, should stoop to such muck raking practices in the hope of gaining votes by seeking to besmirch Judro Kuykendall.

The speech follows:

I would like to say to all you people here that I am obliged to you for coming out to hear what I have to say and, in connection with Mr. Irwin, we would like to thank the directors who presided over this school, for providing means for permitting us to have the opportunity to meet and speak to you tonight.

As you all know, I have come out here for the purpose of securing votes, as I am a candidate for nomination in the coming primaries, for judge of this district, the 13th Judicial District, upon the republican ticket.

Now there has been more or less said at different times and at different places in this county, with regard to the propriety of a candidate advertising and doing what I am doing in this campaign, and what I shall continue to do with regard to the means and methods that I am using for the purpose of bringing the facts before you people, and I desire to call your attention to some things that are transpiring in a political way in this county, and in the courts of this county.

As you all know, I am engaged in the practice of law in Klamath Falls, and have been for the last seven years. However that may be, long or short, I am now before you as a candidate for the office of judge as I have just said, and you may say that saving what I have to say is a selfish motive, and of course it is. I am going to be frank with you, that I am here for the purpose and sole purpose of securing votes in this district. And in saying that I trust you will take it as I mean it. Now I believe that I can better conditions for you in many ways, if I am elected as presiding judge upon the bench in this district, if I could not, there would be no object in my making any change whatever, there is no object in changing officers unless you can get one that can give you better public service, better than what you now have. There are many conditions concerning the judge of this district that is of very grave importance, and everyone of you as citizens should be interested in the matters which are under discussion tonight.

Now it has been said, as I stated before, there has been some influence existing that was intended for me, because of the fact that I was campaigning for this position, there has been some talk about the way I was going about it and the questions that I have been bringing up, and it has been stated that because I was applying to the office of circuit judge, and because I am asking your confidence of the coming election, that I should not come out and detail conditions as they exist
