

Jas. M. Kyle of Umatilla county, candidate for the republican nomination for Public Service Commissioner from the Eastern Oregon district, is away in the lead in the present surface indications. It is confidently asserted by his friends that he will get as many votes in the counties south of the Blue Mountains as any one of the other five candidates, and west of Umatilla county he will run far ahead of any other man on the ticket, while in Umatilla county he will poll as big a percentage of the republican vote as did Judge Bean when he ran for the Supreme Court.

This is an important office, and it will be a great advantage to Eastern Oregon to have a man as well qualified and capable as Mr. Kyle on the board.

Mr. Kyle has been a big shipper for the last twenty-five years in Oregon, and thoroughly understands the needs and requirements of both the shipper and the producer. He is a level-headed business man, and will fill this important position with honor to himself and satisfaction to the people. No better man than Mr. Kyle could possibly be selected. Adv. 12-6t

In making tests for the foundations of a new building at Washington, D. C., there was sunk into the ground a concrete pile sixteen inches in diameter and sixty feet long—the largest that ever was made.

For its buildings all over the country, its war ships, army posts and light houses the United States government every year buys enough coal to make a pile a mile square and ten feet high.

LOTS

- A good one in Mills Addition at $175, on easy terms.
Another good one on Eleventh street, this side of canal, for $650.
