"The Precious Packet," in which it is told how, under the auspices of "The Younger Sons," Nigel Stuart, a young Englishman, performs an unusual service for his country. A penniless "younger son" of Lord Norex, Nigel Stuart, is disappointed in love, and leaves the home of his father. Through Everett and Kingdon, he becomes a member of "The Younger Sons," an organization composed of penniless sons of English nobles under the patronage and in the service of the government. In return for their deeds wealth and glory are bestowed. Nigel is ordered to Canada on his first mission. In his possession is a sealed packet, the contents of which are unknown to him, and which is not to be opened before a set date. The romance of court life and adventure woven around this plot is of gripping interest to all. In addition to this five reel production, the Selig Tribune, "Twice Won," a Biograph drama, "The Fire Escape," a Vitagraph comedy, and "The Rogues' Syndicate," a Kalem drama, will be shown at the Star, making an unusually good bargain night.

with his two base drives to left, but the next two batters failed to advance him. McAfee hit to the ditch bank back of third in the eighth, but was forced at second, Aiten to Maher.

In the first Klamath failed to connect with Lydiatt's slants, but in the second Ginger Greenwood hit after Bigbee grounded out to Nelson. McDonald overthrew first after fielding Greenwood's hit, but Greenwood was already past the bag on his way to second. He went to third on Clark's sacrifice and scored when the visiting left fielder failed to retrieve the ball Johnson sent in his direction.

In the fourth, Bigbee landed on first on McAfee's error, was sacrificed to third, and came home on Johnson's hit.

In the fifth Maher hit, was sacrificed to third by Bowden, and scored on Aiten's hit. Nothing more was done until the eighth, when, after two outs, Bigbee hit, went to second when Nelson let the throw from pitcher to first go to the fence, and scored on Greenwood's two base drive. Ginger tallied when Clark singled, and Jimmy scored on Johnson's click to center.

The game was interesting, and improvement in team work can be noted. The team showed to good advantage on the hit and run play, and three runs resulted from the boys' willingness to "lay it down" and be played out at first to advance a runner a base. Maher took two bases on Bowden's perfect bunt in the fifth. Johnson stole second neatly in the fourth.

Lydiatt is one of the pitchers of the old Boston Bloomer Girls team, and has always been deemed a hard man to beat. He struck out eight men, and worked nicely, but could not hold in the pinches. Bigbee was again there with the willow, getting a double and single. Greenwood did the same, and Johnson's two singles were responsible for three runs. The ability of the team to hit in pinches is noticeable.

In spite of the cold wind and counter attractions, a large crowd was at

Ford Picnic

days, and "Idlerest" was certainly most inviting for the picnickers. This sylvan paradise is too widely known to need description here, and in its springtime apparel it was most enchanting. Rowboats and a motorboat were at the disposal of the guests, and many took advantage of the chance and explored the beautiful streams to its source in a mass of crystal springs. Some of the "early birds" indulged in fly casting, and the members of their parties enjoyed Spring Creek trout with their lunches. The lunchtime appetite of all was enormous, and all present supplemented their viands from home with the ice cream served free by Mr. Diehn.

Following the picnic dinner the races were held, affording much amusement. The first and last to cross the line in each event was given a prize. The contest for the best "Ford joke" was rather slow, the jokesters being afraid, perhaps, lest the multitude of Ford owners throw them in the chilly waters of the creek. Roy Buckingham was easily the winner of the first prize.

Two panoramic pictures were taken of the cars, lined up in a circle, and then the exodus began. The day was one of unalloyed joy for all, and Mr. Diehn and Mr. Spink are both to be congratulated.

I wish to thank all who so kindly supported me in the recent primaries. I feel very grateful for receiving so many votes under the existing conditions. I will be in the race again two years from now.
