CAN YOU HELP?

A WEEK from today is the day dedicated to thoughts of the departed ones, to the memory of the heroes who have died in the cause of the nation. It is to be fittingly observed in Klamath Falls—if you and I will do our share toward making the observance all it should be.

The Grand Army is taking an active part in the work, and the members have called upon the patriotic and fraternal organizations for assistance. We should give it to them. The ranks of the “boys in blue” as well as those who fought with equal bravery for the confederacy, have been rapidly thinned by the attacks of General Time, and each year, it becomes more painfully apparent that the splendid old army, The Grand Army of the Republic, which fought to preserve our union will in a few years exist only in the loving memory of a grateful people. Their last years on this earth should be made happy. They should be honored as the heroes they are, with special services in their honor Memorial Day, instead of having to be the prime movers in the proper observance of the memory of their comrades in the “sixties,” who have gone on before them to the land where “taps” is not in the list of bugle calls.

Let us reverse the usual order this year, and help these grand old boys in their plan to make this the greatest success, by giving them our wholehearted co-operation and support. This is no more than our duty.

WAR AND BOX MAKING

REPORTS PUBLISHED in this issue, coming from various manufacturing points scattered but representative of wide sections of prominent activity, are to the effect that box making has had and probably will for many months enjoy a rejuvenation on robust lines—at some points a restoration to and increase of its best activity. The immediate cause is given as the higher prices of metal and paper.

Low grade lumber is responding in demand and prices in the sections first affected and the influence promises to extend. The wooden container is coming back to its own and in instances is reaching a plane better than its previous best; and wooden containers in most cases are made of low grade hard or soft woods. The extraordinary demands upon the iron and steel manufacturers and upon manufacturers of fiber—demands that are a direct outcome of the European war and that they are increasingly unable to meet—and the consequent higher prices for those materials automatically throw them out of consideration as materials for box making, and shippers of manufactured product must turn to the logical container, the wooden package, whatever their inclinations or prejudices may be.

The results hold promise that they will not be merely temporary. Should the direct influence of this condition become at once inoperative its earlier effect, the greater demand for the wooden article, could not as a business proposition cease at once; but, beyond that, the reintroduction of the wooden package where recently it has been neglected and its introduction where it has been unknown signify not only an effective advertisement for it but afford it rich opportunity to show its superiority over containers of metal and fiber that will have lasting effect.

And so low grade lumber, makers of wooden boxes and the national classification committee of the lumber, wooden box and allied interests find a substantial silver lining to the bell-curve black cloud across the Atlantic.—American Lumberman.

Hungarians Don't Like German Zep Campaign

United Press Service
ZURICH, Switzerland, May 23.—Hungarians disapprove of Germany's Zeppelin campaign. They object to it both on grounds of humanity and for what they consider its uselessness. Newspapers received here from the most important cities in Hungary are almost unanimous in deprecating such methods. They do not express themselves as freely as if there were no censorship, but they leave no doubt that the Hungarian people oppose this sort of warfare.

“By striking terror into the people of England,” says the Hiriag, commenting on Zeppelin activities, “it is thought that the government will suffer, but, as we can now see clearly, the raids do not serve the purpose they were intended for, and only result in the annihilation of civilians.”

Hot Water Each Morning Puts Roses in Your Cheeks

To look one's best and feel one's best is to enjoy an inside bath each morning to flush from the system the previous day's waste, sour fermentations and poisonous toxins before it is absorbed into the blood. Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of incombustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken each day leave in the alimentary organs a certain amount of indigestible material, which, if not eliminated, form toxins and poisons which are then sucked into the blood through the very ducts which are intended to suck in only nourishment to sustain the body.

If you want to see the glow of healthy bloom in your cheeks, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, you are told to drink every morning upon arising, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless means of washing the waste material and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Girls and women with sallow skins, liver spots, pimples or pallid complexion, also those who wake up with a coated tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, others who are bothered with headaches, bilious spells, acid stomach or constipation, should begin this phosphated hot water drinking and are assured of very pronounced results in one or two weeks.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses, purifies and freshens the skin on the outside, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the inside organs. We must always consider that internal sanitation is vastly more important than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while bowel pores do.

Women who desire to enhance the beauty of their complexion should just try this for a week and notice results (Advertisement)
