BEETS AND STOCK

IN ANOTHER part of this issue will be found an article from a Kansas City newspaper concerning the value of beet pulp as a stock fattener. Considering Klamath's importance as a stock-raising center, and its strategic location midway between the Coast's two largest markets, this should have an especial appeal here, and enlist the support of the stockmen in the work to secure beet sugar factories.

With such a splendid fattener close at hand, stockmen should be able to command much higher prices for their stock, as after being fed on hay alone, the animals are bound to shrink considerably in the long trip to the markets.

Yea, verily, viewed from every angle, the sugar beet industry is one that Klamath county should secure as soon as possible.

THE DEMOCRATIC KEY-NOTER

THE democrat national committee, according to Chairman McCombs, will not select the presiding officer for the St. Louis convention until early in June. The convention assemblies June 14—but it is perhaps quite as well not to choose the keynote sounder very long in advance, because the issues which the administration regards as paramount change with every veering of the president's mind; and it would be most embarrassing for a speaker to get an oration all ready to deliver and then find that the president had shifted his opinion again and left just so much oratorical matter dead on the key-noter's hands.

It is intimated that ex-Governor Glynn of New York will be the temporary presiding officer at St. Louis. This choice would be altogether fitting. When Glynn went before the people for election in 1914 and took to the voters that stirring shibboleth of the democracy, "Thank God for Woodrow Wilson," the obdurate electors of the Empire State turned him down by a majority of close up to 150,000. Accordingly, Governor Glynn is exactly the man to stand forth before the delegates at St. Louis as the embodiment of what has happened and of what is going to happen to the democrat party.

Why That Lame Back?

That morning lameness—those sharp pains when bending or lifting, make work a burden and rest impossible. Don't be handicapped by a bad back—look to your kidneys. You will make no mistake by following this Klamath Falls resident's example.

F. L. Uhrin, 111 Sargent street, Klamath Falls, says: "I was down with lumbago. For a day I couldn't move, as my back pained me so. It came on without warning. It felt as though my back was broken. I had only taken two doses of Doan's Kidney Pills when I was able to get about. One box permanently cured me of lumbago, for I have never had any return of the trouble for two years."

TIME TO ALASKA'S GOLD CAMPS NOW IS REDUCED BY THREE DAYS

Three days have been cut off the travel time from Washington to the government railroad camps and to the argonauts and tourists' gateways to Alaska by a short cut through Canada. Steamer service from Prince Rupert to historic Wrangell and Skagway and other Alaska ports has been established by means of which, through the great wilderness of mountains in British Columbia, the tourist can reach Alaska in record time. The Grand Trunk Pacific steamers are to be sent on to Alaska after reaching Prince Rupert from Vancouver with a "courier" to name the mountain passes and to point out the halibut fisheries on the way.

"This makes a direct route from the coast of Maine to the remote glaciers on the coast of Alaska," said W. P. Hinton, traffic manager, "by way of Prince Rupert, the Pacific port which was 'built to order,' where is one of the finest natural harbors in the world."

Prince Rupert is at the door to Alaska in the land of totem poles and also in the very center of what may be justly called the Norway of America, a region of fjords and inlets, mountains and shadowy lakes. There, at this new port, immense catches of halibut are delivered at the wharves for the Western markets, thus saving the fishing fleet a 500-mile sail down to railhead at the more southerly ports.

Best Pulp-Fed Steers Get the Highest Market Price

In view of the interest Klamath county people are taking in the prospect of this becoming a sugar beet producing section, the following from the Kansas City Star regarding the possibilities of beet pulp as a stock food should be given consideration:

Cattle fed on beet pulp broke all records for prices paid this class of cattle last week in Kansas City. Fourteen cars of pulp-fed cattle from Colorado brought $2.40, which is forty cents over the previous high price and within twenty cents of the week's top for corn fed steers. About one hundred cars of pulp-fed Colorado steers sold from this figure down to $2 in the latter part of the week. An enormous demand for beef caused the high prices.

C. V. Owens a farmer and feeder of Greeley, Colo., was among the Colorado shippers who sold three million dollars' worth of cattle and sheep, mostly cattle, in Kansas City last week. Mr. Owens brought five cars of pulp-fed steers and one car of corn fed steers to market. He farms about three hundred acres and feeds about six hundred steers in dry lots. Mr. Owens feeds cattle because it makes his bank account and his farm better. "I've hauled four thousand loads of manure from my feed lots to my farm in the last three years," Mr. Owens remarked last week in Kansas City. "I raised 15,700 bushels of potatoes last year, close to 400 bushels to the acre. The steers helped raise them. Also, I grow fifty to sixty acres of sugar beets that yield about twenty tons to the acre. The steers make that yield better than the average. The sugar mills that buy the beets and sell back the beet pulp for cattle usually sell pulp only to farmers who raise beets. They want to encourage beet growing."

"My cattle this spring are coming 3-year-olds. We find it pays better to handle this age stuff than to try to make baby beef with pulp. Our district is about one hundred miles square. About October 15 they begin digging the beets and a few days later the sugar factories begin chopping and the pulp supply is ready for the feeder. The farmers already have their feeders started on the beet tops and crowns in the field and pulp feeding begins about November 1. "We pay seventy-five cents a ton for pulp at the mill. At the start I feed a steer 125 pounds of pulp into which is mixed five pounds of alfalfa hay a day. At the end of the feeding period a steer is eating about eighty pounds of pulp a day. The syrup costs $10 a ton at the mill. I grow the alfalfa. No other feed is given. It costs me thirteen cents a day to feed a steer. "My steers started at 907 pounds and after 150 days went over the scales in the Kansas City stock yards at 1,226, that is the pulp-fed steers did. The twenty corn feed steers I had averaged 1,260 pounds. "I raise and feed several hundred hogs each year. Last year I fed three hundred shots on fourteen acres of alfalfa. I divided the field in half and turned them into it. When they had eaten that down I let them into the adjoining field and by the time they had that down the first seven acres was up again. When they have eaten a field down you turn the water onto it at once and in a few days it is coming along rapidly. I'm in the irrigated part of the Poudre River Valley, you know. "Alfalfa is one of our best crops. I've one hundred and fifty acres in alfalfa and average three cuttings a year from it. Usually we plow up alfalfa to put in potatoes. Our best beets are on potato land, so beets follow potatoes, then wheat and back into alfalfa. Beets are sold according to sugar content, but they never bring less than $5 a ton. The average is seventeen to eighteen tons to the acre. We contract with families of Russian laborers for the handwork on beets at $20 an acre."

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Editor Herald:—I wish through you to thank the voters of the Twenty-first district for the nomination for representative on the democrat ticket.

As I am apparently the only candidate nominated from the southern part of the district, I feel that I owe it to you, the voters, to visit every county in the district and find out the wishes of the people, so that your support of me at the general election, should you wish to give it, will not be without results.

I wish to say here that I am in favor of making two districts out of the Twenty-first district—one comprising Crook, Jefferson and Grant and the other Klamath and Lake, with one representative each. This would be preferable to the joint district, as each group of counties could then elect its own representative.

I also wish to say that I am in favor of encouraging all kinds of industries to locate in Oregon, under the only rational plan:

By reducing the burden of taxation on industry, while discouraging speculation and monopoly everywhere.

By granting no favors, by treating everyone with exact justice.

WOMEN SHOULD GET THIS HABIT AS WELL AS MEN

DON'T EAT BITE OF BREAKFAST UNTIL YOU DRINK GLASS OF HOT WATER

Happy, bright, alert—vigorous and vivacious—a good clear skin; a natural, rosy complexion and freedom from illness are assured only by clean, healthy blood. If only every woman and likewise every man could realize the wonders of the morning inside bath, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of thousands of sickly, anemic-looking men, women and girls with peaty or muddy complexions; instead of the multitudes of "nerve wrecks," "rundowns," "brain fags" and pessimists we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-cheeked people everywhere.

An inside bath is had by drinking each morning before breakfast a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons, thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds; and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store which will cost but a trifle but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change both in health and appearance awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminate the blood, while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.—Adv.
