THE BLUE AND THE GRAY

(By Francis Miles Finch)

BY THE FLOW of the inland river,
Whence the fleets of iron have fled,
Where the blades of the grave-grass
culliver,

Asleep are the ranks of the dead—
Under the sod and the dew,
Waiting the judgment day—
Under the one, the Blue,
Under the other, the Gray.

Those, in the robes of glory;
These, in the gloom of defeat;
All with the battle-blood gory,
In the dusk of eternity meet—
Under the sod and the dew,
Waiting the judgment day—
Under the laurel, the Blue;
Under the willow, the Gray.

From the silence of sorrowful hours
The desolate mourners go;
Lovely laden with flowers
Alike for the friend and the foe—
Under the sod and the dew,
Waiting the judgment day—
Under the roses, the Blue;
Under the lilies, the Gray.

So, with an equal splendor
The morning sun-rays fall,
With a touch, impartially tender,
On the blossoms blooming for all—
Under the sod and the dew,
Waiting the judgment day—
'Brothered with gold, the Blue;
Mellowed with gold, the Gray.

No more shall the war-cry sever,
Or the winding rivers be red;
They banish our anger forever
When they laurel the graves of our dead—
Under the sod and the dew,
Waiting the judgment day—
Love and tears for the Blue;
Tears and love for the Gray.

Verbal Painting of Klamath Basin

you had this picture before you, each day you would have to add something; a factory here, a new home there, more irrigation ditches, more farms where the sagebrush grew before, but above all, a new railroad connecting us to the north and east with the outside world. Capitalists are interviewing our farmers and spreading beet seed among them, and within the year I think that we can place a sugar factory in the picture. This will double the population of our farming area.

From its location Klamath Falls is the hub of it all, and that is why we who live here have such unbounded faith in our town and country. Along with this wave of prosperity sweeping over the United States we can see many other good things to put into the picture of Klamath county, and with these will come the reward for those who have invested and waited.

SAYS WE BECOME CRANKS ON HOT WATER DRINKING

HOPES EVERY MAN AND WOMAN ADOPTS THIS SPLENDID MORNING HABIT

Why is man and woman, half the time, feeling nervous, despondent, worried; some days headachy, dull and unstrung; some days really incapacitated by illness?

If we all would practice inside-bathing, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of thousands of half-sick, neanemic-looking souls with pasty, muddy complexions we would see crowds of happy, healthy, rosy-cheeked people everywhere. The reason is that the human system does not rid itself each day of all the waste which it accumulates under our present mode of living. For every ounce of food and drink taken into the system nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out, else it ferments and forms ptomaine-like poisons which are absorbed into the blood.

Just as necessary as it is to clean the ashes from the furnace each day, before the fire will burn bright and hot, so we must each morning clear the inside organs of the previous day's accumulation of indigestible waste and body toxins. Men and women, whether sick or well, are advised to drink each morning, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of washing out the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels of the indigestible material, waste, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Millions of people who had their turn at constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, nervous days and sleepless nights have become real cranks about the morning inside-bath. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will not cost much at the drug store, but is sufficient to demonstrate to anyone its cleansing, sweetening and freshening effect upon the system.—Adv.

Will Teach Dogs to Keep an Ear Open for U-Boats

By HENRY WOOD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, May 28.—(By mail)—The use of trained dogs and sea-ravens in the chase of enemy submarines is an idea just suggested to the new French ministry of war inventions.

The ministry declines to reveal the name of the suggestor or to admit that experiments are being made at the present time with the animals. It is willing, however, that the public know about the idea.

According to the would-be submarine catcher, all vessels should be equipped with a corps of trained dogs and Chinese sea-ravens, the latter being a native to Chinese waters.

In training the animals the dogs should be taken either aboard ship or to the water's edge where a submarine would be available; and where they would be taught to recognize the peculiar sound which comes from a submarine's propeller when the entire vessel is under water.

The keenness of a dog's hearing, it is asserted, could detect as no microphone or other mechanical instrument possibly could, the approach of a submarine. The dog would be taught to bark at the sound. This training would require but a few weeks.

With the sea-ravens, it is admitted, the schooling would be more difficult.

The sea-ravens would be taken to a submarine, to the periscope of which would be attached a piece of raw meat. The submarine would then navigate with both the periscope and the piece of meat submerged.

This animal with its keen sense of vision and smell for under-water food, would quickly detect the chunk of meat and the periscope and would follow them till they came to the surface, where the raven quite naturally would perch on the periscope.

After both the dog and the sea-raven became reasonably letter perfect individually they would then be tried out together.

Through the association the sea-raven, would come to know the instant the dog barks that there was a periscope in the vicinity presumably with a piece of raw meat attached.

Once the periscope reached the surface and the sea-raven perched on it the French gunners would of course fire the fatal shot.

Appended to the idea as submitted, is a long list of statistics on the number of sea-ravens available in Chinese waters, together with detailed instructions for their importation.

The ministry of inventions feels that the only point the inventor overlooked was how to teach the sea-raven to get off the periscope.

Of course you will be to dinner on Friday evening at the White Pelican. One dollar per plate. 23-31

DRINK HOT WATER AND RID JOINTS OF RHEUMATIC RUST

Why rheumatism and lumbago sufferers should drink phosphated hot water each morning before breakfast

Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of incombustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken day after day leaves in the alimentary canal a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not completely eliminated each day, becomes food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels. From this mass of left-over waste material, toxins and ptomaine-like poisons, called uric acid, is formed and then sucked into the blood where it continues to circulate, collecting grain by grain in the joints of the body much like rust collects on the hinge shown above.

Men and women who suffer from lumbago, rheumatism or sore, stiff, aching joints should begin drinking phosphated hot water, not as a means to magic relief from pain, but to prevent more uric acid forming in the system. Before eating breakfast each morning, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will first neutralize and then wash out of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's accumulation of toxins; thus, cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal, each morning, before putting more food into the stomach.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store but is sufficient to make any rheumatic or lumbago sufferer an enthusiast on the morning inside bath.

Millions of people keep their joints free from these rheumatic acids by practicing this daily internal sanitation. A glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate, drank before breakfast, is wonderfully invigorating; besides, it is an excellent health measure because it cleanses the alimentary organs of all the waste, gases and sour fermentations, making one look and feel clean, sweet and fresh all day.

Those who try this for one week may find themselves free from sick headaches, constipation, bilious attacks, sallowness, nasty breath and stomach acidity.—adv.
