CHILD LABOR A REAL ISSUE

AT LEAST five of the Southern representatives who voted against the Keating child labor bill in the house in February have discovered that their constituents are making that vote the issue on which their re-election hangs. Dent of Alabama, Britt of North Carolina, and Sears, Clark and Sparkman of Florida have all had to face strong opposition which is based largely on their failure to support the national child labor bill.

Under the caption of "Dent Has Not Represented the People," the Montgomery (Ala.) Advertiser says: "If the people of the second district are in favor of grinding the lives of little children into dollars for mill owners, Congressman Dent represented them. If not, Congressman Dent did not represent the people."

In Florida the fight has gone so far that Congressman Sears has written the newspapers his reasons for voting against the bill, while the supporters of Sparkman have gone to a great deal of trouble to try to prove that although he was paired at the time of the child labor vote, he would have voted for the bill, rather than against it.

In North Carolina the Keating bill became the issue almost immediately after the vote in the house, for two days after the vote Congressman Britt addressed the conference of the National Child Labor committee, held at Asheville this year, and explained his opposition to the bill. He was answered by Congressman Keating himself, who addressed a mass meeting in the auditorium in Asheville the day after Britt's speech.

The Asheville papers immediately took sides on the question, and citizens of North Carolina present at the meetings said at that time that undoubtedly the next congressional elections in that state would turn on the Keating bill. This prophecy has proved true, for in both the democratic and republican county conventions, recently held, the speeches for and against Mr. Britt discussed the child labor issue.

A MUNICIPAL NEED

By CHAS. M. DORR, Class 1916, K. C. E. S.

ALTHOUGH the quarters in the city jail are for the most part sufficient comfortable, there is one bad feature which should be remedied. The cells, being in the basement and without proper heating arrangements, are extremely uncomfortable for the occupants.

Most of the prisoners received at the city jail are incarcerated for the purpose of detention. But even though the purpose were punishment, the confinement alone is in most cases sufficient, without the added discomfort of freezing.

In justice to the prisoners and the city as a whole, some provision should be made for heating the city jail.

THE NAME WAITE suggests a dragging, but the Waite case in New York proved that Waite wouldn't wait for law's delays.

COMPARE THE positions on the Verdun fronts with the positions there at the beginning of the struggle, and see if the gain is at all commensurate with the loss of life, the cost of ammunition, and the hundred days of time given up by hundreds of thousands of men who, were it not for the war, would be plowing, building and following pursuits to make the world better.

IF SOME of these women's training camps would teach some of the butterfly how to cook, sweep and live on a moderate salary, they would be doing a whole lot more toward preparedness by obliterating dyspepsia and ill-temper.

RELIEF WORKERS MEET TOMORROW

POSTPONEMENT TAKEN OWING TO MEMORIAL DAY OBSERVANCE, BUT WORK IS TO BE RESUMED AT ONCE

Work of preparing bandages for use in the hospitals of the allied armies of Europe is to be carried on as usual tomorrow afternoon at the Bolvin building, Main street, near Sixth. The work will be started at 2:30, and all women interested are invited to attend and help the cause.

There was no meeting Tuesday afternoon, owing to Memorial Day observance. The work is to be continued hereafter, however, and the bandages will be forwarded to where they are needed as fast as they are finished.

GLASS OF WATER BEFORE YOU EAT ANY BREAKFAST

WASH POISON FROM SYSTEM EACH MORNING AND FEEL FRESH AS A DAISY

Every day you clean the house you live in to get rid of the dust and dirt which collected through the previous day. Your body, the house your soul lives in, also becomes filled up each twenty-four hours with all manner of filth and poison. If only every man and woman could realize the wonders of drinking phosphated hot water, what a gratifying change would take place.

Instead of the thousands of sickly, anemic-looking men, women and girls with pasty or muddy complexions; instead of the multitudes of "nerve wrecks," "rundowns," "brain fags" and pessimists we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-cheeked people everywhere.

Everyone, whether sick or well, should drink each morning before breakfast a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons, thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds; and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store which will cost but a trifle but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminate the blood, while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do. Gompers Now Working for Better Labor Laws

WASHINGTON, June 1.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, is on his way to Chicago to inaugurate a nation-wide campaign for legislation making state labor laws uniform to the labor provisions of the Clayton anti-trust law.

The Clayton law now provides that labor is not a "commodity nor an article of commerce." It effectively prevents prosecution of labor men for attempting, as they see fit, to try to get shorter hours or increased pay. Mr. Gompers has prepared a model bill, which he will try to have passed by state legislatures.

Gompers will speak at mass meetings of state labor men in four states: Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Michigan. He will speak at Chicago, Fort Wayne, Columbus and Detroit. In a statement to the United Press just before his departure he said:

"The American Federation of Labor obtained amendments to the Clayton act, pointing out that labor is not a commodity nor article of commerce. This frees labor from the application of the provisions of the anti-trust laws and from judicial interpretation of the laws. Under this law a suit such as that against the haters of Danbury will not be maintained. The rights of workers to exercise their normal activities for their own protection and welfare have been made lawful."

The addition of the Clayton law corrects the abuse of the injunctive writ and provides a jury trial in any case of alleged contempt where the "contempt" was committed outside of court.

"This, however, is a federal law, and covers only federal courts. State laws in many instances make organizations of co-workers amenable to prosecution. The abuse of the writ of injunction within the state still holds."

"Largely the campaign will be carried on by state legislatures. In Pennsylvania, Georgia, West Virginia, Mich-

One of the best double shows that has been seen will be the one shown at the Star tonight. Two features will be shown at the usual price. The presentation on the screen of "The Prince and the Pauper," the foremost work of America's greatest humorist, Mark

Twain, and the first of his beloved tales to be picturized, represents another decisive triumph for the Famous Players Film company. In the superb five-part photo-adaptation of this celebrated and fascinating romance, Marguerite Clarke stars in the dual title-role, in which her remarkable interpretation of the contrasting characters will rank with the few greatest histrionic feats of the screen. Faithfully preserving the delicious satire, the thrilling romance, and the beautiful sentiments of Mark Twain's immortal tale, the production deline-

THE cook has followed the directions in the vacuum-sealed tins—you wonder what's happened to your coffee! Good? Better than good—real coffee!
Fine coffee such as Schilling's Best needs only one favor: please make it right.

The result is worth while—and economical. Not that the price by the pound is low, but a pound of Schilling's Best makes more cups of smooth, rich coffee. You can easily prove this.

A great part of this economy is due to even grinding and immediate packing in vacuum-sealed tins. Schilling's Best is sold through grocers only.
