

NOMINATIONS START AT THE COLISEUM LATE IN DAY

United Press Service

CHICAGO, June 9.—Nomination of candidates for president began this afternoon, and as the "favorite sons" of the different sections are brought before the convention there is cheering and parading by their adherents. It is estimated that the nominating speeches and the demonstrations will keep the session going until after 7 o'clock.

The leaders intend to have two ballots before adjourning. Chairman Harding announced that the convention will take no recess until all nominations are in.

Hughes was the first man nominated. Roosevelt's nomination is being made in Senator Fall's speech, now being delivered.

Senator Fall denied his intention of introducing a resolution asking Roosevelt to address the gathering. The Nebraska delegation crushed Delegate Pollard's attempt to get an endorsement of his resolution inviting Roosevelt.

Applause greeted the report of the republican committee appointed to meet the progressives, in which it was stated that both parties are agreed that a democrat defeat is vitally necessary for the welfare of the nation, and that the progressives believe that Roosevelt is the most desirable harmony candidate.

The mention of Taft's name caused a five minute demonstration.

When Chairman Harding called for nomination, Alabama passed, and Arizona yielded to New York. Then Governor Whitman nominated Charles E. Hughes, "the greatest lawyer, effective campaigner, nature's statesman, and a learned jurist."

A twenty minute demonstration followed, the delegates parading, and the people in the gallery standing and wildly cheering. Nicholas Murray Butler then nominated Ethus Root, as "a real American," thereby causing twelve minutes of bedlam, while Chauncey Depew mounted a chair and yelled lustily with the crowd. During this, Mrs. Thomas Root, a daughter-in-law, who was seated behind the speaker's platform shrieked, and wildly waved two flags, causing the cheering to momentarily subside, while the delegates watched her.

Governor Willis of Ohio nominated Theodore Burton. The Burton demonstration lasted thirty-four minutes, and the strains of the Ohio band drowned all noise except the reiterated yell: "We want Burton!"

There was a brief applause when Senator Lodge nominated John W. Weeks of Massachusetts. At this time the delegates were munching sandwiches, and the Coliseum was permeated with luncheon atmosphere.

Congressman Miller nominated Coleman DuPont, saying:

"They say he smells like powder. Well, the British smelled that same smell to their discomfiture on Lake Erie years ago. The Mexicans should also whiff it." Miller's mention of Roosevelt caused one loud yell.

The Hamilton Club, Chicago's most prominent republican organization, paraded the aisles, with Chin-Chin, a dwarf elephant in the van, when Colonel Calhoun nominated Sherman of Ohio. Illinois led the cheering.

Charles W. Fairbanks was nominated by General Wood.

The convention cheered Fairbanks for thirty-three minutes. The delegates paraded, waving flags, and bands played. Efforts of Chairman Harding to halt the demonstration were hissed. Cummins' nomination was cheered for seventeen minutes.

At 4:57, Senator Fall started a speech nominating Roosevelt.

NINE APPLICANTS FOR CITIZENSHIP

COURT TO EXAMINE ALIENS SEEKING NATURALIZATION AT THE OPENING OF THE JUNE TERM ON 19TH

Nine applicants for full citizenship will be examined before Circuit Judge Kuykendall the first three days of the June term of the court, which opens June 19. In addition, a number of others will be examined early in September.

The new Oregon law making it necessary for electors to be full fledged citizens of the United States has caused a rush. The September examination period was arranged for those who were unable to file before, and they will therefore be able to vote in November if they are granted citizenship.

Back to "Stick"

Joel T. Ward, formerly in the real estate business in Klamath Falls, is here from Pasadena, California, where he has been for the past four years. According to Mr. Ward it takes about three of four years' residence in California for a man to really appreciate Klamath county. He is like many others. They always come back.

Dr. G. C. Mitchell is out again after a serious illness.

CHARLES E. HUGHES OF NEW YORK

PROHI PLANK BRINGS WAR TO MOOSERS; BORAH "VISITS"

United Press Service

CHICAGO, June 9.—The question of a prohibition plank in the progressive platform caused no small debate this afternoon, and overshadowed for a while even the question of nomination and reconciliation. In the end, the amendment was tabled.

Frederick Cooper of Kansas introduced an amendment pledging the party to submit a constitutional amendment against the sale and manufacture of liquor. A torrid debate ensued. Henry Allen of Kansas seconded the motion, and Frank Curtis of New York also spoke favorably.

"I don't believe this great platform is complete without a plank on the greatest moral and economic problem of the day," said Allen.

"We might as well send for Bryan," yelled Etheridge of Texas, causing tremendous laughter. Garfield of Ohio opposed the move, holding that prohibition can come only through slow education.

The leaders play to delay a Roosevelt stampede, if possible, until after another conference between the republicans and progressives. The peace committee reported that the republicans have advanced no concrete plan for a settlement, so further conferences were suggested.

In the meantime, the conventions are working on parallel lines. Telephones between the halls keep both parties informed of each other's movements.

Chairman Perkins asked the progressive convention to place its confidence in the work of the peace committee. He declared that the work to be done in the next few hours is as vital and momentous as any great military engagement. No action was taken.

Senator Borah of Idaho, a member of the republican peace committee, entered the Auditorium after this, and was given rounds of applause, as he mounted to the platform. He stated that he came for "inspiration."

"I have a deep seated admiration for Roosevelt," said he in his speech. "If your convention and mine should agree on Roosevelt, I would enthusiastically support him."

Many believe Borah was sent by the republicans to ascertain the sentiment of the progressives toward the Idaho statesman as a compromise candidate.

Consideration of the platform was resumed at this afternoon's session.

ALL INTERESTED IN PRESERVATION OF HISTORIC RELICS AND LEGENDS OF KLAMATH ARE ASKED TO ATTEND

For the purpose of organizing a Klamath County Historical Society, a meeting of all those interested is to be held tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock at the office of J. C. Rutenik, in the First National Bank building.

Many relics of historical value are being given away to tourists or lost each year, and it is for the purpose of preserving these that the organization is being formed.

Many citizens also have relics which they would be glad to turn over to some organization if there were one. It is the plan to ask the city to furnish an exhibit room for the exhibits collected.

To Merrill

Deputy Sheriff George C. Ulrich and Deputy Clerk Charles F. DeLag were visitors in Merrill yesterday. They returned in the evening.

Organization of Firemen is Taken up by Crisler

After being without an organized fire department since April 1, Klamath Falls will soon have a model fire department. Mayor C. E. Crisler has taken up the matter with the members of the old volunteer department and with others, and plans for reorganization along more efficient lines are under way.

An informal meeting of the old volunteers was held yesterday, at which time it was decided to tender all the assistance possible to Crisler in his work of arranging the fire department in the manner best for the interests of the property owners and the members of the department. A committee was appointed to confer with Crisler.

Members of the committee are Oscar Bronsman, Lester L. Terwilliger and Dave Keayon. With the mayor, they will review the fire department organization recently passed, and make what suggestions they have for changes and new provisions. These will be presented later on to the council by the mayor.

In the meantime, O. W. Robertson and other business men are taking action to help the organization in every way possible. As a result, nearly every member of the old volunteer department has signed an application for membership in the new department, and in addition several others have also applied for admission, insuring plenty of men for the important work of fire fighting.

With an automobile combination fire apparatus coming, and the department reorganized upon a plan allowing increased efficiency, the improvement in Klamath Falls' fire fighting forces should in a short time bring about some reduction in insurance rates.

KLAMATH SHARE TO BE $228,123

APPORTIONMENT OF LAND GRANT PROCEEDS UNDER NEW MEASURE WILL GIVE COUNTY QUARTER OF A MILLION

Klamath county will receive approximately $228,123.75 for road work from the sale of Oregon-California lands within her border, according to the apportionment plan provided in the grant bill as it passed congress.

In all, there will be $11,000,000 distributed among seventeen Oregon counties, in proportion to the amount of grant lands in their borders. The apportionment of this sum will range from approximately $41,803. Curry county's share, to $3,371,333, the share of Douglas county.

The disposition of the fund, as it comes into the possession of the different counties from land sales, is left to the county courts, under the terms of the bill just passed by congress. The courts, in other words, have the power to say whether the funds or the income from them shall be spent for port construction or maintenance, for roads, or whether the fund shall be invested and the interest derived therefrom used for the benefit of port and road construction and maintenance.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie C. Henline and daughter leave Sunday for San Francisco, where Mr. Henline will attend the Eastman School of Professional Photography, to be held for three days at the Scottish Rite Temple.

Henline will exhibit a number of portraits of Klamath county beauties at this session, and he intends to give attention to the latest retouching, lightings and special backgrounds while away. The Henlines will be gone two weeks, and may run down to Los Angeles while away.

WASHINGTON POST OWNER DIES FOLLOWING ILLNESS

WASHINGTON, June 9.—John R. McLean, publisher of the Washington Post and the Cincinnati Enquirer, died this morning. He had been ill for several weeks.

DOUBLE-BAR'L'D CELEBRATION ON SWAN LAKE STOCKMAN WILL GIVE FOURTH OF JULY PICNIC AND DEDICATION OF HIS BIG BARN SAME DAY

"Come out, Klamath, to the old red barn."

So carols P. W. Snyder, the Swan Lake cattleman, who is introducing thoroughbred Hereford cattle in Klamath. He plans a big celebration July Fourth.

One of these will commemorate the action taken at Philadelphia. "When in the course of human events..." The other will be the dedication of Snyder's big red barn now under construction.

All of Klamath Falls is invited to come to Edgwood ranch for a basket picnic and a barn dance. The big red barn has a floor sufficiently large to accommodate 200 couples, and the Edgwood picnic grounds is one of the prettiest spots in scenic Klamath.

Orators will orate and there will be a program of races. A prize of $100 is offered for the man who can eat 100 rural pies. In the evening the Hungry Man will eat one of Snyder's $1,000 Hereford cows. Everything is free.

Here for Summer

Mrs. John Patrick of Grants Pass, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Joe Moore, has decided to spend the summer in Klamath Falls.

KLAMATH TEAM TO PLAY LEAGUERS

INTER-CITY LEAGUE MAY CLOSE SEASON EARLIER SO WINNING TEAM CAN PLAY KLAMATH FALLS AGGREGATION

Klamath Falls' baseball management has sent a challenge to the Inter-City League, the fast semi-professional organization in and around Portland, and as a result, may play two games with the team winning the pennant.

The Klamath challenge asks games September 3 and 4. Resident Bay of the Inter-City circuit will call a meeting of the directors soon to consider the advisability of closing the league a week earlier in order to make these games possible.

ATHLETIC CARD BEING ARRANGED

"YOUNG JOE GANS" AND BOBBIE ALLEN WILL GIVE BOXING EXHIBITION, AND LIVELY PRELIMINARIES PROMISED

An athletic smoker is to be given at the Pavilion Saturday, June 17, in which boxing bouts will be featured. A six round main event will be the closing number, and there will be several fast preliminary bouts.

Bobbie Allen and "Young Joe Gans," the 135 pounder who has been making such a splendid showing in the smokers given by the Pastime Athletic Club and the Sacramento Athletic Club at Sacramento, will appear in the main event. This should prove exciting enough for all. Allen is at work now, getting in shape for the affair.

Dr. Lyman is Sentenced to a Penal Servitude

United Press Service

NEW YORK, June 9.—Dr. John Grant Lyman, alleged international swindler, and known far and wide as "the Second J. Rufus Wallingford," who has been convicted of using the mails to defraud, was today sentenced to serve eighteen months in the federal prison at Atlanta, Georgia.

Lyman is one of the most spectacular of shady operators, and he has caused the authorities no end of trouble, eluding arrest, and slipping out of the clutches of the law on some technicality. It has taken nearly five years to finally secure his conviction.

Lyman's fraudulent operations with the Panama Land company was the cause of his conviction. That he was, with his wife, under the surveillance of the British government, suspected of having British secrets which he might use to the disadvantage of Great Britain, was testified to by Captain Guy Gaunt, naval attaché of the British embassy.

Captain Gaunt did not say what secrets it was thought Lyman possessed. Lyman's wife was formerly the wife of a British officer. Testimony was introduced by Lyman to show that when he left New York it was not because he was shadowed by United States government officers, but on account of being shadowed by British officers.

Lyman was detained in custody here several days, following his recapture in Lake county after an escape from the hospital. A young hospital attaché accompanying the fugitive escaped from the county jail while being held here awaiting the arrival of federal officers.
