

PRESIDENT ORDERS MILITIA READY TO PROCEED TO FRONT

United Press Service
WASHINGTON, June 18.—(9 P. M.)—It is announced that President Wilson has decided to call substantially all of the militia in the country for border service. Not all militiamen will be sent to the border at once.

United Press Service
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 19.—America's mailed fist confronts Carranza.

The militia mobilization is the administration's last trump to quiet the troublesome situation. If the trump fails to take the trick, some officials fear war will result.

Calling out the militia does not mean intervention. The policy is to keep Pershing's expedition in Mexico, strengthen the border patrol and end the recent bandit outrages.

Secretary of War Baker has sent Chairman Hay of the house military committee a special resolution making immediately effective the new army law, giving the war department authority to order militia into foreign territory.

Saturday night, General Ricard told General Parker of Brownsville to immediately withdraw Major Anderson's expedition south of Brownville, or fight the Carranzistas. The Mexicans destroyed all international bridges connecting with Brownville, but Anderson's men withdrew safely.

Mexico City reports say that Carranza, in addressing a citizens' mass meeting last night, expressed a hope for a peaceful settlement, but added: "If we are forced to resort to arms, I will lead you."

Carranzistas virtually surrounded Pershing's command of 35,000 men. There are at least 50,000 Mexican soldiers between Pershing and the border.

Bandits attacked an American rear guard near Matamoros yesterday. One Mexican killed wore a Carranza uniform.

Carranza soldiers around Pershing are reported to be arming Mexican citizens.

The administration's reply to Carranza's withdrawal demand is scheduled to be sent tonight. It declines to accede to the demand and calls attention to misstatements by Carranzista sources.

The state department has sent Carranza representations concerning General Trevino's threat to attack the American forces if they continue operations in Mexico. The extent of the representations is not revealed, but it is understood that the government has frankly stated its displeasure.

AUTO USED TO GET SPEED OF BIRDIES

SCIENTISTS IN AUTO USE SPEEDOMETER TO FIND HOW FAST BIRDS TRAVEL—LITTLE ONES SWIFT AS BIG ONES

United Press Service
BERKELEY, Calif., June 19.—Experiments conducted under the auspices of the University of California show that little birds normally fly as swift as big ones, and that the flight of most birds is considerably slower than is popularly supposed. An automobile speedometer was used to find how fast the birds fly.

In company with Upton Matthews, a California deputy game warden, Alexander Wetmore, of the United States biological survey, made daily trips from Lemoore to the shore line of Tulare Lake and trips also from Bakersfield to the region of Buena Vista Lake. When birds were found flying in a straight line close to the automobile, the speed of the machine was gradually changed until the observers were traveling at a rate equal to that of the bird.

The two scientists found that the little horned lark, only eight inches in spread of wings, travelled at a rate of twenty-two to twenty-eight miles an hour, and that the latter rate was not exceeded by the great blue heron, despite the heron's six-foot spread of wings.

The red tailed chicken hawk was found to be travelling twenty-two miles an hour, two sparrow hawks twenty-two and twenty-five miles an hour, a red-shafted flicker twenty-five miles an hour, a raven twenty-four miles and a shrike at the rate of twenty-eight miles an hour.

Circuit Court Starts Its Regular June Grind

The June term of the circuit court commenced today, and in addition to the drawing of a grand jury, rulings on motions, decisions in equity cases and examination of applicants for citizenship are occupying the court. After the drawing of the grand jury, all trial jurors were excused from further attendance at court until next Monday morning.

Members of the grand jury are: M. P. Evans, J. L. Davidson, L. D. Ross, Charles Loomis, J. J. Bennett, J. J. Kerns and C. V. Looney. Judge Kuykendall appointed Loomis as foreman, and the jurors were sworn in and instructed.

Judge Kuykendall today made a ruling in the Superior Laundry case, in which Mrs. Joseph Smith brought suit for an accounting. Kuykendall ruled that E. P. Bittenger, manager of the laundry, was not a partner, and that he should be refunded $400 he had invested in the concern, and $400 back salary, less the amount of shortage shown by the books. The ownership of the laundry is therefore between Mrs. Smith and Nellie Halley, and must be settled between them.

A demurrer to the indictment of C. C. Randolph on charge of larceny of a steer was overruled. Randolph then pleaded not guilty, and his case was set for trial June 30th. When William Doyle was brought before the court to plead to the indictment charging him with murdering Maggie Jones and Mary A. Wilco, his attorney, W. H. A. Renner, presented a demurrer to the indictment. As yet, Judge Kuykendall has not had an opportunity to decide upon the merits of this.

There are a number of applicants for full naturalization to be examined as to fitness by the court. A special agent of the U. S. bureau of naturalization is here from Seattle to assist in the examinations.
