Paving Delinquencies a Cause of Some Concern

Although many owners of property along paved streets are promptly paying their paving assessments, many others are not doing so. The interest coupons on the paving bonds are clipped and presented regularly, however, and the payment of the interest, therefore, becomes a rather serious proposition. In an effort to alleviate this condition, and force the delinquents to pay up, the finance committee will work this week upon some plan of action to be pursued. This may result in some foreclosures of improvement liens.

STIFF NOTE SENT CARRANZA Administration Refuses to Withdraw Troops, and Gives Its Reasons for so Deciding

Two Views of Secretary of State Lansing

United Press Service
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 29.—The state department today made public the text of the long note sent to Carranza in reply to his demands for a withdrawal of American troops. The note threatens Carranza with "the gravest consequences" if his troops attack the Americans. In this, the administration positively declines to withdraw the expeditions.

The note excoiates Carranza for his failure to co-operate with the United States in hunting out Villa and the other bandits. It also resents Carranza's intimations of bad faith. "America cannot recede from her settled determination to maintain her national rights and prevent further raids across the border," says the note. In it are also charges that the bandits attacking American property have not been hampered or punished in any way by Carranza's de facto government. Scores of instances of banditry by Mexican bands are recited. The Car-type of streets. He will clean, re-oil and re-dress the worn spots on a yardage basis. Portions of Third, Sixth and Eighth streets and Oregon avenue are to be repaired. The council will, in a few days, determine the extent of the work to be done.

ranza government is charged with not only being indifferent to banditry, but even with aiding and encouraging the bandit leaders. Carranza is also charged with utterly failing to take proper steps for the apprehension of Villa.

Detailing the attacks upon Brownsville and the ferry, the Progresso post-office and Las Peladas, the note declares that the Carranzista adherents participated in the burning, killing and looting with ruthless barbarity. The San Ysabel massacre is cited, and Carranza is charged with failure to give proper protection.

The note charges Carranza with failure to even attempt a frustration of Villa's hostile designs against America. It also points out the fact that Carranza did not even attempt to halt Villa's flight after the Columbus raid. These events, says the note, compelled the administration to send troops into Mexico. Carranza's misstatements regarding the Scott-Oregon conference are all answered in detail.

CONSCRIPTION IS TALKED IN MINN.

QUESTION OF RAISING THE NATIONAL GUARD TO FULL WAR STRENGTH IS ONE BOTHERING THE STAFF

United Press Service
ST. PAUL, Minn., June 29.—Conscription may be forced upon Minnesota men capable of bearing arms, to recruit the Minnesota national guard to full war strength.

The Minnesota military code provides for enrollment of eligible arms bearers, with the taking of each census.

High military authorities today said they considered this clause sufficient ground for forcing Minnesota men to enlistment. The matter may be brought before the state supreme court for a test. Activity in recruiting is due to the disbanding of four national guard companies and threatened disbanding of several others, due, it is said, to inefficiency and the fact that the guard is below peace strength.

"My dear Yvonne:—Don't be worried. I have good hopes of seeing you again, as well as our dear boy, Raymond. But, if by ill luck anything should go wrong with us—for we are at war, and, of course, are running risks—I hope you will remain courageous, and be sure, in case I die, I have complete confidence in you; and I ask you to live for the sake of bringing up the boy so as to be a right manly and true fellow; and give him a good education according to the means at your disposal.

"Above all, when he is grown up, tell him that his father died for him, or, at least, for a cause that would be of service to him and all the generations to come.

more precaution, and I hope to be beside you and help you at your task; but, as I said, you never know. In any case we soldiers are advancing with good cheer and in the sure hope of victory.

"As for you, be sure I have always loved you and do love you ever more, whatever happens. Come, you I rely on you to be full of courage. From your affectionate husband, who sends to you and his dear boy the warmest embraces."

The day after sending the letter the writer was killed, said Mr. Bouillon.
